He said he did not think a boat could have been lowered from the Queen because she was rolling so badly. He believed that the tug Czar could have rendered assistance, as he thought at the time she was equipped with wrecking apparatus, and was a rough smaller vessel.

was a much smaller vessel.

According to Sullivan, Captain Cousing did not desert his post. He said the master of the Queen made an attempt to communicate with the captain of the Czar when that vessel was near the wreck. The tug came in close to the Queen and some one waved a hand to indicate that the wreck was farther along

Sullivan said passengers on the deck of the Queen cried out "cold feet" as the Czar steamed away from the wreck in search of shelter. The Queen stood by taking seas over her decks until relieved by the City of Topeka and ordered to proceed to Victoria by Captain Patterson. Sullivan said that at no time did he make any suggestions to officers of the vessel, s he was a passenger only. He believed if the Queen had lowered a boat to go to the wreck it would have been smashed against the sides o

FISH COMMISSIONER FIGHT.

Mead Promised Bellingham Support for Reappointment of Kershaw.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Feb. 21.-(Special.)-Governor A. E. Meatl, who left here Janmary 22 to attend the publicity conference at Sait Lake City, will return to Olympia Sunday afternoon and will immediately be called on to take action in several important matters, the principal one beli The capitol building has been haunted by adherents of the different candidates for Fish Commissioner for several days past, but all left today, when it was learned that the Governor would not re-turn until Saturday. The fight is raging fast and furious over the job now held by "Tim" Kershaw, of Beilingham, and a delegation from that place, headed by Al. Lane and L. N. Griffin, was here today to protest against the reappointment of Kershaw. Their candidate is John Riseland, present deputy in Kershaw's office.

The Kershaw contingent will be here Saturday and will be headed by ex-State Senator Moultray and Postmaster Hugh Eldridge, of Bellingham. Both have been against Mead in the past, but the story is that they will withdraw their opposition to the Governor if he will reappoint Kershaw.

LAID IN WAIT WITH A KNIFE.

Discharged Employe Assaults Foreman and Is Badly Beaten.

OREGON CITY, Or., Feb. 21.—(Special.)
—Angered because he had been dismissed from his position in the paper mills yesterday, a young man named Lochmiller laid in wait for F. P. Driscoll, foreman of the department in which Lochmiller had been working, and assaulted him with a pocket-knife. Driscoll received several cuts about the face and neck, besides being stabbed through the hand, before he succeeded in overpowering his assailant, whom he beat almost into a state of incensibility.

Driscoll's wounds required the services of a physician, but are not considered dangerous. No arrests have yet been

HAWKS SUES FOR SERVICES

WANTS LARGE SUMS FOR PORT-AGE ROAD WORK.

N. G. Binlock Is Named as Defendant in Case Brought in Walla Walla County, Washington.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Feb. El.—(Special.)—A suit to collect for alleged services as an engineer in connection with the building of the Portage Road around The Dalies in the Columbia River in 190 was today transferred from the Superior Court of Phere Courts to Walls, Walls, Compt. of Pierce County to Walla Walla County The case is entitled A. Mcl. Hawki vs. N. G. Blalock and alleged that Hawks vs. N. G. Bislock and alleged that Hawks performed services at the special request of the defendant and others who reside outside the State of Washington, is making an investigation and estimate of cost of building the Portage Read, of the reasonable value of $805, and has received in payment of the same only the sum of $642.30. He states that he gave his personal attention to the construction of the road and supervised the letting of contracts and the disbursements made on the same to the extent of $175,000. Dr. Blalock, when seen this evening said the case was of little importance and he was not worrying the committee from the Open River Association who had the building of the Portage Road in charge It seems that Hawks was for a tim in the employ of the association as a consulting engineer, for which services he was paid the sum of $25 per day. He was for a considerable length of time trying to get the contract for the actual construction work of the road, but for some reason could not get the neccesary financial backing.

Dr. Bialock says that Hawks fell out with the engineer employed by the State of Oregon the next day after he arrived at work and was of little assistance, al-though he was paid in full for his time spent on the line.

