ALIEN ENEMIES

The patience of the government is exhausted. So is the patience of the people. Word has gone forth that alien enemies are to be rounded up.

It is reported that enough provisions have been burned by pro-German agents since we entered the war to feed an army of $300,000 men for a year. Vast damage has been done, too, to docks and warehouses on Eastern seaports and to elevators, lumber yards, coal yards, steel works and munition factories all over the country. And vicious propaganda continues. The menace must be removed.

There are about 1,000,000 people in the United States characterized as alien enemies. Hereafter they will be under surveillance. The dangerous ones will be placed in detention camps. Suspects and spies will be rounded up. The board has already begun. There is talk of wholesale removals from the seaboard, in order to insure protection to American and allied ships and cargoes.

Every citizen will grieve that such action is found necessary. But it cannot be helped. It is the aliens who have brought it on themselves. The New York Staats-Zeitung, one of our strongest German papers, gives them this wholesome lecture:

"This is such a mighty task that it could be considered only as the very last measure. But the fact that it is being considered should be a warning to those who have not yet been able to accustom themselves to the fact that America is engaged in a grim war with Germany; that words and actions which a year ago would perhaps have been passed over, are interpreted quite differently today; that, above all, the unhappy propaganda in which the Germans have thrown away millions without accomplishing anything except to sow the seeds of hatred toward themselves all over the world, is bound to end thus. It leads to absolutely nothing except a still more bitter determination on the part of the United States to fight the enemy to the bitter end. And first of all, it leads to drastic regulations that affect hundreds of thousands of innocent persons."

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens so Naturally Nobody can Tell.

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the messy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.
