PLEASE READ.

The MORO LEADER will not be charged up to any one who has not ordered the paper. Any one getting copies of the LEADER need not be afraid to take them out of the P. O., for they will not be asked to pay for it only from the time of subscribing. All papers sent to you before are a free gift. We do this for the purpose of letting all see what kind of a newspaper we publish, and in this way expect to prove that we publish the best paper in Sherman county.

Born—To the wife of Elvin E. Barnum, August 25, a daughter. Elvin has not been seen on the streets much since, but it is supposed he will get used to it in course of time and appear as usual.

The City Hotel is now under the management of L. D. Holder, who will continue to conduct the business in a first-class manner. Give us a call.

Gilman & Fairchild passed through Moro Friday with their steam threshing outfit en route to Grass Valley, where they will run their machine the balance of the season.

70 dozen pairs of overalls, made especially for our trade, have arrived and are going into the harvest field fast. M. M. Co.

J. O. Elrod has begun the erection of a large building opposite the machine shop and foundry, which he will use as a warehouse for storing lumber, windows, doors, etc.

F. H. Meader & Co., of Moro, Or., have the agency for Butterick's dress patterns, and expect a shipment of same in a few days. They will keep all the latest styles constantly on hand.

J. M. Gilkison and family left for Eugene last Friday. They go with team, and expect to camp and pick hops for a time. The LEADER will go to them to keep them posted on Sherman county events.

Any one wishing to purchase harness, saddles, bridles, or anything in the harness line, will save money by first consulting us. We now have a large stock of hand-made harness on hand. Come and see our new stock of saddles, grass mats and ring bits. HEYDT & CO.

We have made arrangements to furnish the LEADER and WEEKLY OREGONIAN at the very low price of $1.75 per year in advance.

You can get shaved eight times for one dollar, and hot or cold baths for 25 cents at Cousens' tonsorial parlors.

It is reported that streams of water both in Wasco and Sherman counties are dry now that have never been dry before. This has been a very hot summer all over the Northwest.

If you want a high grade, first-class 1898 model bike for less money than you can get in any other place, come and see ours. F. H. Meader & Co.

All communications intended for publication must be in not later than Tuesday noon of each week to insure insertion in current issue.

M. P. Isenberg of Hood River, with a friend of his, passed through Moro last Thursday, bound for the Blue mountains and Sumpter. They go on a pleasure and prospecting tour, and will be away several weeks.

The LEADER leads all other papers in Sherman county in giving the most complete and reliable news, up to date, and in the most readable form.

The large contract for flour that the N. P. Flour Mills Co. have secured from a Siberian firm will keep them at work for some time, and is a good advertisement for Sherman county. Success attend them.

"Old Man Paquet," as he was familiarly called, at Wapinitia, where he was long and favorably known, has passed away. He was the father of Oliver Paquet, who at one time was assessor of Wasco county. His death occurred in East Portland, at the home of his son Louis. He was 87 years of age.

Machine work of a difficult nature has been brought from Goldendale for the Moro Mfg. Co., and was promptly and satisfactorily done. This speaks well for the company and their foreman, A. J. Kellogg.

Here is what a passenger says about the North Yamhill-Tillamook stage line: "The passengers by coach on that route are graded into first, second and third-class. When the coach arrives at the foot of a 'hill' which is about nine miles long, the driver tells the third-class passengers to get out and push, and the second class to get out and walk, and he then ties the first-class passengers to the seats and then goes ahead."

If you desire to look your best, have your laundry done by the Troy Laundry Co. A. E. Cousens, agent. Call on him for prices.

Send in your name and $1 for the MORO LEADER, and get all the news of all the county for a year.

Louis T. Dam, lately of Antelope, passed through Moro last Wednesday on his return from a visit to California. He went to Grass Valley to look after his ranch near the Blue school house.

L. D. Holder, successor to Hayes & Holder, can furnish the public first-class meals at the City Hotel.

County Clerk Henrichs returned last week from the mountains, where he and his family spent several weeks rusticating. His family and Mrs. McDanel returned a day or two ahead of him.

The LEADER is the best paper in Sherman county to send to your friends in the east to let them see what kind of a county we have.

L. D. Holder, proprietor of the City Hotel, in Moro, has sold the business to Julius Wiley of The Dalles, who takes charge to-morrow. Mr. Wiley has had considerable experience in hotel and restaurant business, and is highly spoken of.

