ROW OVER STRAY COWS

Mrs. Gallagher Charges That Bovines Had Become a Nuisance by Invading Lawns and Gardens of Neighbors.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., March 28.—(Special.)—Mrs. Anna Gallagher was arrested this afternoon upon a complaint sworn to by W. H. Zellers, a Methodist minister, charging her with an attempt to assault him. In making the complaint Zellers said that the woman had driven two of his cows into a pen last Monday and refused to let him have them until he paid certain stipulated charges, and beat him away from the corral with rocks. Mrs. Gallagher, when arrested, said:

"We, as well as all our neighbors, have been bothered for a year by Zellers' six cows invading our yards, lawns and gardens, and I secured legal advice in regard to a recent state law covering the matter, and at the first opportunity I took two of the cows up as strays. Zellers tried to run a bluff on me by stating that he is a lawyer as well as a preacher, and started to come through the fence to turn the cows out of the corral, when I let him have it with a piece of coal. He dodged back and made another start when I saw him with it again. The preacher paid the charges on the cows today and took them home, but not before he swore to a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Gallagher.

WILL ASK FOR THE CONVENTION

Republican Chairman Davis Says Tacoma Has a Show.

TACOMA, Wash., March 28.—(Special.)—"If Tacoma wants the next Republican convention, I shall do anything I can to secure it," declares James H. Davis, State Commissioner from Pierce County. "I have been quoted as saying that Tacoma did not want it. Well, that's about half true. But if that is not the case and Tacoma really wants the meeting I'll do all that I can to obtain it. I'll present the city's invitation to the committee and I'll work hard for victory. In discussing the question of basis for apportioning the delegates, Mr. Davis insists that the plan to use the vote for Governor is not an administration measure at all. He said: "I have never talked to the Governor about it, nor have I ever discussed the matter with any administration official. I have written to Representative Cushman to ask his views of the question and shall do what he desires."

CAPTIVE BIRDS UNPROTECTED

Pheasants Can Be Raised and Sold in State of Washington.

OLYMPIA, Wash., March 28.—(Special.)—Attorney-General Atkinson today gave State Auditor Chapman an opinion on the matter of raising and selling pheasants in which it is held that if game birds are raised in captivity they may be marketed without conflict with the close season statutes of the state. The opinion is given in response to an inquiry addressed to the auditor by Charles A. Kinnear, of Seattle, who states that Seattle people are considering the plan of engaging in the business of raising certain kinds of pheasants and other game birds for their plumage, for sale on the market. The auditor's opinion says investigation shows that the business will be a most profitable one if the products of these game-bird farms can be disposed of in the open market.

FREIGHT TRAIN RUNS AWAY

Wrecking Engine in the Way at Tacoma Is Wrecked.

TACOMA, Wash., March 28.—(Special.)—This afternoon a long freight train coming into the city from the south ran away and was wrecked on the narrow crossing Fifteenth street. The cars wrecked the watchman's shanty at the end of the bridge, and the watchman had a narrow escape. Engineer Eddy and the fireman of the runaway jumped from their engine at about Twenty-fifth street. The train started at the brewery, where a wrecking engine was at work. The latter tried to get the runaway under control, but the runaway struck the engine and the bridge, and the crash could be heard for squares. The engine turned turtle on the bridge. Trains will go out over a cutoff.

EDNA HOPPER OUT OF IT

Dunsmuir Estate to Be Distributed According to the Will.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—The Supreme Court has rendered what practically is a final decision in the celebrated Dunsmuir estate case, has granted the Superior Court, which prevented the distribution of the estate of $10,000,000 Alexander Dunsmuir, is annulled and the probate of the will, which left the bulk of the property to his brother, James Dunsmuir, will now be completed. Under this latest decision of the Supreme Court Mrs. Edna Wallace Hopper and other claimants will not receive the share of the estate for which they have contended.

DEMAND FOR SWAMP LAND

Land Board Will Sell Tract to the Highest Bidder.

SALEM, Or., March 28.—(Special.)—Several applications having been filed for the purchase of a tract of 1500 acres of swamp land on the northwest corner of Harney Lake, the State Land Board today issued an order directing that the land be sold to the highest bidder, the bid to be submitted under seal by May 8, when the Board will hold its next meeting. The usual price of swamp land is $1 an acre, but there being a demand for this tract, it is probable that a considerably higher price will be secured by competitive bidding. The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

