Local and Personal

The local frost warning service urges all orchardists of this vicinity to bring or send their thermometers at once to the county agent's office to be tested. The service will begin April 1st, and as there are so many thermometers to be tested it is necessary for them to be brought in as soon as possible in order that the testing can be completed before or by that time.

SENIOR PLAY AT PHOENIX PLEASES

(G. W. Milam.)

"Captain Racket," the senior play, has come and gone. The Phoenix people are saying many good things about the play.

Mr. and Miss Whitman coached the play. Fletcher Fish always comes along and puts the finishing touches on the plays, at least he has done so since Mr. Milam came to the Phoenix school.

Floy Watkins, "Captain Racket," acted the lawyer to perfection, never missed a chance to make his lies count. Roy Belz, Obadiah Dawson, the captain's uncle, kept the house in a roar. Harold von der Hellen, Timothy Tolman, a friend of Captain Racket, came in for his share of good acting. He proved that marrying for money was not the thing to do. Frank Denzer, Mr. Dalroy, the Captain's father-in-law, was a typical old man and acted his part to perfection. William Hunter, Hobson, waiter of "Cafe Gloriana" brought the house down. Mildred Belz, the Captain's wife, played her part so well that the audience was held spellbound trying to tell what would come next. Mildred Ward, wife of Tolman, who married for money, portrayed the jealous hearted wife with clearness. Audrey Smith, Katy, popped up at all times and added spice to the occasion.

The auditorium was full of the best looking people of Phoenix, for all were there. The receipts of the evening amounted to $86.35, which put a grin on the Senior class hard to erase.
