AIR SERVICE TO KLAMATH FALLS STARTS MONDAY

will be maintained, is making plans for extensive improvements to its airport for accommodation of the new service as the lumber capital has long been anxious for inclusion on an air line. The present hookup will give them easy connection with the main line airway, north and south, through Medford.

Lakeview is also planning good accommodations for the air service, according to Randall.

Region Investigated

The Oregon Air Service, Randall said, is made up of Westwood, Cal., men, several of whom plan to come to this region as soon as the new service requires their presence. Following completion of California forest fire patrol duty last summer, the company began searching for suitable territory in which to inaugurate air passenger service. After exhaustive surveys of much coast terrain, it was decided that the Medford-Klamath Falls-Lakeview route offered the best inducements, not only for present patronage, but future expansion.

Tom Culbertson, superintendent of the Medford airport, will act as ticket agent and local representative of the Oregon Air Service here.

LABOR PLEDGES AID TO SCHOOLS IN FUND CRISIS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor today pledged itself "to the defense of the public schools system of America."

It approved a resolution to this effect after a report by Florence Curtis Hanson of Chicago, secretary of the committee on education.

"We are facing the passing of the public schools—in fact, the public schools have passed in many parts of the country," Miss Hanson told the convention.

She described economies which she said had cut off school funds, curtailed educational activities, trimmed school teachers' salaries and cut the sale of textbooks.

The committee's report said 2000 rural schools in 24 states failed to reopen in 1933 and nearly 1,000,000 children in the rural states went to school less than six months during 1934.