QUARREL OVER LIQUOR LAW

Feeling Has Run Very High Since the Town Went "Dry," and Property of Both Factions Has Been Destroyed:

ALBANY, Or., Feb. 21 .- (Special.)-A flourish of firearms in the evening, and two of Lebanen's most prominent citizens rolling and tumbling in the gutter the following morning, in an effort to trounce each other, is one outcome of the fight over the liquor question in the dry town of Lebanon. Today Deputy District Attorney Gale S. Hill is in Lebanon, called there because of the disturbance.

Dr. W. H. Booth, who has been most

Dr. W. H. Booth, who has been most active in the prosecutions of violations of the local-option liquor law in Lebanon, became involved in a quarrel with G. B. Hansard, proprietor of the St. Charles Hotel, who is now under indictment in the Circuit Court for violating the local-option liquor law. The quarrel took place in the doctor's office, and rumor has it that both parties drew revolvers at a critical moment, when the argument bethat both parties drew revolvers at a critical moment, when the argument became heated. The following morning Hansard and Dr. J. C. Booth, younger brother of Dr. W. H. Booth, renewed the quarrel at the doctor's office, and soon were at it hammer and tongs, rolling over and over in the mud of the gutter in a wild effort to do each other bodily injury

Arrests are likely to follow. The town of Lebanon is peculiarly di-vided on the liquor question. At the re-cent election on prohibition, under the local-option liquor law, one of the Leb-anon precincts went "wet," while the other went "dry." The dividing line bethe center of the business portion of the the dry precinct all saloons, because of their location. When these saloons were closed, under the order issued by the County Judge, "blind pigs" and "soft-wa-ter joints," in which the initiated could secure stronger beverages, were estab-lished, resulting in a number of prosecu-tions and convictions. There is now pending a legal battle over the constitution-ality of the local-option liquor law, and its applicability to incorporated towns. Attorneys for state and defense have argued the questions, and Judge Burnett took them under advisement until the March term of Circuit Court is convened. In all of the prosecutions of the saloon men, the Drs. Booth were very active. Many of the complaints against the sa-joon men for violations of the law were sworn to by Dr. W. H. Booth, and in every case he was an active gatherer of acts to assist the prosecution, until the liquor fight assumed the proportions of a personal contest between the saloon men

Numerous times Dr. Booth and som one of the saloon men have narrowly averted a row, and once or twice blows have been struck, but more serious trou-ble was in each instance averted.

Considerable property belonging to par-ties interested in the liquor agitation on one side or the other has been destroyed by vandals. The identity of the perpetra-tors of these deeds of vandalism has never been ascertained. Yesterday's outbreak is considered as the beginning of open

BARBECUE AT ROADMAKING.

Marion County Will Give Invitation When Government Experts Arrive.

SALEM, Or., Feb. 21.—(Special.)—A meeting of Marion County Road Supervisors was held at the Courthouse in this city today, with nearly 59 Supervisors in attendance. The necessity for permanent improvement of roads and reduction of the subject receiving most grades were the subjects receiving most attention, and it is evident that Road Supervisors will adopt a course of action that will mean less waste of money and inbor and more lasting improvement of public highways.

It has been decided that when the Government road experts come to direct the construction of a mile of sample road near this city next Summer the work shall be done on the Salem-Sliverton road near the Fair Grounds. The work will begin where the road crosses the Southern Pacific track and extend a mile east-

There is a large oak grove at the Pair Grounds and it is planned to have a barbe-cue and picnic under the shade of the trees and invite all the people of the Wil-lamette Valley to attend. The date of the barbecue will be fixed so that those who attend may see part of the road completed, part with only the first or second layers of rock spread and part with only the grade thrown up. The rockcrusher and steam roller will be put in operation.

INDIAN ASSASSIN MAKES MIS-TAKE NEAR FORT SIMCOE.

Evidently Desired to Put Out of the Way Wife of Indian Slain

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Feb. 21.-(Spe-NORTH TAKIMA, Wash., Feb. 21.—(Special.)—The body of Susie Buchanan, an Indian, and her 2-year-old babe were found dead in bed at their home four miles northeast of Fort Simose, on the Yakima Indian reservation. The discovery was made by Sam Asheo, an Indian living near by.

and the police of the reservation, of his find.

