SPECIAL NOTICE.

We will be glad to publish the proceedings of all clubs and public meetings in Linn County if the friends will furnish the items by noon on Wednesday. No ticket or names of candidates as such, will be published without the space is paid for, but all news items of either party will be given free space; and if the meeting of either party is not published the friends may know the fault is not ours, but the neglect is on the part of Secretaries or Reporters. Political news items, tickets or names of political candidates, are not necessarily endorsed by this paper.

MANUFACTORIES.

We learn that the Willamette Packing Company of Albany, have erected a large building, put in machinery and have now a large force engaged in making cans for the coming season of fruit. They have already fifteen tons of tin and more than a dozen hands are employed in making the cans and otherwise getting ready for the summer and fall fruit. They are using a fourteen-horse power engine and will engage about fifty hands during the season, and put up not less than 10,000 cans, or 5,000 cases. Now why cannot Lebanon form a joint stock company for the same purpose; the fruit that annually rots on the ground and otherwise goes to waste in and around Lebanon, would create an immense business—give employment to idlers, and bring a large revenue to our town. Lebanon has natural advantages over Albany in this business. The hills adjacent to and east of us are destined at no distant day, to yield immense crops of fruits, and Lebanon is the natural outlet of the mountain trade. If we would be wise let us begin the enterprise at once.

If half the interest was manifested in the development of our resources that is in politics we could do something. Lebanon could do well and grow under the administration of either party; but Lebanon cannot and WILL NOT grow amidst the bickerings of party strife and the neglect of her material resources. If one-tenth the time, one-fourth the energy, and one-half the money that has been expended in political rangling in and around Lebanon in the last two months, had just been put in EVEN A BROOM FACTORY it would have been better for our town. When the smoke and dust of this years political strife is ended, our town, as a town, will be none the gainer, let who win that may. Lebanon must carve out her own destiny, OUTSIDE and not INSIDE of politics. The great scramble is for office, and not for principle, and to accomplish this, any of them will make a "cats paw" of all available material for political emolument and personal aggrandisement. We have a sovereign antipathy for that man who is a foot ball for party leaders, or a step block for political hacks—we would "rather be a dog and bay the moon than such a Roman."

"You'd scarce expect one of my age"
Who lives inside of twenty- one,

A little village paper to run."

"And if I chance to fall below"
The standard of your wisest men,
Don't say "we'll let the paper go,"
But try the little man to mend.

"Don't view me with a critics eye"
But hold your temper and keep cool
Nor let your words at venture fly;
And don't forget the GOLDEN RULE.

"Large streams from little fountains flow"
But temper makes a man no sage,
To make a man, the boy must grow
In stature, wisdom and in age.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

The sensation at the capital this week was the war of epithets accusations and denunciation, between senators Ingall of Kanas and Voorhees of Indiana. It was on Tuesday, and two hours before the time for the senate to meet, visitors began to fill the galleries, it having been announced by the senator from Kansas (the president pro tem of the senate) that he would on that day leave the chair to answer a speech made by the Indiana senator last week.

By noon, the opening hour for the senate all available space on the floor of the chamber and in the galleries was taken, the doorways were jammed with people and out in the corridors there was a curious mass of humanity sufficient to have filled the galleries over again, but with no hopes of getting even near one of the doorways which commanded a view of the interior. Congressmen left the all important tariff debate in the house of representatives and came over to hear the wrathy speeches, for every body expected to see Senator Ingalls pour vitriol upon and apply scourges to the democratic senators who had taken exception to his recent speech on dependent pension bill.

In that speech Mr. Ingalls alluded to Gens. Hancock and McClellan as allies of the confederacy, and for this he was vehemently attacked by Senator Voorhees last week. His reply was to Mr. Voorhees attack.

Lack of space forbids me to give even an epitomized form of the remarks of either of the Senators, but the scene in the Senate was one which, perhaps, has never been parallelled in the history of that august body. Language became personal in the extreme, and while it was not Billingsgate, it was far beyond Billingsgate's best record, and although no blows were actually struck, everybody held his breath for awhile and thought there would be.

In the course of his remarks Mr. Ingalls took occasion to say that Justice Lamar was no lawyer, never had been, and that he was appointed by a reluctant President only because he was the nearest friend of Jefferson Davis. He made quite a number of statements concerning Senator Voorhees' political record for the past twenty-five years, some of which the latter branded as campaign lies, saying he did not deign to reply to such accusations. He would simply spit upon them and trample upon them, kick them. Several times Mr. Voorhees called Mr. Ingalls a liar, a great liar, and one time a dirty dog. Representative Johnson of Indiana who was seated at a desk immediately in rear of Mr. Ingalls was alluded to in several instances as having vouched for the truth of some statement made in regard to Mr. Voorhees past course of conduct. He is a liar if he intimates such a thing roared the Senator, it never, never occurred, never in the world; pass my answer to the scoundrel behind you, and tell him I say he is an infamous scoundrel and liar. Tell him I say so.

