NEEDS AMENDING.

The committee appointed by our last legislature to formulate a bill for the action of that body when it meets in January next, will meet in Salem in a few days. All agree that such an amendment is needed badly, for it is a well established fact that our present assessment laws fail to reach the end for which they were intended. If all men were honest, and would seek rather than avoid the payment of their just proportion of taxation, then most any law would be sufficient to cause all property to be properly assessed, and each citizen to bear his portion the burden. But we live in an age wherein men are actuated by selfish impulses and the public crib is defrauded and cheated, and the men who thus defraud and best the commonwealth are regarded as shrewd financiers, unless they should be detected. Men do in this day secrete and cover up their property from the tax gatherers. They so manipulate their finances that they claim, and are allowed fraudulent indebtedness, by the assessors. And in some instances officers of the law for a small pittance have, winked at such dishonest actions. Millionaires are becoming quite plentiful in the state of Oregon, yet if you examine the tax roll of the counties wherein they reside, you will find, we venture to say, none. Strange as it may appear these same taxdodgers, shirkers of their just portion of the expense of maintaining the law, are the ones who most frequently set its machinery in motion. Men of small property holdings, and of medium financial circumstances, are the ones who carry the burden of taxation. Their properties are so well known to the communities in which they live, that a false return of property to the assessor would be too hazardous, and sure of detection. The mortgage tax law was intended in a measure to reach these money loaners, who it was believed were paying taxes upon but a small portion of their wealth. But it has failed to accomplish the desired result in a great measure, and men who were once strong friends of this law, now are favorable to its repeal. It may be expected that any law that would cause these wealthy money loaners to be assessed, and their properties to bear their just portion of the public burden, will meet their individual and united opposition. Indeed we think the legislative committee have been assigned a herculean task, for let them prepare a measure that shall be the most sweeping in its requirements, the most complete in its bearings, and, taking the history of the past as a criterion by which to judge, they will by some hook or crook be able to dodge the requirements. Yet the effort is a noble one, and should success crown the committee's efforts the people will raise up and call them blessed.

Now that Multnomah county and Salem have been re-enumerated, their population shown to be 25 per cent greater than the June humbug, we wonder if Superintendent Porter will require specific information for the rest of the state before he will order a recount. Surely the imperfect work of Kelly and Strange has been so clearly shown that he will require no further proof to show the utter valuelessness of their attempted enumeration. A census to be of value should certainly be accurate. There is probably not a precinct in the state but what could show many persons overlooked. Their work was probably done better in this, Linn county, than any other, yet we can find many who say they saw no enumerator and of course were not counted.

The tariff bill has finally passed the senate, with the reciprocity amendment to it, more than when it came from the house. We presume now the conference committee of both houses will get together and if they can agree the bill will soon go to the president.

The cranberry venture of Oakland capitalists, near Ilwaco, has turned out to be quite a success. They shipped 5000 bushels last season and expect to ship considerable more this year. They have only 25 acres set out at present, but it is intended to increase the area.

The Washington legislature has agreed upon an apportionment bill and announce themselves ready to adjourn. They only await the pleasure of Gov. Ferry.

The river and harbor bill has been submitted to President Harrison for his signature.

Why suffer? Preston's "Hed Ake." will cure you.

NORTHWESTERS.

Salvator, is now the greatest racehorse on earth. He reduced the one-mile record last week on the monmouth Park race course, to 1,35¾.

James Rearden, age 70, an old resident of Salem had both legs broken in a fall to the ground from a car while unloading lumber. Only the smaller bones were broken.

The hop house of Dr. H. A. Davis, near Harrisburg, caught fire Saturday from a defective flue. A few buckets of water prevented what might have been a big loss.

Charlie Circle a 10-year-old son of J. F. Circle, of Crook county was thrown down and dragged 100 yards by a horse he was unhitching, and his leg was broken in two places.

Fred Bogan, of San Francisco whipped Pete Sheen, of Vancover, in thirty seven rounds in the Astoria Athletic Association rooms last week. Sheen was beaten stone blind.

Tim Kellogg, age, supposed to be between 20 and 30 years, was drowned at Oak Tree camp about 4 miles east of Coburg on the Mckenzie river, Wednesday September 3d about 11 o'clock A. M. He was employed driving logs down the river.

Last Monday morning a forest fire broke out on Melarkey's place ten miles south of Grass Vally, Cal. and it has burned vast tracts of valuable timber and numerous fences. Barns and house of farmers have been saved by hard work. At one time the Chicago park was in great danger. This is the most destructive fall fire and forest fire known here for years.

Charles Ed. Morris an employe of Barkies mill, Tillamook bay, was drowned last week says the Watchtower. He was working with some logs in the mill boom, and by some means lost his footing and fell into the water, not being able to swim and assistance arriving in late he sank for the last time. A few minutes later the body was rescued, by means of diving after it but all efforts of recussitation failed.

A singular and almost fatal accident occurred at Snohomish the other day. Arthur C. Knight and Giles Hoyle went to the slaughter house to butcher a steer. Hayle raised his rifle and fired at the animal. The ball glanced from the skull, and striking a knot in a beam above, again glanced, going through the rim of Knight's hat over the left eye and ripping up two inches of his scalp. Had he stood an inch farther forward it would have killed him.

The subject of locating the oldest institution in Oregon, the Willamette University, of Salem, has in some mysterious manner been started into active discussion, and three cities, Portland, Salem and Astoria, have been drawn into competition for its location. As Dr. Stratton, who is now at the head of the university, places the funds necessary to raise to properly maintain the school at $100,000, it will be seen that it is no light task that the city that gains the location will have to assume.

Concerning corn, the monthly crop report of secretary Mohler of Kansas makes a very discouraging showing. It says: Of the area planted to corn last spring our correspondents report 55.4 per cent worth harvesting, and the average yield per acre worth harvesting is reported at sixteen bushels. According to this estimate the corn product of Kansas this year will be less than one-fourth of last year's crop. Wheat is reported as yielding better than was expected and the quality is excellent.

James Petty, a well-known crook and criminal, was arrested at Salem last Monday, by Deputy United States Marshal Ross, and lodged in jail, pending an examination next morning before United States Commissioner Walter, on a charge of having in his possession counterfeit coin of the United States. Petty's valise contained several spurious gold twenties when arrested. The coin was a dangerous counterfeit, and was dated 1888. Petty probably intended working the money off in the crowd during the fair, and would no doubt have been successful.

According to reports from principal states north of the Ohio river it appears that the wheat crop this season will be almost a failure. Averaging the probable yield in these states it will be the smallest ever known in one season. In some parts the failure is almost complete, in others the yield is fair, but nowhere above the average. The surplus will be small, hence prices higher, though the unknown season precludes the raising of any superior quality. In many places there will not be enough for home consumption. The regions which will be able to export any part of their yield are neither numerous nor extensive. The question will be: where will the potatoes come from? Will the price be reasonable?

I have been troubled many years with Disease of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies and have sought aid from different physicians without relief. About the 1st of April I was suffering from a very violent attack than almost prostrated me in such a manner that I was bent over. When I sat down it was almost impossible for me to get up alone, or to put on my clothes, when I had a friend to help me. I was induced to try DOBBOB KIDNEY TEA, to my astonishment I commenced to improve from the time I began using the tea. It had an almost miraculous effect, and to the astonishment of the guests at the hotel, in a few days I am happy to state, that I was a new man. I would recommend the tea to all afflicted as I have been.
