Guard took part in the battle and manned the warships. The war fever is still very strong at the Exposition, notwithstanding the terrible battle of last night, and it is rumored on good authority that still another sham naval engagement will take place some time next week.

DR. DAWSON COMING HERE.

Will Not Speak at Exposition, but Will Preach in Churches.

Because of Sunday opening of the Trail another clergyman has accepted the acceptance of an invitation to preach in the Auditorium at the Exposition. At the meeting of the Ministerial Association in the Young Men's Christian Association building yesterday forenoon it was announced that word had been received from Dr. W. J. Dawson, of London, England, that he would withdraw his consent to speak at the Fair October 1. Dr. Dawson has not, however, given up his intention of visiting Portland upon that date and will address three meetings during the day. In the morning he will speak at the First Presbyterian Church, and in the evening will supply for Dr. House at the First Congregational Church. The afternoon meeting will be held in the White Temple under the direction of the Young Men's Christian Association. Bishop Dawson bears a world-wide reputation as an eloquent speaker and Portland churchgoers will be glad of an opportunity to hear him. He will remain in the city October 2, 3 and 4, holding afternoon meetings in the First Presbyterian Church and evening sessions in the White Temple.

It was also announced that Dr. Washington Gladden, who had previously announced that he would not speak on the Exposition grounds, will come to Portland September 17 and preach in the First Presbyterian Church in the morning and in the First Congregational Church in the evening.

Dr. Dawson will be present at the meeting and made an able address on "The Soul-Winner." He called attention to some of the shortcomings of the pulpits of today and gave special caution to preachers to keep abreast of the times in their methods if they wish to achieve the best results. He said that some of the old truths were so well established that it was unnecessary to dwell long upon them and that preachers should search out new truths and present them in a new light.

A short business session was held at which the executive committee was empowered to appoint a delegate to the labor unions to succeed Dr. Hill. It is probable that he will be reappointed.

PIONEERS VISIT THE FAIR.

Interesting Meetings of Early Settlers Take Place at Exposition.

Mrs. Elizabeth Shannon, of Eugene, a pioneer of 1845, came to Portland last Wednesday to see the Exposition, and the guest of her brother, Sylvester Shannon, also a pioneer of that year. Mrs. Shannon is a pioneer of 1842. While visiting the rooms of the Historical Society last week, Mrs. Shannon met Mrs. C. M. Cartwright, of Clatsop, who came across the plains with her over "Moose's cut-off." It was the first time the two had met in all the 60 intervening years.

Mrs. Foosebe McKay, of Fresno, Cal., and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Copley, of Riverside, Cal., were in the city during the past week in attendance at the Exposition, and renewing old acquaintances. Mrs. McKay and Mrs. Copley came to Oregon in 1847, and are survivors of the Whitman massacre of November 29-31, of that year. They are the daughters of Mr. Saunders, the school teacher, who was killed at the time. They belonged to the well-remembered "Oakland Company" which came from Iowa. Their mother died in 1851, but they have two sisters living who were captives among the Indians like themselves. Mrs. Helen M. Church, of Fresno, Cal., and Mrs. Nancy Hughes, of Oakland, Cal. It is nearly 40 years since they visited Portland, and the change in this city in that time surprised them greatly. Among former acquaintances they found Mrs. L. M. Myrick, a school companion in Oregon in 1851, and Mrs. O. H. Denny, a fellow captive in 1847, and George H. Himes, who was a neighbor in Thurston County.

Another interesting meeting of pioneers took place last week at the Coos County building in the Fair grounds. When Glenn Alken, of that county, and George H. Himes, of the Oregon Historical Society, who came to Oregon in 1853, met for the first time since. The two engaged in conversation and began comparing experiences when they made the pleasant discovery that they were both pioneers of the same year. These meetings, which recall the days of long ago, are among the pleasant incidents of the Fair.

ITS SUCCESS AT THE FAIR

NATIONAL CASH REGISTER DAY LARGELY ATTENDED.

Hospitality of the Building Is Greatly Appreciated by Large Crowds in Attendance.

The National Cash Register day was a rattling success at the Lewis and Clark Exposition yesterday. Thousands of visitors gladly acknowledged the spirit of enterprise which has been so much in evidence at the Fair by the National Cash Register Company, and partook of the hospitality and welcome at the N. C. R. building. Many hundreds of N. C. R. badges were distributed.

The exercises of the day were held in the N. C. R. building at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the auditorium being filled to its utmost capacity. The music was furnished by the Administration Band. J. J. Patterson presided and delivered a short address of welcome on behalf of the National Cash Register Company. Colonel Henry E. Dosh, director of exhibits, made a brief but interesting address, extending greetings on behalf of the Lewis and Clark Exposition, W. F. Ripper, acting treasurer of the National Cash Register Company, at Dayton, O., responded to the welcome delivered by Colonel Dosh. Emmet Drake, vice-president of the Ohio Society, also made a few remarks. Most of the speakers spoke of the great work that was being done by the National Cash Register Company, regarding its welfare work. They said that it had resulted in harmony between the management and the employees, both being benefited by the welfare work. The exercises closed with the singing of National songs, illustrated by stereopticon views.

