ELKS SAVE DIMES FOR YULE EVENT

The members of the Elks lodge are not only saving up their money, but are fixing things up at home so that they can turn their backs on their families and be out late Thursday night, December 19, a week from next Thursday night, when the annual Christmas tree event of the lodge will be held in the basement of the Elks' temple, which results in the lodge dispensing so much Christmas cheer among the poor and needy of Medford and vicinity.

The "tree" this year promises to be larger than ever, and already arrangements are being made to that end by Exalted Ruler Ben Moller and a large corps of assistants. The tree doings will be held immediately after a short lodge session.

Next Thursday night G. H. Underwood of Klamath Falls, district deputy grand exalted ruler for Oregon, south, will pay his official visit to the Medford lodge. There will also be a special program on this occasion and all members of the lodge are urged to be present.

DEMONSTRATIONS IN TREE PRUNING

Pruning demonstrations will be held by the county agent in several localities during the period of Dec. 11th to the 13th.

Pruning is an orchard practice that has a great influence on the amount, size and quality of fruit. Therefore, it will be worth while for every grower to attend at least one of these meetings.

The schedule of meetings is as follows:

Dec. 11th, 10 a. m.—Thornton Wiley orchard, Ashland.

Dec. 11th, 2 p. m.—Carl Glasgow orchard, Talent.

Dec. 12th, 10 a. m.—Clancy orchard, west of Medford.

Dec. 12th, 2 p. m.—Don Clark orchard, 461 district.

Dec. 13th, 10 a. m.—Geo. Drummond orchard, 6 miles north and west of Gold Hill on Pacific highway.

YULE SPIRIT SEEN IN LOCAL POSTAL TRAFFIC INCREASE

That Christmas is fast approaching is not only evidenced by the holiday displays in the stores and show windows, and increasing purchase of Christmas presents in the stores, but is also reflected by the Christmas spirit already radiating, though faintly, from the Medford postoffice.

Although it is 18 days until Christmas day, letters to Santa Claus from the children are beginning to pile up at the postoffice, which are being forwarded to the bewhiskered old gentleman as fast as possible—a rather difficult matter at this time because of his gallivanting over the nation and world by airplane in attendance on formal Yuletide openings of the shopping season and stopping here and there to fix up a rickety chimney so that he can slide down it with his load on Christmas eve.

Then, too, Medford people are so impregnated with the knowledge that Christmas presents must be mailed early that a number of them have mailed their presents to eastern and other distant points the past two days, and the number of early senders is expected to increase daily until the peak is reached by December 15.

Again the people are warned that Christmas day falls on Wednesday and that the postoffices everywhere are closed all day the Sunday before, therefore the necessity of early sending in order to have Christmas parcels reach distant destinations in time to be delivered before Christmas day, as none will be delivered that day.

The incoming Christmas parcels will begin arriving next week, each bearing the caution, "Do not open until Christmas day."

BOX FACTORY INSTALLS SYSTEM OF BLOW PIPES

MRS. HECKMAN OF CENTRAL PT. DIES FROM PNEUMONIA

Mrs. Sallie Messick Heckman, wife of Dr. W. H. Heckman, and well known resident of Medford and Central Point, died early this morning at the Community hospital as the result of pneumonia. Funeral services will be held at the Perl Funeral Home tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, with Rev. John Stille of Trail officiating, assisted by Rev. J. M. Johnson of Central Point. Entombment will take place in the Medford memorial mausoleum.

Mrs. Heckman was born at Bedford, Ind., March 5, 1869, and was aged 60 years, 9 months and 2 days. She was educated in the schools at Bedford. She met Dr. Heckman, and in September, 1897, they were married. In 1913 they came to Oregon and settled at Central Point where the doctor has had an extensive medical practice.

She will be remembered as a woman of fine character, a splendid neighbor, and had many friends who will grieve her passing. She was a member of the Woman's Relief Corps of Central Point and a member of the Sorosis club of Bedford, Ind. She was also a member of the Methodist Episcopal church.

To mourn her loss she leaves a husband, Dr. Heckman, well known southern Oregon physician; one son, William Heckman, of Modoc Point; and three daughters—Mrs. Caroline Weaver of Medford, Mrs. Christina Swigert of Portland and Annette Heckman of Hilo, T. H.
