MRS. MILLS' RECEPTION

BERLIN, June 15 - The policy-holders n Germany of the New York Equitable Life Assurance Boclety want to be rep-resented on the board of the reorganized company. This is one of the objects of the subcommittee appointed by the general committee of the Association of German Fire Insurance Companies, which includes companies doing both life and fire insurance business,

The purpose of the subcommittee appears to create distrust of all American institutions. The German companies quickly availed themselves of the Equi-table dispute to say this showed how wise the government had been to exclude most of the American companies and how jus-tified it would be if it expelled the two companies which are still permitted to do business here.

The newspapers for several weeks have been printing paragraphs and articles on the Equitable's affairs and moralizing on the alleged unsound condition of Ameri-can business life, contrasting German prudence with "speculative, rickety American finance." Some of these ar-ticles originated, the Equilable agents, and it represents just what the name implies a might of Ye with ticles originated, the Equitable agents a ver, with German insurance offi-.
