LEGION WORKERS PLAN ELABORATE ARMISTICE FETE

One of the most elaborate patriotic celebrations to be held in this section of the coast for several years is anticipated when the 20th anniversary of Armistice Day is celebrated in Medford Friday, November 11. Numerous committees of Medford Post No. 15 of the American Legion have been working hard for several weeks to prepare a program of entertaining events for the big day and arrangements are now nearing completion, according to George Gates, general chairman.

The schedule of attractions already provided for includes: Armistice salute, at 11 a.m., followed by annual patriotic parade with several bands and drum corps to provide martial music; free dutch lunch at noon for all veterans; stag party at the dugout, with free entertainment; special programs at all local theaters; big football game between Medford and Weed high schools, and the crowning event of the day, the annual Armistice Ball at the Oriental Gardens.

Archie Legg and his popular recording dance band of 13 pieces will provide the music and there will be several specialty numbers by talented entertainers during the evening.

Special Legion scrip issued in convenient denominations will be accepted at face value at all attractions.

In speaking of the 1938 celebration, Post Commander R. R. Ebel declared "This year as World War veterans celebrate the 20th anniversary of the Armistice they will be entering upon the American Legion's twentieth year of service for enduring peace. All will go forward in the knowledge of their contribution to Americanism.

"As commander of Medford post No. 15 of the American Legion, I wish to invite all citizens of southern Oregon and northern California to join with the World War veterans in celebrating Armistice Day in Medford on Friday, November 11."

Against Her Duty

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP)—"Aunt Lucy" Ratcliff has spent her 66 years within a few miles of her home near Maytown, Ky., because she says, traveling is expensive and "I feel it's against my duty." She said she once boarded a river boat but got off after deciding the trip would cost too much.

Statistics show that 85 percent of the children in reform schools never attended Sunday school.

ACCEPT BID FOR HOSPITAL WING

GRANTS PASS, Nov. 4.—(Spl)—A bid of $24,936.48 by J. A. Varner and Sons of Williams for constructing and equipping a new wing to Josephine General hospital has been accepted by the county court. Varner was contractor for the original building.

The sum was $1,243.52 less than the $26,180 bid submitted by the Snook Brothers of Eugene.

Construction will be started as soon as the PWA places its approval on public liability and property damage insurance taken out by the contractors.

E. L. McNeil of Ashland made a lower general base bid, $23,750.

Other bids were: Sig Ash of Medford, $25,800; Snook Brothers of Eugene, $25,576; R. I. Stuart of Medford, $26,300.
