DOCTORS' AND NURSES' WORK

Splendid Record Made in San Francisco by Those From Oregon.

THEY ESTABLISH HOSPITAL.

Dr. K. A. J. Mackenzie Makes Report of Good Work Done—Dr. Kugel's Outburst Is Just an Hysterical Expression.

Dr. K. A. J. Mackenzie, who left Portland for San Francisco the day following the earthquake, in charge of the relief party of physicians and nurses sent out from this city, returned last night, and spoke in high praise of the work that has been done by Oregonians in the stricken city. He is inclined to overlook the action of Dr. H. Kugel, of San Francisco, who presented to the doctors of the Bay City resolutions requesting the Oregon physicians to return home, which were subsequently tabled.

This incident should not be taken too seriously," he said. "Everybody in San Francisco is still hysterical and nervous. There is no composure and no peace and incidents of this kind are therefore easily explained. The rank and file of the profession in San Francisco are very grateful for the help that was brought them, especially from Oregon. The best elements, I know, feel profoundly grateful and at the proper time will express their appreciation."

Will Make Complete Report.
Dr. Mackenzie will make a complete report of the work of the Oregon relief committee at the Chamber of Commerce this morning. In his report he will express the appreciation for the part the ladies of Portland took in beginning the movement to send a relief expedition and the promptness with which the doctors and nurses of the city responded to the call made through him. He will trace the movements of the Oregon party from the time it left Portland, and will speak of the kind services of the members by Governor Pardee, Mayor Schmitz and the people of San Francisco. The portion of his report dealing with the work of the Oregon physicians and the present conditions in San Francisco follows:

"The physicians of the party received orders to report at different districts of the Presidio military reservation. Dr. Swenson, Spencer, Gavey, Coffman, Bildback, Hickman and Norris reported to Captain Rand, who had charge of the East Cantonment Hospital. They received instructions and at first their work was that of sanitary inspectors.

Had Authority to Impress.
"Each one had authority to impress the services of any person, and they superintended in this manner the digging of trenches and the construction of latrines, and observed the order and cleanliness were maintained in their tent camps. They also conducted a relief station and visited the sick and gave a dispensary service. Their work was of a most valuable character. Captain Rand has many times spoken of it to me in the most approving terms.

Fine Hospital Organization.
"Although a full report will be given of the work of the hospital corps of the O. N. G., it will not be out of place to say at this time that under Major Sternberg, Captain Carr and Captain Wright a very remarkable hospital organization was effected almost in a single day which enabled this body of young and energetic men to convert a schoolhouse, the Williamson Technical School, at the Potrero, into a busy, modern hospital where they were enabled to give outdoor relief to an average of 100 patients a day and at the same time receiving in well-equipped wards about 100 cases, a feat of hospital management to which it will be difficult to find a parallel. Colonel Torney detailed for Monday following the earthquake to take charge of the United States Army Hospital, which was designated by him as the receiving hospital for all contagious diseases in the City of San Francisco except smallpox. The place was formerly a pleasure resort, with bathhouses, pavilions for dancing etc. The grounds are surrounded by high fences and divided into rectangular spaces by cypress hedges, 12 to 15 feet high, affording shelter against the biting winds of the bay. The bathhouses, about 100 in number, were converted into little wards to receive children sick with diphtheria, scarlet fever, chickenpox, mumps and erysipelas. Each disease was isolated in a different bath pavilion.

Use Dancing Pavilion.
"The large dancing pavilion at the other end of the grounds and away from the bathhouses, was converted into a large hospital. It was partitioned by burping and unbleached muslin into six wards, each capable of containing 40 cases or 240 in all. Only cases of measles were received in this pavilion. On Saturday last I took the first steps to install a tent hospital in one of the large rectangular spaces to receive cases of typhoid fever, which are beginning thus early to appear.

No Disease Epidemic.
"At the present time there is no disease epidemic in San Francisco. Harbor View Sanatorium is a safe index of the epidemic pulse. Contagious diseases are not abnormal in number, but the conditions are at present highly favorable for their propagation and spread, and the numbers will increase steadily. The examination of the water of San Francisco demonstrates the presence of Colon bacillus and the bacillus of Eberth, which, of course, implies that the water supply has been infected by sewage. It is quite likely that the surface infection and contamination will affect the broken water mains for some time to come. The catastrophe of the fire would probably have been prevented had not the earthquake destroyed immediately the water supply, and the great fire chief.

"The reports of epidemics of smallpox and bubonic plague are false, misleading and malicious. It is the greatest outrage to perpetrate such wanton cruelty upon a people already afflicted beyond all human endurance."

MEETING OF CLUBS

All Republican Organizations Will Assemble.

PURPOSES OF THE CALL

More Perfect and Harmonious Organization, It Is Thought, Will Result From the Gathering Tomorrow Night.

With a view to forming a more perfect and harmoniously working organization of the Republicans of Multnomah County, a mass meeting of representatives of all the clubs will be held in the quarters of the Republican Club of Portland, in the Columbia building, tomorrow evening. This meeting was called after a conference between leading members of a number of the larger clubs of the county, in the last few years many clubs have been formed. Some of them discontinued their meetings and their existence is almost forgotten until some of the officers find occasion to call the members together. Republicans, after a lapse of considerable time without any meetings, forget to which of the many clubs they belong, and attendance dwindles. In some instances the officers constitute in reality the club and perform all the work.

Will Remove Difficulties.
It is chiefly to remove these difficulties that the present organization has been called. Some time ago it was asserted by the president of one of the clubs that vague charges of grafting have been circulated, which to the injury of Republican workers, the story that was circulated was that the officers of one of the clubs tried to extort a payment of money from candidates in consideration of money from candidates for club nomination. Whether these stories were true or not, was not asserted, but the gentlemen who called attention to them said that the prevalence of these reports made it necessary that united action be taken to prevent such practices and relieve the clubs from the suspicion which may rest upon them. Men do not always distinguish the names of clubs and an evil reputation gained by one club must be borne in some degree by others. The meeting of representatives of all the clubs is therefore expected to result either in consolidation or some form of concerted action which will keep all the clubs alive that are working faithfully for the good of the party and devise some means of putting an end to any that may be carried on for purposes of graft.

Call for the Meeting.
The call for the meeting was issued by Charles E. Lockwood, secretary of the Republican Club of Portland, in a letter which follows:
"At a meeting of the executive board of the Republican Club of Portland, Or., held last Wednesday evening, report of the committee of said club on reorganization was considered, and I was directed to invite you, together with the other prominent Republican clubs in this county, to join in the consolidation of all such clubs into one organization.
"I therefore extend to your organization such invitation and suggest that you appoint a committee of five to meet with a like committee of other general organizations, Wednesday evening, May 9, at 8 o'clock, at the headquarters of the Republican Club, 215 Columbia building, to carry out the above-named consolidation."

Will Open State Campaign.
The Republican state campaign will be opened at Corvallis tonight, and will be followed tomorrow evening with a rally at Salem. The Salem meeting promises to be no less enthusiastic than that at Corvallis, the hour of the Republican nominee for Governor. Set-together spirit, as indicated by the fact that ex-Governor Geer, the leading opponent of William G. Cullen for the nomination, will preside at the meeting and deliver an address. Geer will make a number of addresses in this campaign. The third important rally of the campaign will be held at Oregon City on Thursday evening, when nearly all the Republican candidates will be present and speak. Walter L. Toomey of Woodburn, will be the principal speaker, in addition to the candidates. Dr. Withcombe will be at both the Salem and the Oregon City meetings.
