There's Nothing Like Paying in Advance, and Saving Trouble

NOAH'S ARK IS SCENE OF SHOW

LONDON, June 11.—Old Man Noah's ark full of animals, all creeping and crawling things of the earth and all birds of the air may have been a fine sight to see but the famous old tar's sea show had nothing on the show given here today at Albert Hall by society to raise $100,000 for the London Hospital. Occupying the center of the spacious auditorium was a monster model of Noah's Ark, stranded on an artificial Mount Ararat. Beside every stall in the ark stood a pair of animals, birds, snakes or huge beetles or bugs of papier mache. And one thing that Old Man Noah did not have on his good ship was a feature of the modern ark here, was a dancing pavilion and various stalls where parched throats might be allevited.

Among the visitors teady was Queen Mother Alexandra, who is one of the patrons of the hospital. The Duchess of Marlborough and Lady Violet Charteris, the principal leaders of the enterprise, were supported by eight duchesses, eight marchionesses, thirty-seven countesses, five viscountesses and twenty baronesses. Leading West End tradesmen who had goods on sale had to pay heavily for securing titled saleswomen. The fair will continue tomorrow.

ASHLAND GIRL GETS THE SENIOR PRIZE

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Ore., June 11.—Thirteen honor students and twelve girl recipients of special prizes have been named for honorary recognition at the commencement exercises at the Oregon Agricultural college Wednesday.

The senior prize of $40 went to Lucy Crawford, Ashland; the junior prize, $30, to Katherine Warner, Portland; sophomore, $20, to Abbie Coon; and freshman, $10, to Kareen Hansen, Portland. Honorable mention is given as follows: seniors, Anna Johnson, Albany; Helen Cowgill, Baker—Juniors, Ruth Hawley, Corvallis, and Lillian Thordarson, Corvallis—sophomores, Lorene Parker, Salem, and Enid Leeper, Corvallis—freshmen, Geraldine Newins, Patchouge, N. Y., and Edith Crockett, Pendleton.

THREE GRADUATES HAIL FROM CITY OF MEDFORD

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, Oregon June 11.—The graduation exercises of the University of Oregon will be held June 15 to 18, and 111 students will receive degrees at that time. This is the second largest class in the history of the institution and the 37th annual commencement.

Three Medford students are registered in the class. They are: Miss Clara Wines, Miss Lucille Marshall and Mr. V. H. Vawter. Out of the total number, 89 will receive the degree of Bachelor of Arts. The Medford students are students in this department. The remaining 22 will be granted diplomas from the school of engineering.

PORTLAND, Ore., June 11—If negotiations for the release of a half-block at Broadway and Salmon street are successfulily concluded, Calvin Heilig, the local theatrical magnate, and associates have today expressed their intention of the construction of the finest theater on the Pacific Coast on the site.

The theatrical men have been casting about for a location for some time, but it is understood that the lure of Broadway as Portland's prospective "great white way" was too strong.

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS

By A. C. Howlett

Last Saturday morning your correspondent started for Sams Valley to try to find some more subscribers for the Mail Tribune and have those who were in arrears pay up, renew, etc., but I did not have the success I anticipated, as almost every man I met, that I asked to subscribe, told me that he was already a subscriber. But as I did not have near all of the subscribers on my list I could do but little business. The trouble was that they have a star route from Gold Hill to Sams Valley and a rural route from Central Point, and all along the two routes receive their mail through that means, but I saw some fine country and met quite a number of fine people, but am sorry to say that I met one man who refused to pay on the ground that "they had no business in sending the paper after the time it was paid for." I found quite a number were busy haying and am sorry to say that I found quite a number cutting away the blight from their trees and in some instances they had cut away almost all of the branches.