At one time Senator Ingalls said passionately. "If this were a police court, that citizen there, from Indiana, would be arrested and put in the dock for being drunk and disorderly.

There was intense excitement during the interchange of these compliments, but finally both Senators seemed to realize that they had gone farther than they had intended. Senator Eustis and Gibson of Louisana then replied with some spirit to Mr. Ingalls' criticism of Louisana election methods, and fortunately the Senate adjourned without the belligerent Senators getting the floor again. It was a long time however before that end of the Capital was cleared. People hung around the corridors looking for a continuation out of doors of the hostilities so fiercely waged within.

The verdict of soberminded people on the Tuesday's dedate is that there was nothing to admire in it, that its chief characteristic were its shocking lack of dignity and its entire want of appositeness to any living question of the day, and that while such a spectacular exhibition might be pardonable on the stump, it should never have taken place on the floor of the United States Senate.

Satire and indignation were the firearms used, and in regard to which Senator displayed the greatest degree of skill in their management, it depended altogether on the sympathies of the audience one way or the other.

The Senate has been discussing the Chinese Treaty behind closed doors.

The tariff debate proceeds in the House with only an occasional little tilt between the speakers to break the monotony.

Comment upon the nomination of Mr. Fuller of Illinois, for Chief Justice of the United States, has been favorable to the selection from every standpoint.

Meeting in Lebanon.

LEBANON, Or. May 15, 1888

A formal meeting consisting of three delegates from each of the churches of this city convened in the M. E. parsonage on the above date. On motion C. S. Hunt was elected chairman and Walton Skipworth secretary. The chairman stated that the object of the meeting was to take some united measure against the reported lewdness in the town. The following business was transacted, and ordered published in the LEBANON EXPRESS. Moved and carried that three petitions, one for the male members of the churches, one for the moral citizens not holding membership in any church, and one for the ladies; three petitions be circulated for names to be presented to the city council, asking them to take some definite action against this violation of law.

Moved and carried that those circulating these petitions solicit funds to employ an attorney to properly represent the matter before the City Board.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

WALTON SKIPWORTH, C. S. HUNT.
Secretary. Chairman.

To Farmers.

To the farmers of Linn county. If you want farm implements, or machinery of any description, call on our manager, G. W. Cruson, at Lebanon, and we assure you that you will meet with courtesy, and a full line of our goods that can be bought as cheap as [illegible] see in Linn county.

[illegible] WALKER.

TOLD BY CORRESPONDENTS

BROWNSVILLE.

J. M. Waters, O. Osburn and J. B. R. Morelock, returned from the McKenzie mines, on Monday.

Mr Atkins and family departed on Monday for their home at Hillsboro.

S. Templeton, J. McKnight, A. C. Hausman, A. J. Adams, John Senger, J. Von Hagan, Wm. Hartley, James Standish and J. W. Wilson have during the past week gone to the McKenzie and Blue River Mines.

James Warren, has at his farm near Brownsville, something slightly rare in this section, consisting of two imported "Jacks" which were purchased during Mr. Warren's recent trip to Washington Territory.

J. Dalgleish of Portland, was in town on Tuesday, attending the annual meeting of the B. W. M. Co. stockholders.

The annual meeting of the Brownsville Woolen Mills Company stockholders took place on May 8th. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year. Directors, J. M. Moyer, F. F. Croft; D. Dalgleish and Thos. Kay. President and Treasurer, J. D. Moyer; Supt. Thos Kay; Agent D. Dalgleish; Secy. O. P. Coshow, Jr.

David Irvine and family of Corvallis paid Brownsville friends a visit during the past week.

Peter Hume has received a stock of agricultural implements, and has established a depot for the sale of the same next door to the Brownsville Bank.

E. D. Kellenberger, formerly of Lebanon, has purchased the Brownsville meat market.

Sam Sawyer, on Saturday last departed for the McKenzie logging camps.

At T. Thompson's school house, Liberty precinct, on Sunday last, a sabbath school was organized with a membership of seventy-five. The following officers were elected: E. D. Johnson, Supt.; J. D. Arthurs, Treas.; J. Hyde, Sec.

Owing to the low stage of water, and the failure of the spring raise in the Calapooia river, lumber will be scarce in Brownsville during this summer.

A. C. Hausman, returned from the McKenzie river mines, bringing with him some fair samples of silver bearing quartz from the Templeton mine, on Saturday last.

The Brownsville Woolen Mills Company closed down on Saturday for the purpose of cleaning the race, resuming work on the following Monday.

On Tuesday evening at the North Brownsville City Hall, took place the commencing exercises of the Local Institute for Division 1, Linn county. At 7:30 p. m. a choice and well rendered musical selection by the Brownsville Musical Association; a most forcible and entertaining address was delivered by Rev. Mr. Gittens. "Open wide the Gates of Heaven," a solo, by Miss Addie Gibler, was most heartily applauded, being but a well deserved tribute to the smiling face and sweet voice of Brownsvilles' favorite "Little Addie." A well delivered recitation by Miss Hattie Long, was followed by an artistically arranged tableau, after which a dialogue, and music by the association concluded the programme for Friday evening.

