The Karnival de Kommerce.

Rendered at the Armory on the evenings of the 21st and 22d by the Ratabone Sisters of this place, under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Rockwell and Mr. Barnes, was a complete success. The ladies exercised great ingenuity in arranging their costumes for representing the different business houses, and all sustained their characters well. Two prizes were given for the best representation, and the first was carried off by Mrs Geo. N. Crosfield, representing the J. M. Hoag livery. Mrs Crosfield appeared in a splendid costume driving a four-in-hand consisting of four little girls dressed in white, and the way they skipped over the stage to the excellent music of the orchestra, made a most beautiful representation indeed. The Union Lumber Co. gained 2d prize. It was represented the first evening by Miss Belle Taylor, and the second evening by Miss Addie Lucus, the character being well sustained both evenings. The entertainment was largely musical, interspersed with some beautiful tableaux of living pictures, which deserve especial mention had we space to give it. The Amazon grand march was performed by about 40 ladies in costume, and was the most beautiful exercise of the character we have ever witnessed.

The closing fete was a scene in the sultan's palace. The sultan appears on his throne surrounded by the ladies of the court, the prime minister and the Zulu body guard. The act consisted of music and some bright witticisms by the comedians.

The entertainment was bright, chaste and good in every particular, and the ladies deserve great credit for its successful rendering.

Christmas Eve Entertainment.

The Grant and Rufus Sunday schools will give an entertainment in the Christian church at Rufus Christmas Eve. Following is the program: Song, All Hail the Power.....By All
Prayer.....Rev Frank Spaulding
Song.....Rufus Sunday School
Short Address.....Rev Spaulding

A short programme by the Grant and Rufus Sunday schools, after which Santa Claus will appear with his sleigh load of candies, nuts and toys for all good girls and boys. Everybody invited. Come and bring your little ones. Exercises to begin promptly at half past seven.

Homes Where Crops Never Fail.

I have for sale a farm of 296 acres 19 miles west of Umatilla and two miles west of Coyote station, Or. The improvements on the place are as follows: Two good houses, two stables, outhouses and two good wells of water, one at each house, 60 acres under fence. I have a steam pump which will furnish from 7500 to 8500 gallons of water per hour, which will go with the place if desired. The land is sandy in formation, very similar to the lands in the famous fruit region of the Los Angeles valley in California; are level, requiring no work for clearing or preparing for seed orchard other than that of the plow. Fruit trees can be planted in February and March, and will produce a crop of fruit in three years. Every kind of garden vegetables and fruit has been planted and thoroughly tested. Two to three thousand watermelons, averaging 30 to 35 pounds, have been raised upon a single acre. Corn has been grown equal in quality and quantity to any grown in the corn belt of Indiana or Iowa. Potatoes, both sweet and Irish, produce an abundant yield. The climate is warm both summer and winter, the land being at an elevation of only 200 feet above the sea. The Oregon Railroad & Navigation Co's railway runs through this place. The land, too, is situated on the Columbia river, where one will always have the benefit of water transportation, thus insuring the lowest possible rate. Markets for everything produced will be found in the cities of Spokane, Helena, Butte and Anaconda, and all points in Montana and Northern Idaho. Wood and fuel is to be had for the taking, there always being abundant timber for fuel and fencing floating down the Columbia river. No person residing in that locality has yet had to pay a dollar for timber for fuel or fencing. Alfalfa, timothy, and red top clover does as well as in any state in the Union. Peanuts, celery, asparagus and strawberries have been raised and proved to be not only successful, but profitable crops. Strawberries can be grown and put on the market ten days or two weeks earlier than the famous Hood River berry and equal to it in every respect. Peaches, apricots, apples, pears and cherries, all do well. The first peaches to reach the market within the state of Oregon come from the sand lands along the Columbia river. No cultivation of the ground is necessary after the seed has been planted, and very little work is required in irrigating, because of the fact of the porous condition of the soil, thus making sub irrigation do the work instead of surface irrigation. In addition to the pumping plant now on the place a current motor can be placed in the Columbia river which will furnish 10,000 gallons of water per hour, at an expense of not to exceed $175, there being a 3½ to 4 mile current every day in the year. This is choice nursery land, and anyone desiring land of this nature can do well on this place. The place will be sold at a bargain. Taking everything into consideration, it is a rare chance for a profitable investment.

I also have some of the best wheat farms in Sherman county, Or., Hood River valley and Willamette valley lands for sale. For prices, terms, etc., call on or address,
