UESDAY.....DECEMBER 27, 1892

OOD EVENING

PLEASANT INCIDENT.—At the close of Christmas tree exercises at the berland Presbyterian church, and several packages were placed in a near where the pastor sat, Hon R ine arose and addressed him sub- tially as follows: "Bro Wooley: It ause of your untiring devotion to use of religion generally and your al services to this church, in which ave won the confidence and es- not only of the membership but of ople in general as well, that we nt to you a fine suit of clothes, in- g pants, coat, vest, overcoat, hat, cravats, shirts, silk handkerchief. so presents, while they come from embers and friends of the church, e specially indebted to the kind- of Mrs Stone and Mrs Becker, h whose kindness and energy they secured." The pastor in a few well n words thanked the donors, saying stance that he was grateful to the dies whose names were mentioned, members of the church and other riends for this special token of ship and love, stating that he had labored among a more kind heart d good people than the people of y.

TO NIGHT.—It will pay you to go to opera house tonight. A Montana er says: Middaugh's Musical Com- Company presented "Our German nd" to a large and appreciative audi- e at Hefferlin's opera house Tuesday t. The company is by far the best has so far greeted the people of this since the opening of the opera house. "German Ward" is a charming four drama, admirably adapted to the song dance specialties of members of the pany.

NE SUIT CAUSES ANOTHER.—Attorney rge B Dorris this morning commenced it against John Maxwell in Justice sey's court for $250. Mr Dorris and ociate some time since got Maxwell of a bad scrape, the will case, and that party refuses to pay for the ices so valuable to him. Maxwell s to have little gratitude, and the rts will compel him to disgorge the ey, although he has deeded all his perty to his wife.—Eugene Guard.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Etta Vassa'o went to Salem today on a visit with friends.

Judge J N Duncan returned last night from a trip to Portland.

The children of Mr Virgil Parker went to Yaquina Bay today to spend the holidays.

Misses Amelia and Pauline May, of Harrisburg, are in the city, the guests of L. Senders.

The Salem Statesman speaks very highly of the Middaugh Co. to be at the opera house tonight.

Mr and Mrs Wm Wolfe, of Portland, are visiting the latter's parents, Mr and Mrs M Sternberg.

Senator Jeff Myers and Dr Jeffreys took in a Christmas turkey at the Scio home.—Salem Journal.

Mr and Mrs Lewis, of Ellensburg, Wash., are in the city, the guests of their daughter, Mrs Ignatz Fox.

Miss Annie Crane, a popular teacher in the Eugene schools, spent Christmas in Albany with her uncle and aunt, Judge and Mrs J C Powell.

Tom McNary, the irrepressible never sober Tom, who once severed a jugular vein in Albany years ago, and was brought to life by Dr Maston, is in the city.

License have been issued for the marriagd of David H Bond, just released from the county jail, and Miss Nellie Thompson, and John Young and Oordelia Ryon.

At a meeting of the C L S C last evening Mr Luther Elkins read an interesting paper on civil government. A live question box was opened and American history was well discussed. The next meeting will be held with Miss Redeker at Mrs Walter Monteiths on Jan 11, and will be devoted to Whittier.

The prices for the entertainment at the opera house to night will be 50 and 75 cents.

MISFITS.

Too many divorces in Oregon.—Ex. Too many divorces every where.

Albany has a character in "Poor Little Minnie" the bootblack.—Salem Journal. And give him a shine or he will be obliged to go back to spuds. The best shiner in Oregon.

Linn county's mean temperature is 52.4; highest on record 103; lowest on record 1; average precipitation, 44.94 incher; no clear days in year, 118; partly cloudy, 105; cloudy, 142; rainy, 119. This is the record, and is worth showing to the liars who say it rains all the time here.

A classifiction given of church members applies to people generally: The Workers are always at it; the Shirkers never do anything they can get out of; the Jerkers get a spasm of earnestness and zeal in revival time and remain idle the rest of the year.

At one of the Sunday school concerts in Salem a boy to be named Johnny for convenience had a "piece to recite." He got his version of the affair slightly mixed, starting off thus: "It was the night before Christmas and all through the house, not a creature was stirring not even a louse!" It is needless to say Johnny brought down the house. He happens to live in a neighborhood where there is occasionally a child with some thing in its head besides ideas.—Journal.

One of the schoomlates of the Man About Town, from boyhood had an insatiable thirst for wealth. He left his New York home for the west, vowing not to return until he was worth $10,000. At Leadville and other places he secured the money. He piled upon it many other $10,000. Only money was his ambition. A letter just received tells how, a mental wreck, he is in California seeking to regain his mind. So it goes. Money should be far from the highest of our earthly ambitions.

