Scio has a number of dairymen in her vicinity. In fact, nearly every farmer is engaging in the business to a more or less extent, and all agree that it is a source of steady profit. G. M. Bilyeu reports that his dairy numbers 40 cows. Most of the cream (all farmers have hand separators) is shipped to Portland creameries.

Through his attorney, E. P. Morcom, S. M. Maupin has filed suit for $20,000 damages against the Southern Pacific company. The plaintiff alleges that on October 27, 1904, he was employed as a postal clerk on the train running from Woodburn to Natron; that, while entering the mail car in the usual manner at Woodburn the car was backed, catching Maupin between the car and a truck, injuring him permanently.

A Narrow Escape.

Miss Cora Chambers, of some three miles east of Albany, was severely injured in a runaway accident at Albany Tuesday afternoon. She and her mother were preparing to start home. In getting into the buggy, by some means one of the lines was dropped over the dashboard. Miss Chambers reached for the line, and the horse, becoming frightened, kicked and struck the young lady on the head. She was knocked insensible and fell forward between the wheel and the body of the buggy. The horse in the meantime had commenced running, and Miss Chambers' hair became entangled in the wheel. The buggy was finally upset and the horse broke loose. Miss Chambers was then released from her precarious position. Some of her hair had to be cut away from the wheel. While she is severely injured, she is not thought to be dangerously hurt. The other parties were not injured to any great extent.

Died.

LANGLEY—At his residence on the John Smellman farm, three miles north of Scio, on June 7, Henry Langley, aged 75 years.

The funeral occurred at the Miller cemetery on the following day. Mr. Langley emigrated to Oregon fourteen years ago. He leaves a wife and three sons to mourn his loss. He was universally respected.

CENTENNIAL NOTES.

The attendance at the Lewis and Clark Exposition on the opening day was but a few hundred short of 40,000. The day was fine, and the opening exercises were characterized by an enthusiasm which means much for the success of the enterprise.

A sub-station of the Portland postoffice has been established on the grounds of the Lewis and Clark Exposition, near the main entrance, for the accommodation of visitors at the fair. The station is equipped completely, and visitors may receive their mail there, purchase money orders and stamps, and mail letters.

Early visitors at the Lewis and Clark fair have been surprised to find that the hotel and boarding house keepers are making very reasonable rates for fair visitors. The charges in most cases are but little above those ordinarily in

Our baseball boys went over to Barrette, near Tallman, last Sunday to play ball. After being served with an elegant dinner, they were chagrined to see it commence to rain, which prevented a game to be played.

Roe Shelton, Poley Moses and Dick Rhoda brought a band of splendid bunchgrass horses to Scio last Saturday. They are all of good, fair size and will make good work horses. Tuesday, as the horses were being taken from the corral to the creek for water, one of them jumped upon a post that pierced a hole in its abdomen. It was so badly injured that it had to be killed. Some five or six of the horses were sold Tuesday afternoon at a fair price.

Last week a valuable pair of young horses that the News man sold to a neighbor over near Tallman became so badly frightened at thunder and lightning that they ran into a barbed wire fence and were severely injured. This is something very unusual for horses that are at liberty in a pasture to do. A dog belonging to this same neighbor also became so badly scared because of the same thunder that he ran into the house, then up stairs, and finally under a bed before he felt safe.

The Willamette Valley Development League will hold a meeting at Independence on June 12-13. The program will embrace the discussion of such subjects as "Opening the Locks at Oregon City," "Clearing the Willamette River," "Better Freight Rates," "Better Transportation Facilities," "Mutual Telephone Systems," "Co-operation in Fruit Culture," Public Ownership of Public Utilities," Reports From Railroad Committees," etc. Governor Chamberlain and many other prominent speakers are to be present and participate in the discussions.

To Subscribers.

A great many subscribers to the News are delinquent in their subscription from one to three years, some even longer. Now, in all kindness, let us urge you to come in and settle the matter. We need the money badly, for we have to pay cash for all we buy. A number have promised us wood in payment. Please deliver the wood as quickly as you conveniently can; we can then know how much to buy. Now, while we ask for what is justly due us in all kindness, we at the same time mean business.