Returning to Table Rock Sunday morning I found that the rain Saturday night had caused the good people to change their plans for a picnic on the banks of the Rogue river, deciding to have it, and the Sunday school exercises, in the school house, and there I was met by Rev. George E. Paddock, state superintendent of the home missionary work in Oregon, and Rev. Howard N. Smith, state superintendent of the Sunday school interests of the Congregational church of Oregon. There was a good attendance, a remarkably good one, considering that the day was rather cool and showery and that there was one family who had the measles and another who had the whooping cough, but they had a fine program and after the program was completed, and a fine lunch was served, Dr. George E. Paddock gave us a very interesting talk on the subject of "How Christ Labored to Assist and Elevate Those With Whom He Mingled."

After spending the night with kind friends, Monday morning started out to try to finish up my work for the Mail Tribune in Sams Valley, and before I left the house where I was staying collected a subscription, or rather a renewal. Steering my course toward Sams Valley I stopped at a house to speak to a friend and there received another renewal; passing on through the valley up Sams creek I met with fairly good success and about 10:30 a. m. started to climb a hill, I won't call it a mountain, for it only took me a little over an hour to climb it, and by enquiring along the route found the place, and when I opened the gate was met by two ugly looking dogs that snapped and barked, but I kept on in spite of them to the door and knocked and presently was met by a very nice appearing lady, and on inquiry learned that Mr.—— had gone out to look for a cow that had strayed off from the others, and the lady did not know when he would be home. I then enquired if I could get dinner and my horses fed, whereupon I was told that there was not hay in the barn and as I saw no preparations made for dinner I turned my course and drove back down the hill to C. E. Miller's place where I had a suptuous dinner and my team fed.

Next Monday, June 16, is our annual school meeting day and it stands those interested in a careful and economic management of our school to be present. I understand that there is a move on foot to bond the school district for ten thousand dollars to build a new large brick school house and that with our ten thousand dollar bonds for a water system sounds big for a little village like Eagle Point.

BUTTE FALLS

Mr. and Mrs. Garland who have been visiting B. F. Morris and family have rented the Brainard property and decided to stay a few weeks before going to Los Angeles.

Mr. McGinnis returned Thursday to spend the summer with his niece, Mrs. Ropp. Butte Falls is all right for him.

L. A. Wright made a business and pleasure trip to Medford Saturday returning Tuesday.

The band boys have been quite busy building a band stand in the park. When it is finished we can all hear the music from our homes.

Twice last week the refuse around the donkey engine caught fire and before anyone arrived the shed and a wood car burned.

Rev. Day returned Saturday bringing a Sunday school evangelist, Rev. Gleckner with him. Rev. Gleckner has been working in Porto Rico for several years and gave us quite an interesting and instructive lecture Sunday evening on his work in that field. He says that he and his family will return there as soon as the doctor will permit them.

Mr. Obenchain, known by most of his friends as Uncle John, fell from the porch last week seriously injuring himself. Mrs. Cingeade, his daughter, from Medford, was summoned and more of his relatives will arrive in a few days. We hope the accident will not prove fatal.

Grandma Downs returned Tuesday from Medford, where she has been visiting her granddaughter.

The young people with Mrs. Mills, Mrs. Cadzow and Dr. Buchanan as instructors will give an entertainment at the Assembly Hall, Thursday, June 12, at 8:00 o'clock. See the posters in the store windows for particulars but be sure to come. Social and general good time after the program.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned will apply to the city council of the city of Medford, Oregon, at its next regular meeting on June 17, 1913, for a license to sell spirituous, vinous and malt liquors in quantities less than a gallon, at his place of business at 17 South Fir street, block 20 in said city, for a period of six months.

NEW TODAY

It is an assured fact that there will be street cars running into Siskiyou Heights within a year, and it is also a fact that a party has more property than he can well take care of and is offering a neat three-room house on a lot 70x150 feet, with a parking strip twelve feet wide in addition at a price that makes you a present of the house.

The place is piped for water, and the garden and small fruit is there, and in excellent condition. The electric wires for heat and light are in, and there is nothing lacking to make this a good home for anyone who is now renting and wants to get out of the rut. The place is less than a mile from the postoffice, and remember that the street cars will pass within two blocks of the door.

Better investigate, as this value will surprise you.
