CENTENNIAL NOTES.

A congressional party, consisting of thirty-one members of the House and Senate, accompanied by their wives and families, is now on the way to the Lewis and Clark Exposition.

Companies I and K of the Tenth United States regular infantry are encamped upon the government peninsula at the Lewis and Clark Exposition. Captains Ingram and Gowen and a staff of three lieutenants are in command.

A Masonic building is rapidly nearing completion at the Lewis and Clark Exposition. This has been erected for entertainment purposes by local organizations and will be ready for occupancy before opening day.

Frank Vincent Dumond, chief of the Fine Arts exhibits at the Lewis and Clark Exposition, arrived at the grounds a few days ago to supervise the installation of four carloads of paintings valued at more than a million of dollars.

Edmund P. Sheldon, chief of the forestry exhibit at the Lewis and Clark Exposition, is having made a papier mache model of Mt. Hood, which will be located on the second floor of the Forestry building. This will be used to illustrate some of the topographical features of Oregon's greatest forestry belt.

Upon a lofty pyramid made of various grains which grow in the state of Oregon a heroic statue of Ceres, the Goddess of Grain, adorns the rotunda of the Agriculture and Horticulture building at the Lewis and Clark Exposition.

Decomposed granite has been spread over the flooring of the Trail and the Bridge of Nations at the Lewis and Clark Exposition. This material has been used to advantage in making all of the paths and roadways at the centennial, and it greatly improves the appearance of the city boulevard.

CORRESPONDENCE

[The News desires correspondents from every neighborhood in the Forks of the Santiam. Correspondents should sign their names to their news letters, not necessarily for publication, but that the editor may refer to you, if necessary, to substantiate a statement. Munkers Murmurs.

Tim Kelly was transacting business in Albany this week.

A. N. and Geo. Goin of Jefferson spent Sunday here.

Marion Arnold has about recovered from his recent illness.

Miss Hattie Huntley spent last week with relatives in Stayton.

Wilbur Funk is teaching his new driving horse to trot in single harness.

Mrs. Jim Johnston was visiting Albany friends for several days last week.

Joe Munkers and wife returned from an Albany visit of several days last week.

Rev. Alfred of Jefferson is conducting protracted meetings at the DeVaney school house.

Miss Alice Hall has returned to Lebanon, after a couple of weeks' visit at the home of M. Kelly.

Jacob Shilling, who has been dangerously ill, has recovered from his illness. Dr. Browne pulled him through.

Ed Wodtmansee and Miss Anna Murphy from Tangent drove over for a visit with their relatives last week.

Will Jones, the veterinarian of Jefferson, was called here Sunday. One of Joe. Funk's valuable cows needed his attention.

Governor Chamberlain has appointed Hon. M. A. Miller as a regent of the state university at Eugene.

LOCAL

Picnics are getting ripe.

Jefferson will give a picnic tomorrow, Saturday.

T. J. Munkers and family were Albany visitors last Saturday.

Wm. Brenner returned from a business trip to Portland last Saturday.

Children's day will be observed in the Baptist church next Sunday evening.

The Linn county pioneers association will meet in Brownsville on June 7-9.

The Oregon state grange held its annual session at Forest Grove this week.

Mr. Allen Gilkey is reported to be quite sick again, with a tendency to paralysis.

Mrs. M. C. Gill is suffering with an attack of la grippe, and is quite sick this week.

John Sims has been over to Albany this week looking after business in the carpentry line.

C. C. Hogue of Albany made the A. O. U. W. of this city an official visit Monday evening.

Joe Riesterer of Bilyeu Den is seriously ill with typhoid pneumonia. Dr. Prill is attending him.

Mrs. Galloway of Shelburn, who has been very sick with pneumonia, is reported to be improving.

Geo. L. Sutherland left us yesterday to accept a mercantile clerkship at Lamonta, Crook county.

L. W. Pomeroy has quite a gentle driving pony. If you want evidence on the subject, ask I. C. Dickey.

W. S. Paul is advertising his stock and farming utensils for sale. The sale will take place at 10 a. m. on May 31.

Grandma Allison returned from a visit to Springfield last Friday. Mrs. Maud Cole, her daughter, and children, came home with her.

Henry Myers has rented his residence property to a family of newcomers and has taken rooms with Walter Bilyeu in the Independent telephone building.

A sort of international yacht race is now on. The start was made from New York, and the yacht crossing the Atlantic the quickest will be the victor.

Ogden Hudson, an employe of the Lebanon paper mills, was instantly killed last Thursday by being caught in the machinery and having his neck broken.

Dr. Browne was called this week to visit Mr. Isaiah Platt, whom he found to be suffering from a severe attack of gastritis. He left his patient feeling somewhat better.

Wm. May sold a valuable span of horses to Mr. McBride of this city, who will take them to Aberdeen, Wash. Three hundred dollars was the price paid for the span.

When our public schools close this week, Professor Wells will not be an applicant for re-election, as he has obtained a better position as principal of the Coquille city schools.

The Baptist people surprised their new pastor with many good things to eat last Tuesday evening. The pastor's family was made happy and the donors were equally as happy.

Another new telephone line, with more than twenty subscribers, will be attached to the Independent system in this city in a few days. This will give the Independent about 100 phones.

G. Wash. Phillips returned last week from a trip to Nestucca, where he bought a farm within four miles of the Pacific ocean. He expects in a short time to move over there to reside permanently.

Buggies and Wagons—Yes I have them, of the best quality and at prices that will suit everybody. If you want anything in this line, see Chas. Wesely, the housefurnisher, and he will fit you out in short order.

Frank Jones, S. P. employe at the North Santiam bridge, fell some fifteen feet, Thursday of last week, and was severely injured. Dr. Prill, the company's surgeon, was called and gave the required attention.