Arkansas people can now boast of a prodigy. They have a negro child four years old whose power to discuss scriptural subjects with his seniors is powerfully developed. He has already acquired Latin, German, and French. The craze of the colored folks over the dusky "kid's" apparently preternatural talents is producing the wildest illusions. Their hallucination will lose its wild light in time, but in the meantime, it would be well for educators to take the boy in hand and train him for some profession. Should the boy's mental endowment prove to be progressive, he will be an exception to the rule that the minds of prodigies are very mediocre in advanced life.

A BEESWAX MINE.—The "Sunday Oregonian" prints quite a lengthy article about the beeswax mine found over at Nehalem bay, and in summing up why this find of beeswax, says: "A ship called the Peacock was wrecked on the Nehalem bay sandpit not many years ago, and its cargo composed of beeswax, was strung along the beach. From Hon Wm Savage who is a pioneer of 1845 and was in those parts along in the forties says, the brig of war Peacock, was not wrecked at the Nehalem, but at the mouth of the Columbia. The ship was commanded by Lieut Wilks and the wreck occurred in the year 1842.—Dallas Observer.

The Eugene Guard has figured it out this way: The O P R R Co, owner of the Corvallis Leader (managed by Henry Pape) has sold it to Frank Irvine, who has also purchased the Times, conducted by Robt Johnson. Those journals will be consolidated under the name of the Times and conducted in the interest of the democracy.

BORN.

BROWNELL.—On Monday evening, Dec 26, 1892, near Albany, to the wife of Albert Brownell—a girl.

DIED.

McAFEE.—At his home, in Salem, Sunday night at 5 o'clock, Dec 25th, 1892, Dr I W McAfee, at the age of 69 years. Dr McAfee was a native of Louisville, Ky., coming to Oregon in 1850, residing in Salem since 1863. He was a relative of Mrs W B Barr of this city.

HOME AND ABROAD

A paper is to be started at Newport soon.

Go to Carter's cash grocery for sweet cider.

Uncle Tom's Cabin has reached Portland again.

The last meeting of the old City Council will be held tonight.

Do you think you can write a 3 right along without a miss.

A live saloon fight is reported to have occurred last night.

Merchants are taking stock, and it will be well to be careful how you tread.

Leap year is nearly over, and yet many of our young and older men remain single.

A meeting of the Y. M. C. A. directors will be held tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock.

The order for the apparatus for the new Y. M. C. A. gymnasium was sent for today by Secretary McCullagh.

The Cumberland Presbyterian church at Eugene had a Dutch windmill Christmas eve, like one in this city.

The new Capitol dome on the State house is nearly completed and will be ready for the legislature which meets Jan 9th.

The Eugene National bank will go out of existence January 2. It will be succeeded by the Eugene Loan and Savings bank.

Some one who saw the show to be here tonight, the Middaugh Comedy Co's German Ward, pronounces it one of the best ever in the valley. Better see it.

A big mail arrived last night, and as it contained many presents from Eastern friends it was gladly welcomed. This annual giving is a beautiful custom that binds people closer together.

At the skating rink last night Oscar Zeys won the mile race, making it in 3:55. Oscar Dannals was second. Clyde Hill, Roy Bentley and others contested. It is necessary to win two races in order to secure the $8 pair of skates.

On account of a grounded wire an electric light pole last evening was well loaded with the mysterious fluid. A young man in rubber boots caused considerable amusement by shaking hands with his friends while hold of the pole with the other, causing many emphatic exclamations.

E E Dickey, of Elgin, reached after a knife which he had dropped through a hole in the floor of a store in that town and was bitten by a rattlesnake. Prompt medical attendance saved his life. It is supposed that his snakeship had crawled under the building during the summer and had been kept active by the heat of the stove.

John Patterson, Emanuel Krigbaum, J. M. McAllister, and Wm. Perry have filed a bond of $4000 by which they oblige themselves on or before June 1, 1893, to erect in the capital city or its suburbs a chilled plow and stove works, the plant for which is now in their possession, valued at $7000, and the lots for which are already donated, in consideration of that city giving them a subsidy of $2000.

Interviewed last night regarding the rumored resignation of Dr. L. L. Rowland, superintendent of the Oregon state insane asylum, Governor Pennoyer, who is president of the board of control of the asylum, said the board knew nothing of such resignation, and it would know if the doctor had resigned. Several scandalous rumors, when traced down, were all found to be without the least semblance of truth, so reports the Statesman.
