Bank Dedicates Computer System

One of the most advanced electronic banking systems in the country was formally dedicated recently at the First National Bank of Oregon.

Ralph J. Voss, First National Bank president, pushed a button on the MARC I control panel to put into operation a $1,700,000 computer-based banking system which will eventually serve over 600,000 customers in a broad range of banking applications.

MARC I is the First National's designation for their new Magnetically Activated Recording Computer system

Warren C. Hume, president of IBM's data processing division, was guest speaker at a reception following the MARC I dedication for more than 60 Portland civic officials and business and industry leaders from Portland.

The IBM computer and the IBM 1401-1412 bank data processing combination are component parts of the MARC I system.

MARC I will perform a myriad of banking chores including the handling of regular checking accounts for 220,000 First National Bank customers and instalment credit loan accounting for 70,000 customers. In addition, the system is scheduled to conduct long and short form deposit analysis, process trust accounts, provide management reports and print the Bank's daily transaction ledger and customer statements each month.

ALL TYPES of Moore Rediforms available through the Gazette-Times office—salesbooks, purchase order books, requisitions, receipt books, and others. Call on the Gazette-Times for your needs in business forms.

Mrs. Wayne Soward of Nyssa, daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Soward, spent last week in Heppner at the Soward home. It is expected that her husband, Pvt. Soward, will be home on furlough at Christmas from his training at Fort Ord, Calif., completing his basic eight-week training, and will then be assigned to a more permanent base.

Attend Co-op Meet

Mr. and Mrs. Al Lamb and Mr. and Mrs. Harlan McCurdy Jr. were in Portland Monday and Tuesday attending the convention of the Oregon Council of Farmer Cooperatives. Lamb, manager of the Morrow County Grain Growers, is a director of the organization and past president.
