PRIZE WINNERS AT ASHLAND WINTER FAIR ANNOUNCED

ASHLAND, Dec. 15.—Horticulturally, apples led at the Winter Fair, there having been over 25 varieties and the display was a superb one, including Delicious, Newtown, Spitz, Winter Banana, Gravenstein, Bellflower, Winter Pearmain, King David, Gano, Baldwin, King Jonathan, Red Cheek, Pippin, Arkansas Black, Winesap, Beaver Red, Paragon, Grimes Golden, Breeding (two varieties), Sawyer, Willow Twig, Vanderpool Red, Limber Twig, Shannon Pippin, Swaar, Golden Delicious and Roman Beauty. These names are published in order to show the wide diversity of apple culture hereabouts, Newtown and Spitz leading all other varieties. Displays were generous in quantity, many of them being boxed. Winter Nelis and D'Anjou pears were exhibited. Prizes for the best general display from individual orchards were won by Thornton Wiley, 1st; Albert Johnson, 2nd, and D. A. Owens, 3rd. The recent fair has passed into history, but nevertheless it is not out of place to emphasize a reminder that the scope of horticulture, especially pomologically, is a broad one in this valley and forms the leading industry. Indicative of market prospects in the apple line, a tentative offer recently made here of $1.60 per box for 10,000 boxes of Newtowns did not especially appeal to growers, they apparently preferring to remodel their output to other markets in the expectation of realizing higher prices.

Four Ashland teachers with the public schools of Oakland, Calif., will be "at home" for the fortnight's holidays. Miss Frances McWilliams will arrive this week, and the others at varying dates later, Miss Gertrude Engle being among the number.

The high cost of baking is coming down steadily, and a local concern takes the cake by offering a full loaf, weighing one and a half pounds, for loaves for fourteen cents, with other ten cents straight, or two full pound bakery goods at a corresponding reduction.

W. W. Treat, prominent businessman of Medford, figures editorially in Colliers of Dec. 3, relative to what constitutes old age as viewed from different standpoints, and meditates very interestingly in connection with his manifold activities at the old age of 65 years young, decrying the general opinion that mankind should be considered as placed on the retired list while approaching the traditional limitations of threescore-and-ten.

C. G. Eubanks, cashier of the State Bank, leaves this week for a fortnight's holiday vacation with relatives in California, Santa Rosa being one of the places to which he will visit.

Postoffice schedules applying locally as to mailing packages during the holidays, admonishes the public that such parcels destined for Ashland and neighboring towns and intended for delivery by Christmas should be mailed by Dec. 22. Pack securely, stamp sufficiently, mail early, and the postoffice department will do the rest smoothly and safely.

Now that the Fair is over with, the Nat has been converted into a skating rink for the winter months.

The state of Oregon, contemplates hanging two men early in January. Their crimes were committed as accomplices, and were not nearly as atrocious as some others, the principals in which have escaped execution under the humbug indeterminate sentence enactment. These men are penniless and friendless, hence shall justice move more speedily and sure on this account? Not long ago a covey of gangsters were apprehended in California, some were lynched, while others received short tariffs in fifty-year sentences, which was righteous retribution. Later, a rotten escapade occurred at San Francisco's leading hotel, which seems to have been turned into a brothel, ending in the death of a young woman under notorious circumstances. Yet justice threatens to be afflicted with strabismus when balancing the scales as between the gangsters and Arbuckle, giving emphasis to the assertion that "there is one law for the rich and one for the poor."

The fourth grade of Junior High School, Miss McCrane, teacher, captured the loving cup offered as a prize to pupils selling the greatest number of Christmas seals. David, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Blake, far out-distanced all competitors as salesman, having disposed of ten dollars worth in a jollier to the Shriners. If the fourth grade retains the cup for two or three successive years it becomes the permanent property of that specific department of Junior High.

Among securities listed on the local stock exchange, are first mortgage bonds on Klamath realty, secured by liens on the noted mint area, wide in extent and productive in yield, the bonds yielding eight per cent and redeemable in 1932.

SOUSA'S BAND HERE WEDNESDAY, DEC. 21

No man in the world has had so extensively advertised a personality as Lieut.-Commander John Philip Sousa. He and his music have become famous in every part of the globe, and he has long since become an American institution. It is no exaggeration to say that he is known as the greatest band man in history, and his band is recognized as the leading body of instrumentalists in the world. Sousa and his band, numbering nearly 100, have done and are doing much to promote musical interest, for they present programs containing compositions which would never be heard in many localities if the celebrated leader and his men did not make it possible. There will be several of these numbers produced when Sousa and his band are here on Wednesday, Dec. 21st, at the Page theatre, matinee and night.

BASEBALL DRAFT TRIMMED TO CUT COST OF STARS

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—By the Associated Press.—Baseball's advisory council, with Commissioner Landis as chairman, went into executive session here today. It will attempt to fill the majors' order for restoration of the draft under conditions satisfactory to all concerned. The order was filed yesterday in the form of a resolution adopted unanimously by American and National scribes in annual session here. Judge Landis is quoted as saying that he favored a universal draft rule. The majors are unanimously opposed to present conditions by which they say they are compelled to pay "outlandish prices for star minor league players."

The advisory council has the authority, under the rules that govern everything in the national game, to amend the national agreement as the occasions arise.

Among subjects for discussion at the joint meeting were a return to a seven-game world's series, suggested by the American league, and the regulation forbidding world's series players from barnstorming.

The conference regarding the draft caused all the minor league bosses to cancel their train reservations and stay a while.

Among the fleets of rumors sailing around was one that Joe Scheppner, the Louisville third sacker, has been sold to the Pirates for $30,000. Barney Dreyfuss smiled when asked to confirm the report. He said he could remember when you could buy a whole team of stars for that much money.

MOTHER! MOVE CHILD'S BOWELS WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

Hurry mother! Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. If constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, colic, or if stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the little bowels is often all that is necessary.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.
