NEWS FROM COUNTRY CORRESPONDENTS

ASHLAND AND VICINITY

The scheduled appearance of "Baby Mine," at the Vining Theater, October 19, serves due notice that the local amusement house, perfect in all its appointments, is about to come into its own in the way of affording first-class entertainments as presented at metropolitan centers. "Baby Mine" is but a harbinger of what is to follow along the line of major attractions which promise to be booked in due succession for Ashlan's popular play house. It now remains for local patronage to justify the expense involved by seconding the efforts of the management in securing the leading high grade amusement features.

Rev. A. E. Ogg, former missionary in India, has leased the residence of Mrs. Mary Wood, 104 Laurel street, and will take possession November 1. For six years he was located at Madras in missionary labors under M. E. church auspices, and has returned to America for at least a year under medical furlough.

A deplorable incident involving domestic complications which compelled a mother and twin children to flee from her home here and seek protection at the hands of neighbors, is being aired in circuit court circles to the extent of applying for a divorce and custody of minor children. Also for a restraining order and plea for support. In the meantime the distressed mother and her offspring are being provided for by the local Sunshine society, an organization which is always the court of first, as well as last resort in the way of affording a haven of refuge, and to the deserving needy the appeal is never made in vain.

Circuit court proceedings disclose foreclosure measures instituted against the Ashland Preserving and Orchard specialty company, in behalf of Mrs. Lottie Pelton, in the sum of $3600. This corporation of many vicissitudes and euphonious title used to be known in the good old days as the "canning factory." It is understood, however, that the present management has nothing whatever to do with these recent troubles.

Sunday marked an epoch in the annals of the local Presbyterian church. The impressive baptismal rite was administered to Samuel Flynn Grubb, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Grubb. The father is a Wells Fargo messenger on the Milwaukee road with headquarters at Tacoma. The congregation also had the pleasure of extending the glad hand to Dr. J. V. Milligan, of Portland, a former pastor of the Ashland church over 25 years ago. He is one of the pillars of Presbyterianism on the Pacific coast, and it at present associated with the Sunday school work in behalf of the Synd of Oregon, and is proving a stalwart in furthering the movement. In the evening the church choir, under the direction of Prof. McMurray and reinforced by outside talent, gave the initial sacred concert of a series planned for the winter. This was supplemented by a sermonette by Pastor Carnahan, also a serial feature connected with the song service.

Mrs. T. W. Miles, of Medford, daughter of Mrs. Ellen Wagner of this city, was a week-end visitor with her mother and other relatives hereabouts.

Henry C. Galey and family, after a visit with relatives here for the past several weeks, left Saturday for Los Angeles, in which metropolis or its immediate vicinity, Mr. Galey may locate permanently.

At the Oregon convention of Baptists to be held at Grants Pass this week, Rev. Arthur Blackstone, present pastor of the Ashland church, will lead the praise service Tuesday evening, and Rev. H. B. Foskett, former pastor, will deliver an address on "Beneficences."

Either the title, "Southern Oregon Young People's Association," is a misnomer or else the recent three days convention at Medford was not sufficiently advertised, for the attendance from here was practically nil. One preacher went along and but mighty few of the laity were on record as having been present. Word comes from other sections that people were not advised of the meeting an to time and place.

Before leaving for southern California, Messrs. Lamkin and Turner made arrangements concerning the handling of their big ranch property in Little Shasta valley of Siskiyou county. The patch consists of 1075 acres, all grain land. Roy Swigart of Montague, takes over control of the tract and has already plowed and seeded more than 800 acres of the domain. The past season this ranch yielded over 15,000 bushels of wheat and about 5000 bushels of barley.

Carl Murphy, trainman on the Ashland-Red Bluff passenger run, returned from Portland Saturday, accompanied by his wife who has been visiting at Duluth, Minn., and at the old family home, Nellisville, Wis. Mrs. Murphy's sister, Miss Marion Huntley, remains in the central west indefinitely with her brother Harold, who is attending the Wisconsin state university at Madison. Carl and wife are now at home, 105 Pine street.

John D. Martin, of Billings, Mich., who came here a year ago to test the efficacy of lithia water for chronic troubles, and who was summoned back home several weeks since, has recently returned here and will resume the treatment, having established himself in camp right near the spring of life giving waters.

Albertus Asenco, native Cuban, general utility man and hot tamale artist, returned to greener pastures in San Francisco, Saturday, after a brief residence in these parts. To other accomplishments he added the knack of playing most any game, from cribbage to craps, and some say he was not averse to a display of skill for a consideration. At times he would even condescend to take a hand in bridge whist just to show the boys how the thing was done. At common every day checkers he in short order skunked the leading players in town. He is reporte to have left the city not empty handed by the exercis of thrift in husband-in his winnings.

A. H. Davenhill of Twin Oaks orchards, north of town, and Troy Woodward, foreman of the city planing mills, are in the Pinehurst region, after big game, making De Carlow's ranch a base of operations.

Local sportsmen are interested in news from Klamath that Jack Kimball, representing the Weyerhauser interests in that section, is sowing wild rice and wild celery seed with a free hand around the shores of Aspen lake this fall, thus insuring an abundance of feed for ducks and geese which hover in that locality. Kimball is well known here. He married Miss Lyle Watson, daughter of C. B. Watson of this city.