If you want blank deeds, mortgages, notes, legal blank covers, etc., call at the LEADER job office and inspect our blanks and prices. We will show the neatest blanks at most reasonable prices.

Moore Bros. have had the cottage their mother occupied moved on the hill, and are having an addition built onto it, which will make, when completed, a very neat and commodious residence. J. O. Elrod took the contract for the moving and furnishing material and building.

Now is the time to have your property insured. Everything will be dry and inflammable soon. We will insure anywhere in the county and give you any one of the following old companies: Home of New York, Phœnix of Hartford, Imperial of London, Pennsylvania of Philadelphia, Home Mutual of Cal., or Ætna of Hartford. Have your farm-house and barns insured. The rates are very low on farm property.
MOORE BROS., Agents.

What was supposed to be an applicant for a peddler's license, turned out to be only "Billy" Henrichs returning from the mountains with a miscellaneous cargo, and a four weeks' growth of beard and real-estate covering his face. He says he is not a peddler, and even refuses to peddle any fish stories.

A party of hunters consisting of F. Eastabrooks, of the LEADER force, Louis Heydt and John Kay, went out the other day for a little sport. In their own words, "We bagged 14 fine prairie chickens and one Joseph rabbit." The editor knows the chickens were "fine," for the hunters kindly remembered us with four of the choicest birds we have seen for a long time. Thanks. Do it again, boys.

Monkland—Second Sunday, 1 p. m.; fourth Sunday, 1. p. m.; Presbyterian Church.

Wasco—Second Sunday, 7:30 p. m.; third Sunday, 11 a. m.; Christian Church.

REV. WM. F. HOLL, Pastor.

E. A. Baker returned from Portland last Thursday.

See Union Lumber Co's new ad. W. V. Johnson, agent.

M. E. Church Columbia River annual conference begins to-morrow, Sept. 1st, at Pullman, Wash.

The Best Lemonade in town at Wheat's. A whole lemon and sugar to suit taste in a glass for 5 cents.

Dr. Idleman returned from Portland Saturday evening. He is now ready for business again.

John Kay has just completed a brick basement for J. M. Dunahoo's new residence.

Cooler weather now, several light showers, and everybody feeling fine once more.

F. H. Meader & Co. expect to move into their new quarters—The Pioneer Brick—within a few days.

The Board of Equalization raised the assessment on the O. R. & N. from four to five thousand dollars per mile.

During the recent heated term many persons became unwell, some quite sick, Dr. Smith at times having calls from several directions at once.

Jas. Hays came very near having his leg torn off in a threshing machine the other day, but luckily he escaped with only slight injury, and the loss of part of his clothing.

John Kay goes to Wasco for a short time to do some work for W. M. Barnett, but as soon as the next kiln of brick is ready, he will return and finish the large brick block being erected by D. M. Radley, adjoining The Pioneer Brick.

The County Board of Equalization for Sherman county met at court house Tuesday, August 30. Very little changes were made, and no complaints were made to the board. This speaks well for the manner in which Assessor B. F. Pike has performed his duties.

Mr. C. Allison, from Portland, has procured L. K. Moore's store building, where W. O. Hadley now has his jewelry store, and in about two weeks will take possession of the same, going into business. We did not learn just what business he will engage in.

The ball given by the Moro Volunteer Fire Co. last Friday evening was well attended for the time of year, and a pleasant time had by all. Net proceeds from the sale of tickets and ice-cream were about $65. This will be quite a help toward paying for the new apparatus house just erected.

E. W. Elrod, whose left arm was amputated some time ago, is now getting along nicely, and will soon be walking around some. He has had a hard time of it, owing to the fact that the arm was badly strained above where it was taken off, and was very painful and slow to heal.

A. L. Hembree was arrested last Friday on a charge of assault and battery preferred by E. C. Landingham. Upon being arraigned he pleaded not guilty, and the time for trial was set for Tuesday. Before the hour set for trial Hembree withdrew his plea of not guilty and substituted therefor a plea of guilty, whereupon Justice Meader fined him $10, and the fine being paid defendant was discharged.

COUNTY COURT.

Special Session—August 29, 1898.

Present—John Fulton, judge, and R. H. King, commissioner.

