How about the fire company?

The Czar's peace congress is in cession. The outcome will be difficult to predict.

The organization of trusts is right in line with the socialist doctrine. It does away with the competitave system with a vengence.

Supervisors do not, and should not, allow full credit to the man who hauls three square feet of gravel and calls it a cubic yard, or a load.

There are four men in Lane county who want the $250 reward offered for the arrest of Claud Branton. Be it said to their credit, they did not get into a row over it untill their victim had been hung.

F. A. Falkenburg, head consul of the Woodmen of the World, will be in Oregon the last of this month. He will be in attendence at the big celebration given by the W. O. W. in Portland May 30 to June 2.

W. A. Story has been elected mayor of Portland, and the means employed to bring about his election were such as would do credit to the most skilled political "jobber." He has no mortgage on a second term, however.

It is estimated that the state printing offices costs the state of Oregon $65,000 per year. This is entirely two much for the services performed, and it is no wonder that the state printer is a heavy contributor to the state campaign fund.

Linn county has been doubly honored by the recent session of the I. O. O. F. grand lodge and grand Encampment. Hon. J. K. Weatherford was elected grand master of the grand lodge of Oregon, and A. W. Bowersox also of Albany, was elected grand partriarch.

Christian science and magnetic healing are fast gaining a foothold, and ere long these two systems will take the place of a large per. cent of the medical treatment now employed. There is truly some merit in the system of magnetic he ling, when we see marvalls cures being made almost daily.

The "grave and reverend signors" who have just assembled as peace conferees at The Hague may do much good work there, but there is a suspicious current here that, in the way of bringing about an actual cessation of hostilities, our men Lawton, MacArthur, Funston and the rest, now in the Philippines can give the congress points as to methods.

President McKinley has stated that he would come west in time to meet the returning volunteers. This is just what would please the volunteers more than anything that could be done. They left home, friends and native land at his request, and have since paid close heed to his wishes, and in justice to them he should meet them and extend to them a welcome home.

Estimated expenditures for the British navy during the coming year is, in American values, $132,970,000. Our own appropriation for this year was $56,098,783. The growth of this arm of national defense in ten years is shown in the fact that in 1899 Great Britain spent only $69,210,000 on its navy and the United States $21,378,809. The expenditures for the latter in the ten years covered shows relatively the largest increase.

The Cuban insurgents themselves will be the means of Cuba being annexed to the United States. They have forgotton how to work, are forming into bands of brigands, and the feeling between them and the American troops on the island will doubtless become so bitter that the natives will attack the Americans and thereby defeat their own plans of self-government and full independence, for which they fought for years, and which a reckless element now threatens.

The Capital Journal and Independent, of Salem have announced that they will show up the individual records of members of the last legislature. Those papers have special facilities for doing this, and they can perform a public duty by carrying it into effect! We fear however that each will have some particular interests to protect that will deter it from going into the subject thoroughly.

A Klondike Letter.

The following is a letter received by W. H. Roberts from his brother at Dawson:

DAWSON, March 28, '99.

DEAR BROTHER:—

Your favors of January 9, reached me March 23. I am glad to hear from you. I left home in Oregon January 21, 1898 and reached Dawson on the 13th day of July, '98. I stayed in Skagway five weeks preparitory for the trip over the mountains, was on the trail to Lake Bennett seven weeks; remained at lake Bennett seven weeks, building boats; spent four weeks on lakes and rivers to Dawson; could have made the trip quicker but prospected some. I traveled alone all the time. Our climate is cold, 60 degrees below zero has been reached, but there is no wind and the cold is bearable after one becomes climated. Animals, yes. This county has the bear, moose, cariboo mountain goat, white rabbits, martins and some others. The moose are large weigh when dressed of the largest 1400 pounds, cariboo dressed 200 pounds, mountain goat 100 pounds, these sell readily at 50 cents per pound. Fish, salmon, graining and others in summer an fall.

The length of the days here in winter, December, 21, shortest is seven hours, that is twlight and all. In summer the longest is June 21, about 20 hours.

The ground is frozen to an unkn'wn depth. A shaft has been sunk 135 feet deep through frozen earth all the way, and this is the general rule so far as I have heard. Gold is not so easily found here, even in Klondike, and you see more poor men in want here than anywhere else. There is not work for one tenth part of them, and the majority of them are not gold miners and know nothing about the business and expect to pick up the nuggets very plentiful when once here, but they are much dissapointed. Gold mining is an ardious business and must be undertaken by men of experience and pluck, and time is necessary for success. Their diet of necessity must be something that will keep from year to year, therefore their food is old and stale.

The labor is hard—privations many, sickness and disease common with them. No one should come to this country without fully counting the cost. You will see many people here every day that wish they were at home.

Asa Hirons, I remember; tell him by no means to think of coming to this country. Where I am now mining, we thaw the earth by large fires, then hoist the dirt up the shaft by windless and rope, and wash it when summer comes.

We had no mail for four or five months until lately. Now I have a part of the September, October, November and February mail. Good bye. Yours Respectfully.

A. G. ROBERTS.

A Suit of Many Defendants.

An amended complaint was filed Monday by Kelly & Curl, attorneys for T. H. B. and S. Adella Schooling in a suit for partition, involving the title to the land of H. K. Schooling deceased, near Harrisburg, in which there are 173 defendants, The suit has been pending for two years, and has caused much profanity in the neighborhood of the county clerk's office when the voluminous documents have been filed. The case will probably be settled at the next term of court.—Herald.

Whooping Cough.

I had a little boy who was nearly dead from an attack of whooping cough. My neighbors recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did not think that any medicine would help him, but after given him a few doses of that remedy I noticed an improvement, and one bottle cured him entirely. It is the best cough medicine I ever had in the house.—J. L. Moore South Burgettstown, Pa. For sale by Peery & Peery.

War shakes up the system and brings enlightment It did China good, brought Spain to a realization of her brutality, and in more ancient times armed conflict converted barbarons into civilized nations. History but repeats itself in the Philippine war, which comes in the natural course of events in the march of progress. Generally, the natives of the archipelago are a savage race and could be instructed only after an eye-opener in the form of severe chastisement. It of course is to be hoped that in this missionary work the United States, through the agency of rebel bullets and disease, will not lose too many of the lives of its brave representatives in the field there.—Woodburn Independent.

A man from Iowa who went prospecting in the Klondide, in the course of chilling events was frozen. His friends had him brought home for burial. When the body arrived it was found to be so drawn out of shape as to forbid its being placed in a coffin. To bring the limbs down to a natural pose, the frozen man was placed in a bakers oven and a strong heat was turned on. In the coarse of half an hour one of his friends opened the oven door, when lo and behold! the corpse arose slightly from its reclining position and shivering perceptibly, remarked betuliantly. "Shut that door! I think I feel a draught."

Two census supervisors are to be chosen for Oregon. They will be recommended by Representative Tongue and Moody and approved by Senators McBride and Simon. The districts do not exactly conform to the congressional districts, but they have been arranged in such manner that all of Western Oregon counties will be included in one and all of Eastern Oregon counties in another.

Many old soldiers now feel the effects of the hard service they endured during the war. Mr. Geo. S. Anderson, of Rossville, York county, Penn., who saw the hardest kind of service at the front, is now frequently troubled with rheumatism. "I had a severe attack lately," he says, "and procured a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It did so much good that I would like to know what you would charge me for one dozen bottles." Mr. Anderson wanted it both for his own use and to supply it to his friends and neighbors, as every family should have a bottle of it in their home, not only for rheumatism, but lame back, sprains, swellings, cuts, bruises and burns, for which it is unequalled.
