Borrower Fined $10

Yuma, Ariz. (U.P.)—Here's what comes of borrowing a friend's fishing license: An unnamed Yuman paid a $10 fine when he was caught red-handed using a friend's fishing permit. The reason he was apprehended? The game warden who collared the culprit happened to be a friend of the absent licensee.

Pet Show

Nampa, Idaho (U.P.)—At the annual pet show of the Nampa Boy Scouts, one of them presented his little brother. He said the youngster was the only "pet" the family had.

Found Far Inland

McAlester, Okla. (U.P.)—A 6-foot alligator was captured in a flower garden at McAlester. And that's something because McAlester is far inland from the haunts of alligators. Local experts theorized the 'gator had been living in an abandoned coal mine partly filled with water.

Transplanted By Plane

Cheyenne, Wyo. (U.P.)—Fish dropped from the sky in Wyoming. But it wasn't a miracle, the state game and fish department explains. It was simply the tryout of a new method of stocking high and almost inaccessible mountain lakes with fish. They were dropped from a low-flying airplane.

The Fireman Blushed

Great Falls, Mont. (U.P.)—Sometimes it is not the heat of the blaze that makes a fireman's face red. The other day, firemen were called to a local hotel to extinguish a burning mattress and pillow. On the bed was a woman, in night attire. The firmen blushed, sprinkled water on the bed and left.

Identification By Sound

London (U.P.)—A woman, giving evidence at North London police court said: "I told her husband that his wife had hit me without saying anything. He said, 'Never, Madam. If she didn't say anything, she wasn't my wife. She always has a lot to say. Always'."

FOURTH SPRAY IS DUE BY JULY 12

The fourth cover spray for control of codling moth on apples and pears should be completed on July 12, according to L. G. Gentner, Southern Oregon Experiment Station entomologist and C. B. Cordy, assistant county agent.

They advise use of one-fourth pound of dry deposit builder, three pounds of arsenate of lead and one quart of kerosene per 100 gallons, added to partly filled tank in order listed. Stove oil may be substituted for kerosene on Bartlett, Bosc and Nellis.

If rust mites are present on pears, growers are advised to use three pounds of arsenate of lead, one-fourth pound of spreader and one and one-fourth gallons of medium or light medium summer oil emulsion. If a 98% emulsible oil is used in the place of the emulsion, use one and one-fourth gallons of light medium or light.

U. S. Buddhists

Honolulu—(AP)—Since it was introduced in Hawaii 50 years ago, Buddhism has obtained 49,713 adherents, says Kenju Ohtomo of the Young Men's Buddhist association. Its membership represents about 35 per cent of this territory's Japanese population.

Leave Greek Plea

El Paso, Tex. (U.P.)—Burglars broke into the offices of an El Paso coal company, broke the knob off a safe and took $30 in cash, leaving a note that said, "You have contributed to the Greek cause." But the Greek war aid committee isn't expecting the $30.

Ready For Winter

Richmond, Va. (AP)—During a recent heat wave, E. C. Barrett, Jr., reported to police, someone broke into a storage locker on North Plum street and stole an electric fan—and a pair of ice skates.

Rattle

Oroville, Cal. (U.P.)—Dr. C. B. Grigg's new automobile seemed perfect except for a mysterious rattle. Mechanics psychoanalyzed it, then, some one had a dream, looked under the seat and took out a Flint, Mich., milk bottle. The rattle ceased.

Thieves Home-Like

Dallas, Tex. (U.P.)—Thieves in this section of the state seem to be getting domestic in their inclinations. Three throw rugs, one white linen cloth and one walnut tier cabinet were stolen from a house.

A coffee percolator is as essential as a typewriter in many Brazilian business offices. Brazilians drink the beverage several times a day.

Army Site Supervisors Have Perplexing Job

Camp Beauregard, La. (U.P.)—Maj. Val Irion and Col. R. B. Cole are almost sorry they ever accepted the job of supervising sites for army war games in this area.

Ever since they began acquisition of a 23,000-square-mile area for maneuvers they have been flooded with serio-comic letters which have appeared a bit perplexing at times.

Most landowners when returning their signed maneuver agreements included a personal letter to Maj. Irion or Col. Cole. Most letters were highly patriotic.

One owner, who generously offered his lands "to his country," in certifying the authenticity of his ownership declared: "This land of mine was never sold. I never did sign any papers for it. I just took it over when my father was chased from the place."

Another wrote, "I have bought the land but cannot pay for it. It is on my person but you are got the privilege from me."

Two farmers in central Louisiana illustrated the extreme popular points of view regarding the national defense program with the following message: "This place is for rent. Just enclose a check and the land is yours," and "you can dig it up or blow it up. I don't care. You got to have the land to do your job."

Interest in the health of the community and the army was evidenced by a feminine landowner in Sabine parish when she stated that "army trucks injure our health from stirring up so much dust on this gravel highway we locate on. No damage ask though. Just black top or do something about the road. Not later. Right now. Think of these poor boys living for miles of suffocating air."

A number of writers were aged men and women who declared they wish they were young again so they "could shoulder a gun" for their country.