SATURDAY MORNING.

Annals, by J. D. Boyer; Methods of Teaching Geography by Frank Stanard, and methods of teaching Spelling, by Miss Hattie Long, in which the subjects were most ably handled, occupied the morning session. the was devoted to school room decoration by Mrs. Brown, of Lebanon. Methods of teaching U. S. History, by Mr. Hunt; and methods of teaching manners and morals, by Mr. Shanks. The Brownsville Musical Association opened the evening session with a choice musical selection, after which O. P. Coshow, Jr. delivered a very concise and well worded address in relation to the existing school law. A solo by Miss Addie Gibler, was heartily encored, as was also the recitation by Miss Edna Dyson. The entire proceedings of the Teachers Institute for Division No. 1, Linn county were most interesting and commendable, reflecting great credit on those taking a part. The institute was well attended and highly appreciated by the large assemblage, who daily and nightly filled the North Brownsville City Hall.

AFTERNOON SESSION

J. M. Williams, of Halsey, republican nominee for School Superintendent addressed the teachers institute at this place on Saturday last.

H. W. Herron, of Tangent, paid our town a visit during the past week.

George Plaster, formerly of this place, who plead guilty of sending obscene matter through the mails was fined $100 by Judge Deady.

CRAWFORDSVILLE.

Mrs. Adam shanks of W. T. is visiting relatives at this place.

Mr. O. P. Abrams has been very sick the past week, having taken a relapse.

The little daughter of S. C. Robinett, has been very sick for the past few days.

The familiar rattle of the lumber wagon can be heard any time of day now.

The Campelites have been holding meeting at the Fern Ridge church for the past two weeks. They closed yesterday with a basket meeting. The meetings were well attended, and especially the basket part of it.

Messrs McDowell & Cross passed through here to day with a twelve horse power engine. They intend to run their shingle machine with it, as their water power has failed, the water being two low to run any longer; we now boast of two shingle mills, one in town and another near here.

Messrs Pugh & Hale propose to be cutting lumber soon; they have already cut out several thousand shingles.

Long Hungry.

MARKS RIDGE.

John Wadkins has sold his farm.

Wm, Piper went to Sweet Home last Friday.

A. E. Williams paid us a flying visit last Friday.

Wm. Piper is erecting a neat little residence.

Strawberries are getting ripe in this section.

The gardens in this vicinity are looking fine, owing to the late rains.

Immigrants from California were up here looking at the country; they seemed to be very well pleased.

D. H. Eatharn, our first class mechanic, is, with some assistence, building a large barn for John Orchard.

Crops are looking fine, grass growing well and chinese pheasants crowing as much as ever.

Rev. Bennett will hold divine services at the school house the 3rd Sunday in May, which will probably be his last appointment here.

PET WHETSTONE.

AYER'S Sugar-Coated Cathartic PILLS.

If the Liver becomes torpid, if the bowels are constipated, or if the stomach fails to perform its functions properly, use Ayer's Pills. They are invaluable.

For some years I was a victim to Liver Complaint, in consequence of which I suffered from General Debility and Indigestion. A few boxes of Ayer's Pills restored me to perfect health.—W. T. Brightney, Henderson, W. Va.

For years I have relied more upon Ayer's Pills than anything else, to my bowels. These Pills are mild in action, and do their work thoroughly. I have used them, with good effect, in cases of Rheumatism and Dyspepsia.—G. F. Miller, Attleborough, Mass.

Regulate

Ayer's Pills cured me of Stomach and Liver troubles, from which I had suffered for years. I consider them the best pills made, and would not be without them.—Morris Gates, Downsville, N. Y.

I was attacked with Bilious Fever, which was followed by Jaundice, and was so dangerously ill that my friends despaired of my recovery. I commenced taking Ayer's Pills, and soon regained my customary strength and vigor.—John C. Pattison, Lowell, Nebraska.

Last spring I suffered greatly from a troublesome humor on my side. In spite of every effort to cure this eruption, it increased until the flesh became entirely raw. I was troubled, at the same time, with Indigestion, and distressing pains in

The Bowels.

By the advice of a friend I began taking Ayer's Pills. In a short time I was free from pain, my food digested properly, the sores on my body commenced healing, and, in less than one month, I was cured.—Samuel D. White, Atlanta, Ga.

I have long used Ayer's Pills, in my family, and believe them to be the best pills made.—S. C. Darden, Darden, Miss.

My wife and little girl were taken with Dysentery a few days ago, and I at once began giving them small doses of Ayer's Pills, thinking I would call a doctor if the disease became any worse. In a short time the bloody discharges stopped, all pain went away, and health was restored.—Theodore Esling, Richmond, Va. ††