There will be an all-day service at the Baptist church on Saturday before the first Sunday in June. There will be a roll call, and each member is requested to be present to respond. Each family will bring provisions for dinner.

The S. V. Hall lumber company has been taking out 4000 ties from the water that have been floated down Thomas creek into the millrace. The company expects to put the Scio branch railway into commission in a very short time.

The cold and continuous rain of Sunday night and Monday was not at all beneficial to neither grain crops, fruit or gardens. Thomas creek on Monday evening showed considerable evidence of the storm, the water being quite muddy and had raised nearly, if not quite, two feet.

Mel Shelton returned last Saturday from a several weeks' sojourn near Arlington, in Eastern Oregon. Mel came over the W. V. & C. M. wagon road on horseback. If there was any doubt as to where he had been, the tan on his features would proclaim that he had been hobnobbing with Eastern Oregon winds.

Mr. Garbe was brought up from Aumsville Saturday, and on Sunday Dr. Prill amputated part of his foot, he suffering from senile gangrene. He is doing as well as could be expected, although it may be necessary to amputate the leg just below the knee if the present operation does not stay the progress of the disease.

How would you like to pay for a yard of cloth and get but 30 inches? Therefore, always give full measure in berries or any other commodity sold by measure.

R. Custar of Stayton passed through town yesterday on his way to Crabtree. He states that the woolen mill project at Stayton is a sure go, nearly all of the stock being taken.

As far as we could learn, but few people were on hand at Franklin Butte cemetery on Wednesday as per call. We are told that the Masonic order has appropriated $10 to pay for mowing and cleaning up the cemetery grounds.

Miss Maude Myers has resigned her position as teacher at the Lincoln school, Salem, which place she has held for the past six years. Miss Myers is a very popular teacher and she will be greatly missed by her pupils, to whom she has endeared herself.

A Corvallis Story.

They say that when the boys go down to Albany for a time the authorities there, out of respect to the hardships and trials the Corvallisites have to endure as to booze, give them the freedom of the city, says the Corvallis Times. These authorities, so the story goes, reck not if our own and only boys under the influence of good old tarantula do a few of these stunts that are an invasion of the peace and dignity of the municipality of Albany. Instead of thrusting our boys in jail with a cold and heartless thrust, the tale goes on to the effect that beds are found for them and care taken that none shall pay a fine or be afraid. It is a fond and frisky sort of a welcome that our boys are said to appreciate from the bottom of their long-suffering hearts.

Such is the story, but whether it is all true or not is something the reader will have to find out for himself, though it is positively asserted that last Saturday night five of our boys, limber and lushful with tarantula, were taken to bed at one time by one police officer in Albany.

One of these same Corvallis bloods wandered as far over as Scio on Wednesday. He at once commenced to fill up on bug juice, axle grease, or some other kindred exhilarating elixir and made himself somewhat of a nuisance. At the Scio hotel he became somewhat belligerent, and when Mine Host Morrow asked him to make himself scarce in that locality, he (the Corvallis blood) proceeded to do up the landlord. At this stage of the game Chas. Wesely, the undertaker, got busy. He fired the said Corvallis blood bodily, but as Charley is an undertaker, this sort of athletics may be one of the things he undertakes. On the following morning the bibulous young man was apparently all right.

The Westerner.

The May number of the Westerner the new Seattle Magazine, is full of interesting material and promise for the future. The Westerner is a forty-eight page magazine, with two-color cover, of which Edgar L. Hampton, well known in western journalism, is the editor, and Ella Higginson, the poet and novelist, is associate editor. The Westerner is a magazine for and of the West, telling the great and ever-thrilling story of the West in sketch and travel and fiction and poem, with many illustrations, at the uncommonly low subscription price of 25 cents per year. The May number—now in the hands of its readers—contains, among numerous other features, an article on the Orient by an educated Japanese, Mr. O. Hattori, giving a Japanese view of the war and of Oriental customs. The article is illustrated with original Japanese war cartoons. An illustrated sketch of the Igorrotes, the Filipino tribe of dog eaters, now in this country, is another feature.

Switch Tampers Found and Arrested

Sheriff White, on Wednesday, arrested a young man or boy, aged about 16, and who lives some three miles south of Frys on the Lebanon branch railroad, whose name is Earl Kiger, for tampering with the switch at the above station. The young man, with several companions, was returning from a game of baseball and concluded it would be great fun to break the switch lock and throw the switch. This they did, using a rock to break the lock, but with no intent to endanger the life of any one.

When arrested and taken to Albany, young Kiger confessed to having broken the lock and was quite penitent about the matter. His companions are, no doubt, guilty to some extent, but not as principal in the vandalism. Kiger is a son of one of Linn county's progressive farmers.

To Subscribers.

A great many subscribers to the News are delinquent in their subscription from one to three years, some even longer. Now, in all kindness, let us urge you to come in and settle the matter. We need the money badly, for we have to pay cash for all we buy. A number have promised us wood in payment. Please deliver the wood as quickly as you conveniently can; we can then know how much to buy. Now, while we ask for what is justly due us in all kindness, we at the same time mean business.

Eighth Grade Graduates.

The following named pupils have successfully passed the county examination: Lester Compton, Irma Irving, Ethel Wallace, Ernest Rex, Wm. McKillop, Rosie Beran, Laura Shelton and Zelpha Barton.

Born.

BILYEU—On Sunday, May 21, to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bilyeu, a son.

The world awaits in breathless expectation the forthcoming battle between Rojestvensky's squadron and the Japanese fleet. Should the Japanese once more issue victorious the war will be over—no matter how much Linlevitch and Kuropatkin may praise the splendid bearing of the troops in telegrams to the czar.