NO DIFFERENCE

Old People Just as Happy as Young.

Age cannot wither nor custom stale the infinite variety of life.

When the right food makes one new each day there seems as much simple happiness as when one is old as when young. A bounding health is the requisite and right food produces that.

A happy woman of 71 tells her experience:

"For three years," she says, "I was greatly troubled with a nervous affection of the stomach, which at last brought me to such a condition that I could neither eat nor sleep with any sort of comfort. I grew very dependent and felt that my hold on life was very uncertain. It was difficult for me to find food that I could digest. My doctor kept me on a diet of rice for a long time, but it did not seem to give me any strength.

"I am glad that at last I decided to try Grape-Nuts food, for it has done a wonderful work for me. Before I had used the first package I began to take a new interest in life, and I rapidly increased in health and strength. My stomach has regained its normal tone and in the two years that Grape-Nuts has been my only food, I have not had a sick day. I am 71 years old and Grape-Nuts has restored to me the pleasure of living. I am sorry I did not begin sooner to use it. I cannot praise it too highly." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. There's a reason.

A ten day's trial is sufficient.

GELATINE IN FLIGHT IN AIR

Trip Is Only Partly Successful, However, as the Motor Breaks Down.

ALIGHTS WITHOUT INJURY

Other Attempts Will Be Made and the City of Portland Will Also Be Seen in the Sky.

ADMISSIONS, 35,978. The turnstiles yesterday recorded 35,978 admissions to the Exposition.

Two yellow cigar-shaped airships now fly over the Lewis and Clark Exposition, the Gelatine, invented and manned by George T. Tomlinson, of New York, having made its maiden flight yesterday morning. The flight yesterday, while remarkable, considering it was the first attempt on the part of Tomlinson to master the atmosphere and the wind with an airship, was only partially successful as the Gelatine failed to return to the aeronautic concourse whence it started. The competitive flight was scheduled for yesterday morning, but the balloon attachment of the City of Portland was not wholly fitted with gas, and the Gelatine had to fly alone.

Start Is Excellent.

The ascent was made a few minutes after 11 o'clock yesterday morning, thousands of spectators being present. The airship rose gracefully to nearly 1000 feet, with the motor and propeller working splendidly. However, it could be seen that Tomlinson did not have perfect control of his airship, although only a slight breeze was blowing. At times he would work the rudder in such a manner as to direct the airship any direction he desired to go, but he invariably lost control of it.

The airship circled the aeronautic concourse and the Trail and at one time was nearly over the bluffs overlooking Guild's Lake. The longer he remained in the air the more easily he managed the ship. It looked for a time as though he had complete control over the Gelatine, and the spectators were sure he could return to the aeronautic concourse without difficulty, but at the critical moment the motor broke down. The Gelatine drifted with the wind out of the Exposition grounds, over Portland Heights, landing near the latter place in an open field. The landing was made without an accident, the airship not being injured in the least. It was brought back to the aeronautic concourse yesterday afternoon by way of the Trail.

Propeller May Be Too Small.

Those who have witnessed the flights of the City of Portland at the Exposition are inclined to believe that the propeller on the Gelatine is a little small. This can be remedied at very little expense on inconveniences. Major Clarkson, of the aeronautic concourse, says the showing made by the Gelatine yesterday was beyond his expectations, as it was Tomlinson's initial trip. He predicts many things for the Gelatine, saying it will give the city of Portland a close race. Captain Baldwin is also highly enthusiastic over the result of the flight of the Gelatine. Tomlinson himself was a little disappointed over the motor breaking down, as he fully expected to return to the starting point, but otherwise he was satisfied and thinks he will make several successful flights during the Exposition.

The City of Portland will make another flight from the Exposition at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, if the weather is favorable. Upon landing Saturday morning across the river from the Exposition grounds, a huge gas was torn in the concourse, or otherwise, and the airship would have made the flight with the Gelatine yesterday morning. # Mothers Are Helped

THEIR HEALTH RESTORED

Happiness of Thousands of Homes Due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's Advice.

A devoted mother seems to listen to every call of duty excepting the supreme one that tells her to guard her health, and before she realizes its commingement of the female organs has manifested itself, and nervousness and irritability take the place of happiness and amiability.

Tired, nervous and irritable, the mother is unfit to care for her children, and her condition ruins the child's disposition and reacts upon herself.

The mother should not be blamed, as she no doubt is suffering with backache, headache, bearing-down pains or displacement, making life a burden.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing cure for this condition. It strengthens the female organs and permanently cures all displacements and irregularities.

Such testimony as the following should convince women of its value:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham: I want to tell you how good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I suffered for eight years with ovarian troubles. I was nervous, tired and irritable, and it did not seem as though I could stand it any longer, as I had five children to care for. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended and it has entirely cured me. I cannot thank you enough for your letter of advice and for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me.—Mrs. Ph. Hoffman, 160 Hiram Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.