J. W. Glass of Pasadena, Cal., a speaker of note, addressed audiences at both the Christian and Nazarene churches, Sunday, on sundry topics mainly pertaining to suppression of the liquor traffic.

GOLD HILL NUGGETS

(From the News.)

Glenn Eddings returned to Roseburg Sunday, after an enjoyable month's vacation with his parents in this city. As a matter of fact his vacation period was not completed, but Fireman Eddings grew lonely for his engine and his run.

Rev. C. E. Wharton and family, recently of Rogue River, but now the M. E. parish of this city, arrived on Saturday last and are comfortably at home in the Childers' residence. Rev. Wharton delivered his initial sermon in this city last Sunday morning.

Mrs. John M. Root, president, and Mrs. Chas. Schielfelin, secretary, of the Medford Bill Hanley club, accompanied by Mrs. J. F. Reddy and Mrs. E. B. Hanley, were in this city Monday in the interests of their favorite candidate. The ladies made a thorough canvass of the city, calling at every home, and creating much interest and discussion by their keen and persuasive arguments for Bill Hanley.

Martin Bowers, M. S. Johnson, C. W. Martin and Harry Tresham, left by team for a b'ar hunt in the Abbott Butte district, north of Prospect Sunday afternoon. They were overtaken at Union creek by Sam Hodges in his Ford car the following day. Sam's duty, which occurred to him upon the departure of the hunting party, is to guide them to the b'ar, several of which he claims to have met before.

Miss Marian B. Towne, democratic-progressive nominee for representative, campaigned in Gold Hill and vicinity Monday, receiving much encouragement in her candidacy from local voters of all parties. Miss Towne is widely known in Jackson county as a young woman of exceptional ability and through knowledge of present day affairs. For a number of years she was employed in the office of the county clerk, where she won many friends through her courteous and capable transaction of the duties entrusted to her. Later she studied law at the University of Michigan, gaining an invaluable knowledge of legal procedure that should be of great advantage in the event of her election. Jackson county will do well to endorse Marian B. Towne at the November election, both in recognition of equal suffrage and in the assurance that no better selection could be made for the representation of this district.

Miss Viola Myers, one of the Gold Hill graduating class of 1913, has returned to her home at Rogue River after several months' absence at the coast. Miss Myers, whose health was seriously impaired early this year, is now very much improved, greatly to the gratification of her local friends.

Sam Rose, timber cruiser and woodsman by vocation, returned from a visit with relatives in Grand Rapids, Mich., on Wednesday forenoon. Mr. Rose has a cabin and a clearing on the Evans creek divide. "I wanted to get back to them," he said, "there is no place quite like southern Oregon for health and happiness."

Picking of the season's crop of choice apples was concluded Tuesday at Riverside orchard, and the small army of employes dismissed. The packers remain, however, and will not have finished their wrok until later in the week. The Spitzenberg crop was the blue ribbon winner of the orchard this season, the fruit being large, finely flavored, and very plentiful.

APPLEGATE POSTERS

Mr. Baldwin was in Medford one day this week on business. He and his family are present living in a small house, theirs having burned down some weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler attended the institute held at Medford last week.

Mrs. Maude Kubli attended the school board convention at Medford last Wednesday, as a delegate from Applegate.

There is to be a dance at Rose's hall on the Applegate Saturday, Oct. 24.

Helen and Charlie Mee have returned to Central Point where they are attending high school. They have been visiting their parents here during the institute.

The socialist hall which is being built near the Applegate store will soon be completed.

Miss Alice Bingham of Thompson creek is attending school here.

At a meeting of the parent-teachers' association held at the school house a few nights ago, steps were taken to clear up the school grounds. It was definitely arranged to have as many of the people of the district as possible present on Friday, October 23d, with their teams and well filled lunch baskets. A stump puller has been provided, also a quantity of powder. It is expected that much will be accomplished.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Clute are visiting friends and relatives on Griffin creek in Sams Valley.

Mrs. A. L. Bates left here Friday to visit relatives in the Willamette valley.

Mr. Chauncey Flory, candidate for county recorder, was interviewing the voters of Applegate Thursday.

BUTTE FALLS BUBBLES.

Mr. and Mrs. Woods and children are here visiting their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Dooms.

Mrs. Jones came to Butte Falls on Tuesday to pack the furniture to be sent to their new home in Medford.

R. Baker painted his new house yellow and white this week.

Mr. Gleason's brother came up on Thursday to visit him.

Rev. Gammons went to attend the meeting of the Presbytery at Klamath Falls Monday.

Edith Fredinburg came for a few days' visit with her parents Thursday.

Mrs. Obenchain's niece, Miss Miller, is visiting her now.

The Mothers' club met at the chapel Wednesday afternoon. After a very interesting talk on "Truth" by Mrs. Stoddard, a recitation by Mrs. Alice Baker and a song, "The Spank Tree," by Cecil Peelor, the ladies served sandwiches, tea and cookies. A very profitable as well as enjoyable time was had by all.