In the matter of resignation of J. W. Kerns, surveyor, resignation accepted. Successor not appointed.

In the matter of appropriating money for hauling straw to repair county roads; appropriations were made as follows-

| | |
|---|---|
| Road District No. 1 | $25 00 |
| " " " 2 | 25 00 |
| " " " 3 (Biggs) | 50 00 |

Whereupon court adjourned.

Sad Bereavement.

A family recently from the Willamette valley, living at Monkland, are passing through a very sad and trying experience. Typhoid fever has taken from the family one son and one daughter during the last week, within a day of each other. The son, L. D. Rogers, age 26, died at 1 o'clock A. M. Aug. 25, and was buried the evening of the same day. About 3 o'clock A. M. on the 26th the daughter, age 13 years, 10 months and 2 days, followed the brother, the funeral taking place in the afternoon. The funeral services for both were held at Monkland, Rev. Morrison preaching the sermons, and the interment was in the Odd Fellows' Cemetery at Moro under the care of Moro Camp No. 351, W. of W., of which order the young man was a member. The father was sick at last accounts, but not seriously. The bereaved family have the sympathy of all in this their hour of double loss.

"I notice the exclusive people of New York amuse themselves by getting up family trees."

"Yes, and their simian forefathers did the same thing."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

O. W. Axtell, of Monkland, was in the city Tuesday.

Ladru Barnum, who has been assisting in the M. M. Co. store at this place for a week, returned to their Klondike store Tuesday.

Julius Wiley, successor to L. D. Holder in the management of the City Hotel, arrived last night with his family, and will take charge of the hotel tomorrow.

Not a Court of Last Resort.

Old settlers in Central Illinois still relate with gusto the story of a man who was arrested on a charge of murder many years ago and taken before a newly-elected country squire for a preliminary examination. The trial was held in a backwoods school house. The prisoner had employed an attorney to defend, but the evidence was clear and positive. Several witnesses, in fact, had seen the crime committed.

The justice of the peace, after hearing the testimony and listening patiently to the speech of the lawyer, looked sternly over his spectacles at the prisoner, and addressed him thus:

"John Simpson, the evidence is all ag'in you. Ther' hain't the shadder of a doubt but what you committed the murder. John Simpson, stand up!"

The prisoner complied with the order.

"The sentence of this court," proceeded his honor, "is that you, John Simpson, be took out to the woods back of the school house to-morrow mornin' at half past nine o'clock and hung by the neck until—"

"Your honor," interposed the attorney for the defense, thunder-struck, "you are not sentencing the prisoner to death, are you!"

"That's edzactly what I'm doin'. The sentence of this court, John Simpson, is that you be took out to the woods back of this school house to-morrow mornin' and hung by the neck—"

"But, your honor," gasped the lawyer, "you have no right to do that!" There is no law for such an extraordinary proceeding—"

"Sit down, sir!" thundered the squire. "This court don't need any instructions from you. This court knows what it's doin'. John Simpson, stand up ag'in. The sentence of this court—"

But a way out of the appalling difficulty had suggested itself to the prisoner's attorney. He sprang to his feet and interrupted the court again.

"Your honor," he said, "one moment! We have the right to appeal this case, haven't we?"

The squire scratched his head.

"Yes," he said, slowly, "I reckon ye can take an appeal."

"Well, your honor, we appeal to the supreme court of the State of Illinois."

The prisoner's life was saved for the time, but it was a narrow escape.—Youth's Companion.

High prices are paid for butterflies, and some private collections, such as that of the Hon. W. Rothschilds, of Tring, Herts, are said to be worth $500,000 more or less. Some New Guinea butterflies have fetched $250 apiece. One of the Rothschilds is said to have paid $1000 for a papilia, now quite common. The demand for rare specimens has led to dishonesty. The insects are dyed or else wings from one species are fastened to the bodies of other species.—Farm and Fireside.

"I don't see anything remarkable about the man."

"That's because you don't know him. I've been with him almost constantly for the last eight weeks, and not once has he undertaken to explain to me the duty of the president and congress at this time."—Chicago Post.

"What does he do for a living?"

"I believe he belongs to a knock-about team.

"What? An acrobat?"

"Nothing of the sort. He and his wife are book agents."—Philadelphia Bulletin.
