MRS. YOUNG TO WORK ON PAPER

CHICAGO, Dec. 12.—Having accepted the editorship of the educational department of a local newspaper, Mrs. Ella Flagg Young said today that she would not try to recover the position of superintendent of Chicago's public schools.

A women's meeting was scheduled for tomorrow, nevertheless, to protest against the action of the school board which forced her resignation and to demand the retirement of the members of the board who voted against her reappointment to the superintendency for another term.

Mayor Harrison did his best to clear himself of responsibility for the course pursued by the board members he himself had appointed, saying he would demand their resignation; that he wanted Mrs. Young for superintendent all along, and that John D. Shoop, assistant superintendent, whom the board elected to succeed Mrs. Young, ought not to accept the post.

INSURANCE PRESIDENTS DISCUSS PUBLIC HEALTH

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—"The Public Health Movement," as it is related to the betterment of insurance service, was the important topic discussed at the second day's sessions of the seventh annual meeting of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents, which is being held at the Hotel Astor.

William T. Sedgwick, Sc. D., professor of biology and public health at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Boston, was the principal speaker. Discussions by delegates, limited to ten minutes each, followed Professor Sedgwick's address. This afternoon's topic was divided into three sub-topics: "Ever-increasing interdependence (a) between life insurance and the state; (b) between agents and policy holders; (c) between life insurance companies. The sub-topics were discussed respectively by James R. Young, president of the national convention of insurance commissioners, Raleigh, N. C.; Henry Abels, president American Life convention, Springfield, Ill., and Ernest J. Clark, president National Association of Life Underwriters, Baltimore, Md. The meeting adjourns this afternoon.

HIGHWAY REPAIRS SUBJECT OF CONGRESS

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 12.—"General Methods of Repairs and Renewals," today was discussed by A. W. Dean, chief engineer of the Massachusetts Highway Commission, at the eighth and closing session of the tenth annual convention of the American Road Builders association, which opened here Tuesday. Paul D. Sargeant, chief engineer of the Main state highway commission, led the discussion. Another subject discussed this afternoon was "Bituminous Surface Treatment and Dust Prevention," by William H. Connell, chief of the Philadelphia bureau of highways and street cleaning. C. W. Ross, street commissioner of Newton, Mass., led the discussion.

WANTS FLEXIBLE ANTI-TRUST LAW

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—Urging government regulation of corporations through an inter-state industrial commission, John Hays Hammond told the National Civic Federation here today that the Sherman law ought to be amended so as to make it "flexible enough for application in the light of reason in the commission's decisions."

"I do not believe the Sherman law needs to be superceded," he added, "but it does need further definition and amplification by supplemental legislation."

Besides Hammond there were many speakers before the federation meeting.

CLOSING SESSION OF CIVIC FEDERATION

NEW YORK, Dec. 12.—The closing sessions of the fourteenth annual meeting of the National Civic Federation today developed intensely interesting discussions of the proper regulation of industrial corporations. President Seth Low, of the federation, a former mayor of New York, presented a report containing recommendations to be incorporated into any bill introduced in congress to supplement or substitute for the Sherman anti-trust law. Some of the questions discussed on the subject were:

Shall the size of industrial corporations be limited? Granted that destructive competition is uneconomic from the standpoint of the public, how can competition be so regulated as to prevent it reaching this point? Should a manufacturer be permitted to fixe the price at which a retailer may sell to the consumer? Is the price-cutting of department stores and other mercantile establishments a benefit or any injuy to the public?

MUNICIPAL CHRISTMAS TREE AT ABERDEEN

ABERDEEN, Wash., Dec. 1.—Plans are under way today for a municipal Christmas tree. One hundred leading singers and all of the band musicians on Gray's Harbor will participate in a yuletide celebration to be held in the streets. The tree will be the largest that can be brought here and will be electrically lighted.