DEAD OF THE NORTHWEST

J. H. Goodman. EUGENE, Or., March 28.—(Special.)—J. H. Goodman, a well-known Oregon pioneer and a long-time resident of Eugene, died at his home last night of paralysis. Mr. Goodman had been ill for a long time. J. H. Goodman was born in Marion County, Kentucky, May 14, 1825, and in the Fall of 1852 moved with his parents to Missouri, settling in Cooper County, where he grew to manhood. August 29, 1842, he was married to Mary Locker, who survives him. He emigrated to Oregon with his family in 1852, stopping in Marion County, in the forks of the Santiam, residing there until the Fall of 1854, then removing to Benton County and settling in the Belknap settlement west of Monroe. In October, 1854, he removed to Lane County, where he had resided until his death. At the age of 17 he was converted and united with the Baptist Church. He was the father of 12 children—six boys and six girls. Of these only five are now living. They are: A. J. Goodman, of Pendleton; Mary Rust, of Eugene; W. R. Goodman, of Lowell; Julia A. Day, of Eugene, and Frank E. Goodman, of Portland.

TACOMA, Wash., March 28.—Byron Barrett, of Butte, Mont., was struck by an Interurban train last night at Milton, near Tacoma, and died in a hospital here a few hours later without regaining consciousness. He was well known among turfmen.

COTTAGE GROVE PLANT SOLD

HEAVY MACHINERY WILL AT ONCE BE INSTALLED.

Rumor That Electric Line Will Be Built to Connect With Eugene.

COTTAGE GROVE, Or., March 28.—(Special.)—The sale of the Cottage Grove electric light plant to the Lane County Electric Company was consummated today, Russell Welch, of Salem, was placed in charge. The new company is shipping in heavy machinery. It is rumored the company will use a portion of the power generated on an electric road between Cottage Grove and Eugene. With the present capacity the plant is able to supply 400 more lights, and the company seems to be in considerable of a hurry for the installation of this heavy machinery.

BATTERED BODY IN THE RIVER

British Columbian Is Supposed to Have Fallen From Train.

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 28.—(Special.)—The battered body of R. A. MacDonald, of Agassiz, was found at Boston bar on the Fraser River yesterday. MacDonald left Agassiz, B. C., March 19, intending to go by train to Nelson. At the point where the remains were found there is a sheer drop of 150 feet from the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's tracks to the bed of the river, and it is supposed that MacDonald fell from the moving train into the gorge below.

How to Deal With Gould in South and Hill in North Will Be the Most Important Question of the Conference.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—(Special.)

General Manager E. E. Calvin, of the Southern Pacific, has left for New Orleans to attend the meeting of the general managers of the various lines of the important one of the different general managers meet and discuss policy and also the common interests of the connecting roads. Kruttschnitt will preside at the deliberations of the convention and it is expected that after the conference is over he will come West on his annual inspection trip by the Southern route. The officials that will attend the convention from this city are: E. E. Calvin, W. W. Slattery, signal engineer; J. H. Wallace and J. D. Isaacs, of the engineering department. W. H. Bancroft, of the Oregon Short Line, will meet Calvin today in Los Angeles and they will journey together to New Orleans. A. J. L. Williams, of the Union Pacific, has already started for the Crescent City, and so has J. P. O'Brien, of the O. R. & N. Co. T. Fay, the general manager of the line in Texas, will also attend the meeting. The convention will be one of the most important that has been held for several years, as there are two general managers who are facing the advance of two competing lines within their territory. The encroachments of the Hill combine in the North and the Goulds in the South will be the two most important matters to come before the conference. A general policy with which to combat these new forces will be formed.

Laborers for North Bank Road.

VANCOUVER, Wash., March 28.—(Special.)—About 150 railroad laborers, most of whom were Italians, arrived at Vancouver last night and were sent up the river this morning as far as Cape Horn, where they will be put at work on the construction gangs. Mr. Fellberg, a representative of one of the large contracting firms, said last night that there were on an average of about 75 men shipped daily to the camps, and that most of them were sent direct from the East. Many steam shovels are working up the river and almost every day new work comes here to be forwarded to the works. Last week there were two small locomotives sent through for service near the Cape Horn tunnel.

Hill-Harriman Fight in Court.

SEATTLE, March 28.—The Hill-Harriman fight for the control of the Columbia River Valley route to Portland was brought to the United States District Court here in the filing of a complaint of trespass and usurpation and a petition for restraining orders by the Columbia Valley Railroad against the Portland & Seattle Railway, the Harriman and Hill interests respectively. The Hill road is building into Portland on the north bank of the Columbia River over the right of way surveyed in 1859 by the plaintiff road.

Suit for Right of Way.

VANCOUVER, Wash., March 28.—(Special.)—The Portland & Seattle Railroad Company filed another suit today for condemnation of right of way against John W. Steadman and Jane Doe Steadman. This is the first suit filed in the Superior Court here in some time, and most of the cases formerly filed have been dismissed, having been settled out of court.