County Prosecuting Attorney Krutz said tonight it is his opinion that the murder of Mrs. Susie Buchanan was the work of the friends of Jim Butler, who is charged with the killing of old man Stemili, and who is now awaiting trial in the Superior Court here, but the killing of Mrs. Buchanan is believed to have been a mistake on the part of the murderer. The Prosecuting Attorney says that circumstances show that the murderer aimed to kill Mrs. Stemili, wife of the victim of Jim Butler, as she is the prosecuting witness for the state. The murder was committed Monday night at the home of Mrs. Buchanan, four miles northeast of Port Simcoe, but the news was not brought here till this morning.

here till this morning.

Mrs. Stemill had lived with Mrs. Buchanan, but the former bad gone to the fort, expecting to return in the evening.
On her way she was overtaken by darkness and stopped with a neighbor till morning. It is supposed that the murderer entered the house of Mrs. Buchanan in the darkness and slew her by beating her brains out and then killed her 2-year-old babe. Coroner Rosser and Sheriff Grant did not go to the scene of the murder today, as was expected.

The Prosecuting Attorney says he will not prosecute the case, on account of the impossibility of compelling Indians to testify. Heretofore the county has always been put to a big expense and it has been almost impossible to convict an Indian for crimes of this kind.

Superintendent Lynch today took steps to protect Mrs. Stemill, so that she can be had by the authorities to testify in the Butler case. Mrs. Stemill has been taken to Fort Sincoe to remain for the present under the care of the superintendent and his Indian police.

Low Rates to California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.-A proposal was today submitted to the Transcontinental Passenger Association to make very low Summer excursion rates from the East to San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego, these rates to be effective from June 1 to September 1, inclusive. The rates will be $75 from Chicago, and $60 from St. Paul, Omaha, Kansas City, St. Joseph and other Missouri River points, with $13.50 additional for tickets reading one way via Portland and the Shasta route. The final limit of such tickets will be October II.

This action is in the nature of an ex-periment, and is a further strong effort on the part of the Southern Pacific lines to increase the tourist business to Cali-fornia during the Summer.

INVESTIGATION TO BE MADE

Conference With Railroad Officials Covering the Entire Situation Will Be Held in Seattle Next Wednesday.

OLYMPIA, Wash., Feb. 21 .- (Special.) -- A conference has been arranged between the Railroad Commission and the railroad officials, to be held in Seattle next Wednesday. Some time ago the commission prepared to go ahead with a hearing on the question of joint rates on wheat, but just before the order fixing the hearing had been issued, certain traffic officials requested that the matter be held up until they could have a consultation with other railroad officials, with a view to a possible voluntary adjustment by the roads of the complaint of the farmers and shippers growing out of the failure to have

The roads now ask for a further confer ence, and, from the press reports of the contemplated new schedule of the O. R. & N., it is anticipated by members of the Railroad Commission that it will resolve itself into a general discussion of the question as to whether the proposed new schedule will satisfy the com

The State Railroad Commission has taken "judicial notice" of the recent an-nouncement from Portland to the effect that the O. R. & N. Co. proposes to make a rate on export wheat which will eliminate the present so-called discrimination is alleged the Puget Sound market affords as against exclusive O. R. & N. territory in Eastern Washington.

It has been shown in testimony taken by the Railroad Commission that wheat is generally worth from 1 to 5 cents a bushel more on Puset Sound than at Portland, and this difference is said to represent the difference in export rates as between the ports of Portland and Puget Sound. The plan announced from Portland is for the O. R. & N. Co. to give a rebate on all export wheat which will make up this difference to the farmers, and to this ex-tent the commission will find relief from a large number of complaints that have come before it on the question of wheat

Chairman Fairchild, of the Railroad dission, in commenting on the situation today, said:

"The effect of the change in the schedole of rates as published in the press is to give the farmer on the O. R. & N. ap-proximately 1 cent a bushel more for his wheat than he has been receiving.

"This is gratifying. Whether the proposed change in rates will cure the evil complained of can only be determined

I tried different medicines and food preparations, but did not seem able to correct the difficulty.

Then my attention was called to Grape-Nuts food, and I sampled it. I
