DAILY DEMOCRAT.

AN OLD CRY.—The high taxes in this county are creating much irritation, being far higher than in Multnomah. A prominent tax payer says that he has more property in Multnomah county, yet his taxes here are more than twice as high. Not far from Sellwood is a ranch lying in Multnomah county, valued at $17,000, which pays only $10 tax, but on a hilly, brush ranch adjoining it, lying in this county, and not near as valuable, taxes are $50. "My taxes are $300 this year," says a prominent republican land owner from the upper part of the county, "and it is all I can do to scrape up the money to pay it. I want to know what's become of all the money we have been paying in taxes."—Oregon City Courier.

Two cows died in Lebanon one night recently. They lay down on the green sward in apparent good health, but the grass under them grew so fast that it tickled them to death before sunrise.

The above, from the Lebanon Express, shows how things are growing in that city. Booming, as it were. Lebanon must be a dangerous place for tramps who sleep out doors nights.
