DAILY DEMOCRAT.

Is She Kate?—An old and prominent resident of Chehalis county says that Mrs J B Rose, the wife and mother of the Pacific county murderers, is none other than the notorious Kate Bender. After her escape from Kansas she fell in with and married J B Rose and settled in the Walla Walla country, after which they moved to Oregon and finally settled in Pacific county, where they have since lived and raised their family. They have always held themselves aloof from their fellow men and have been suspected by their neighbors of being the authors of numerous crimes that have been committed in that locality, among which are several mysterious murders.

It is a well known fact the Benders mysteriously disappeared from Kansas a number of years ago, and search for them has been in vain. They vanished as suddenly as if the ground had opened and swallowed them; and, indeed, many believe that they are in the ground. It will also be remembered that only a few months ago it was thought Mrs Bender and Kate had been discovered in Michigan. The women suspected of being the Benders were brought to Kansas for identification. They proved to be the wrong parties however, and the resting place or sepulchre of the Benders is still unknown.

Old man John B Rose in the early days worked for William Phillips near Walla Walla and afterwards ran a distillery for a while. He was considered a good man then, a little loud-mouthed, but still good. He ain't good now.—Seattle Journal.

Killed.—Herman Buckner employed by the Hamilton Townsite company of Seattle was killed yesterday while blasting stumps. A charge of giant powder had been put on top and touched off, and the deceased with the rest of the men ran to what he thought was a safe distance. The stump was blown to pieces and a large piece came down striking the man on the back of his head, breaking his neck. As far as known he was not married and had no friends or relatives.

After The Fish.—A fishing party, which has been organized at Vancouver B C., with a capital of $50,000 is composed of leading business men and capitalists from Toronto and Montreal and practical fishermen from the east have been engaged. Deep sea fishing will be pursued, and the catches put up on the market fresh and salt.

Still Improving.—From R W Moses of Crawfordville who was in the city today on his way to Lebanon to attend the conference of the M E Church South, we learn that Mrs and Miss Templeton who were badly hurt by the collapsing of a bridge on the Calapooia some time ago, are still improving.

Lebanon.—Agent Hearn has been succeeded by I A Bennet, who manipulates the lightning and handles the freight like an expert.

Mr Tamplin has surrendered the razor and mug to his employer and will find permanent employment with Mr Jones of Albany.

The Lebanon paint factory will manufacture paint in seven different shades and we understand their paint will not fade.

C O Gentry brought to this office two peaches that measured respectively 12 and 13 inches in circumference. New Jersey peach-growers are likely to be outdone by Webfeet yet.

Farmers in this vicinity are marketing a new product by the ton. Our paper mill will use all the straw in this section of the country and the farming community will be enriched by the sale of what has heretofore been a waste product. What we need, and must have, in this country are more industries of all kinds to look after our wasting resources.

The Santiam Mineral Paint Company bought several lots in Lebanon last week, near the terminus of the railroad. The company ask of our citizens a small bonus—which will doubtless be raised—and then buildings will be erected, a cooperage will be established and all the appliances necessary for the manufacture of paint will immediately follow.—Express.
