START PREPARING ELECTION BALLOT OF GREAT LENGTH

Preparation of Jackson county ballots for the general election, November 8, was underway today in the county clerk's office. The ballot will contain the names of 108 candidates of the city, county, state and nation, 13 initiative measures, and two stock restriction measures, one for the Rogue River district and the other for the Eagle Point section. The stock measures are intended to prohibit running of stock in territory adjacent to the Pacific highway, north, and the Crater lake highway, in the Reese Creek district. Both were sources of complaint by motorists last spring.

Notices of the holding of the general election, November 8, will be mailed today and tomorrow and will be posted on the voting places, in accordance with Oregon law.

Registrations continued heavy today, close to 300 new registration cards were received yesterday. Heavy registration is anticipated in the time remaining before the registration books are closed Saturday, at the close of the day's business at 5:00 o'clock. The registration will be the heaviest in the history of the county and will pass the 18,000 mark.

Cards received yesterday showed that the registration was running about six Republicans to every four Democrats, and two miscellaneous, in every 12 cards.

Devil's Advocate Slows Sainthood For Don Bosco

VATICAN CITY—(AP)—The process for the canonization of the Blessed Don Bosco, founder of the Salesian order, which has scores of chapters in South America and some in the United States, has suddenly met with difficulties.

These are due to the fact that the "devil's advocate" has thrown doubt on the authenticity of one of the miracles supposed to have been worked through intercession of the Torinese monk who was beautified three years ago.

The "devil's advocate" (this is his true title) is an ecclesiastic whose duty it is to attack the proofs advanced by the persons who support a beatification or canonization.
