GOOD BY BURNING

Price at Death.—Miss Lo Chandler, daughter of Thos Chandler, who lives just across the river from Independence, died Nov. 18, 1891, at midnight, from injuries received by a lamp explosion little over a week ago. The gentleman who came to Salem with the news to inform some friends gives an account of the peculiar and sad accident: "It seems that a young gentleman by the name of Mr Dugger was paying his respects to this young lady, and until late in the evening they remained up talking, and in some unaccountable way the young lady's dress caught fire, and every effort was made to extinguish the flames, when failing in this, the girl dashed into the yard, the wind kindling anew the flames when at last her father with a bucket of water managed to put the fire out. She was badly burned nearly all over her body. Mr Chandler and the young gentleman, Mr Dugger, were also badly burned.—Journal.

A Big Foot Race.—Quite an interesting sporting event will take place in Pendleton on Thanksgiving day, November 26th. Tuesday night $200 forfeit was deposited with E J Horton by each contestant for a foot race for $500 a side to be run at 2 p m on the day mentioned between P J Kelly, a sprinter from Montana who has been here a week or two, and C Doyle, of Portland. Doyle's backer is Alfred P Nelson, proprietor of the Telephone saloon at Portland, and Kelly's, Mr Hughey, of this city. E G Cameron, of Corvallis, a sprinter of note, who defeated Ben Wingard at Union and La Grande, is in the city, and will be ready to challenge the winner of the contest. The course will probably be selected near the depot. The distance is seventy-five yards.—Pendleton E. O. Look out for breakers.

The Highest Points.—What will be the highest point in the new bridge above low water mark, is an interesting question, the answer to which will surprise most of our citizens. Over the second and third piers, the two on the opposite sides of the Willamette, the steel frame work will rise 131 feet above low water. The height of the two piers will be 66 feet, while the frame work of steel will rise within one foot of as much higher. This is a part of the cantilever span, and is one of the things that goes to make the bridge so strong. The entrance to the bridge will be a very attractive steel arch.

Lilly Young at the Home.—Sheriff Jeffery Smith, of Astoria, was in the city yesterday with Lillian Young, the 15-year-old Corvallis girl who eloped with a negro named Smith, from Albany, and was caught living with him in Astoria. The girl was taken to the Magdalen Home in East Portland at the request of her parents, and Sheriff Smith is of the opinion that it is her earnest desire to reform. The Magdalen Home is now open to wayward girls of all ages. The building is nearly finished and the Sisters of the Good Shepherd, who are in charge, have every facility for caring for the girl entrusted to their care.—Oregonian.

A Bad Man.—Deputy Sheriff Pidman returned to The Dalles this noon, accompanied by Chas E Stone, who was in the jail here awaiting the action of the grand jury, on the charge of forgery. There are three indictments against Stone there for forgery, and as Wasco county seemed to have the greatest claim and will come nearest doing justice in the case Stone was given up. Fifteen or twenty years in the pen are the prospects.

Second the Nomination.—Charley Kennedy's name is being prominently mentioned for Sheriff at the coming election. Guess he can get the nomination if he wants it, and getting the nomination would be mighty hard to beat.—Toledo Post. Mr Kennedy is the O. P. conductor. He would make a first-class Sheriff, and if nominated would run like a scared wolf.

The Third Party.—The Linn County Farmers' Alliance, at a meeting held at Scio adopted a resolution endorsing the People's party. The Weekly Advance was adopted as the official organ of the Alliance. Albany was selected as the place for holding the next meeting, and Jan. 8, 1892 as the time. Twelve sub-Alliances were represented at the meeting, and forty-five delegates present.

Circuit Court.—J M Brown has brought suit for the foreclosure of a chatel mortgage against A F Gooch, J J Whitney, attorney for plaintiff. This is the third case since court adjourned.

The Noss Family.—The White Water (Wis.) Gazette, says: The Noss Family in "A Quick Match" are a jolly musical crowd, and divert the public with a great variety of musical novelties and fun-making situations at the opera house Monday night.

A prize will be given for the best pie, each lady contesting to take three pies, and to be admitted free. Every man present will sample the pies and vote on the best one. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged. During the evening sides will be chosen and pronounce down.

Hon L Bilyeu, of Eugene, returned home this noon from a trip to Portland, where he had been in the interest of the Maxwell will case, which has been attracting so much attention in Lane county. The will was made thirteen years ago; but a couple years ago disappeared. Two witnesses were found in Portland, who saw it executed, and as well saw the stockings of money, about $5000 the old lady hid. Renewed interest will result.

From Politics to Prison.—There arrived at the state penitentiary from Umatilla county last night John Austin, the Grant county stock man, who received a sentence of three years for cattle stealing. The remaining six indictments against him were dismissed, his plea of guilty being entered with this understanding. Austin was raised from boyhood in Grant county and was a prominent citizen and heretofore well respected. At the last republican convention of that county he received the nomination for sheriff and was defeated by O P Cresop, democrat.—Statesman.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Thursday evening, Nov 19.

Present—Mayor, recorder, marshal, city attorney, bridge superintendent and Councilmen French, Hawkins, Tabler, Burkhart, Allen and Garrett.

The recorder reported receipt of $17.50 from Junction City for street lamps sold to them.

Ordinance bill 239 authorizing city of Albany to enter into a supplemental contract for building of bridge at Albany was read three times and passed. It provides for allowing $5000 additional to contract price of $83,350 and for additional improvements.

A bill for $200 for improvements made on river front at foot of Jefferson street, was presented by Albany Farmers Co., Mr Mart Payne appearing on behalf of the company. Referred.

Mr Payne called the attention of the council to the ditch running under sidewalk on Ferry street, with statements as to its unhealthfulness. Referred to committee on health and police with power to act.

The recorder read supplemental bridge contract, which provides for cantilever plan of bridge, interior piers 10 feet wide instead of 8 feet, and end piers 8 feet instead of 6 feet, and the payment of $5000 additional, $88,350 in all.

Contracts of Ferry street sewer were granted use of one engine, on paying all expenses.

Recorder reported receipt of supplemental bond; with good securities. Mr Miller, the superintendent, reported that he had examined the supplemental bridge plans and contracts and that he considered them all right. A report of Mr Miller showed that work had already done to the amount of $5000. Continued until meeting of council on the 24th instant.

The Spirit of the Age.—Here it is from The Dalles T M. Every section for itself and the de'il take the hindmost: Nelson Bennett, the great railroad magnate of the northwest, is attempting to boom the Yakima valley in the columns of the Tacoma Ledger. This is in harmony with the eternal fitness of things, and we hope when he has become tired of the arid plains of Eastern Washington he will cast his eagle glance towards the fertile valleys and plateaus of Eastern Oregon. We need such men to insure our development.
