MADE A STORM — Dr. Irving Langmuir, Nobel prize-winning scientist, told the American Meteorological Society in New York that a man-made rainstorm in New Mexico on July 21, 1949, produced 320 billion gallons of water —more than all the water in New York city's reservoirs—by a technique of bombarding the right type clouds with silver iodine. The chemicals for the New Mexico storm cost $20.

Wilbur J. Ruth Dies At Local Hospital

Wilbur J. Ruth, 54, a resident of this community for nine years, passed away at a local hospital Saturday morning. Mr Ruth was born in Missouri on Feb. 13, 1904.

He was employed by Donald Drake & Co. and had been working on the new school building in Ashland. He was a member of local union No. 1400, AFL, of which he was vice-president. The family home is at 321 Ashland avenue, Medford.

He was united in marriage to Miss Alice Roberts on March 12, 1927, at Thomas, Okla. Besides his wife, he is survived by two sons, Ted and Bob, and one daughter, Helen, all at home; his father, Owen, Thomas, Okla.; two brothers, Marion of Warsaw, Miss., and Owen of Kansas City, Kan.; two sisters, Mrs. Anna Sink of Branscomb, Cal., and Mrs. Jane Stephenson of Medford, and one grandson, David, Medford.

Funeral services wil be conducted from the Perl funeral home chapel Tuesday at 2 p. m., with the Rev. G. O. Baker, pastor of the Assembly of God church, officiating.

Pallbearers from the local union No. 1400 will be Max Hawks, W. A. Gifford, Bob Peebles, John Purdue, Jim Purdue and Clyde Butler.

Interment will take place in Siskiyou Memorial Park.

Kiwanis Committees Slate Monday Meet

General committee members from both Ashland and Medford for the second annual Kiwanis Kapers and Minstrel show will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday, January 30, at the senior high school cafeteria to discuss plans for the show, according to General Chairman Robert Voegtly.

He stated that the director from Geller productions, Hollywood, Cal., will be present. The director is arriving a week earlier than originally announced. Voegtly said that a public talent party to recruit performers for the event is tentatively set for Wednesday evening at the cafeteria.

Medford and Ashland Kiwanis clubs are jointly sponsoring the all-local talent production. Presentations will be February 20 and 21 at Ashland and February 24 and 25 at Medford.

The season duck limit in Newfoundland is 150; daily limit seven.

Coast Lumbermen Choose Officers Portland Meeting

Portland, Ore., Jan. 28—(U.P.) D. W. Gossard, Enumclaw, Wash., has been re-elected president of the West Coast Lumbermen's association.

Gossard told the final meeting of the association's 39th convention here that the association has been increasingly successful in its lumber-selling program.

These gains, he said, were the result of an "intelligently planned, carefully conceived and loyally executed promotion."

Gossard said that WCLA production and order files had hit a 20-year high in 1949 and that lumber production nationally had dipped approximately 5,000,000,000 feet from the 1948 total.

Medfordite Elected

Other officers elected were Judd Greenman, Vernonia, and G. E. Karlen, Tacoma, vice-presidents; Frank A. Graham, Jasper, treasurer; W. B. Greeley, Seattle, vice-president; H. V. Simpson, Portland, executive vice-president, and Harris E. Smith, Portland, secretary.

New district directors elected were Leo U. Hammerschmith, Port Gable, Wash.; R. M. Ingram, Aberdeen, Wash.; G. A. Kingsley, Portland; Henry Jacobson, Roseburg; Al Pierce, Coos Bay, and B. L. Nutting, Medford.

Physician Joins Medford Clinic

The Medford Clinic in the Medical Center building has increased its staff of physicians to five with the recent addition of Dr. William E. Jones, it was announced yesterday.

Dr. Jones is a graduate of the University of Oregon medical school and spent his internship at the University of Wisconsin General hospital, where he was appointed resident physician for the department of internal medicine. After wartime service in the south Pacific, he returned to Wisconsin to complete his training, later accepting a position on the staff of the Firland sanatorium before coming to Medford to be associated with the Medford clinic. He is specializing in diagnosis and internal medicine here.

Dr. Jones joins a staff already composed of Dr. Robert Sleeter, obstetrics and gynecology; Dr. Reinhold Kanzler, general surgery; Dr. Richard Sleeter, pediatrics, and Dr. O. T. Heyerman, internal medicine and diagnosis.

The technical staff includes Miss Hildegarde Baker, clinical laboratory work, and Russell Budreau, x-ray technician.

World's Industrial Fair Eyed In State

Portland, Ore., Jan. 28—(U.P.) A committee will be named to consider staging a world's industrial fair in Portland in 1954-55, Edgar W. Smith, president of the Portland Chamber of Commerce said today.

Smith said the 1954-55 dates would coincide with the completion of several dams in the Columbia basin, principally McNary, Detroit and possibly Meridian and Chief Joseph.

"With the completion of these projects we will still have tapped only 16 per cent of the hydro-electric potential of our great river systems," Smith said.

"It may well be that such a fair, aimed at showing the great industrial potential of this region, could be of great assistance in our efforts to attract greater industrialization."

$45,000 FIRE REPORTED

Eugene, Ore., Jan. 28—(U.P.)—Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the $45,000 Swansons farm-home store at the junction of the Pacific highway and the McKenzie pass highway. Fire Chief Ed Surfus said today.

Child Evangelism Class To Open In Gold Hill Feb. 1

Gold Hill, Jan. 28—The first child evangelism course in Gold Hill will begin classes Wednesday, February 1, in the home of Mrs. R. A. Todd, 584 Fifth avenue. Mrs. William Armstrong will be teacher.

The classes will be given under release time with the cooperation of Gold Hill schools as provided by Oregon law, it is stated. First and second grades will attend from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m., and third, fourth and fifth grade pupils from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m. Mrs. Todd's home is near the school.

Those in charge state that an "overwhelming" response was received when the classes were announced and that almost 50 per cent of the pupils in the indicated grades are enrolled for the classes. They will continue each Wednesday afternoon.

The course was arranged by Mrs. George Bailey, Medford, county child evangelism director. Any parents interested in sending their children are asked to phone Mrs. Todd, 833, Gold Hill.

Cement Plant Closes Down Temporarily

Gold Hill, Jan. 28—The Beaver plant of the Pacific Portland Cement company has suspended operations here temporarily due to bad weather conditions and lack of a market for cement products, it was learned today.

Officials said the shutdown would throw a small percentage of employees out of work and that repairs and installation of a dust collector would be completed while the plant is down. Operations are expected to resume within a few weeks.

The Marble Mountain lime quarry in the Siskiyous has also been closed.

Coos Bay Gets Water Through New Pipeline

Coos Bay, Ore., Jan. 28—(U.P.) An emergency pipeline today restored water service to Coos Bay and North Bend following breakdown of storage reservoir facilities.

Both cities were deprived of water service for several hours yesterday when a section of the reservoir collapsed under impact of heavy rains, damaging the pipe line.
