HERMIT IS BURNED

William Coy Drags Blistered Body From Blazing Cabin.

DIES AT NEIGHBOR'S HOME

Some of Buried Wealth of Old Bachelor Englishman, Living in the Coast Range, Is Found by Party of Scarchers.

ALBANY, Or., May 15.—(Special.)— Burned in a lonely log cabin in the foot-fills of Linn County so that he soon died was the fate of William Coy, a bachelor, some 65 or 70 years old. The accident happened last Wednesday, when the old contemp was us his antitave abode, a gentleman was at his solitary abode, a log cabin on the hills that surround Fox Valley, a rich farming spot well up in the mountains of the eastern part of Liun County, on the line of the Corvallis & Eastern Halfroad. News of the affair just reached Albany today, when one of the old bachelor's neighbors. H. F. Rodeker, came down to inform the County

Details of the tragedy are meager, for Mr. Coy lived entirely alone in his moun-tain cabin. He had, however, been able to get his trunk and some clothes from the cabin, which was burned to the ground, for these things were found on the outside by neighbors who ecarched the premises. He had been able to re-move from his body the clothes he work during the fire and encased his badly burned body in a change of raiment. After the fire Coy started for the home of G. F. Johnson, about a mile distant, and died soon after reaching there. The burns were serious and the victim's age and infirmity made it impossible for him

About $30 were found in Coy's trunk, but the neighbors, knowing his habits of thriftiness and frugality, made a search of the premises for more wealth. One of the premies for more wealth. One of the party, while probing in the ground with an old scythe, ran upon a jar containing $480 in gold coin. It is thought that further search will uncover more wealth, as Coy was somewhat of a miser and made considerable money during the years he lived the life of a hormit.

Coy was an Englishman. He came to this country about the year 1889, and soon thereafter located on the hills back of Pox Valley on a homestead. He spent existence in his log cabin home and was

Captain Snow immediately stopped the steamer and the strong flood tide soon carried her back to the scene of the accident, where the anchor was dropped. In the meantime a small boat was lowered, but no trace of the men or their boat was found, although the net was sighted and turned over to another fishing boat that was in the to another fishing boat that was in the

About 4 o'clock, or nearly an hour after the accident, Louis Williamson and Chris Larson, who were making a drift through the channel discovered a fishing boat swamped and with a man clinging to it. The man proved to be Hondrick Homas, who said his brother had been drowned through their boat being run down by a steamer, which he thought was the Samson. He ac-knowledged that both he and his brother were asleep at the time, and they had no light on their boat.

SHEEPHERDER WAS DEMENTED

Why He Did Not Throw Up His Hands When Taken for Murderer.

PENDLETON, Or., May 15,—(Special.)— No new developments have been added to the mystery surrounding the story of the burned car and man at Foster yesterday. William Wilson, the soldier who was in charge of the car, is now in the County Jail here. The body of John Connelly, the demented sheepherder, who was shot by mittake, is at a local undertaking establishment awaiting the discovery of

Until this stranger has been found, of antil Wilson is induced to talk, no one will know the real cause of the fire which cont the life of the unknown man, or who that man was. It may be that even then the information will be meager, as Wilson, at least, does not seem to be very saxious to talk or to tell the same story twice when be does. It has been found that Connelly was a demented sheepherder, and that he was not armed at the time of his death. His actions when accosted by the Sher iff's posse are responsible for his having been shot. Connelly was in Pendleton for some time, and while here showed that he was mentally unbalanced. He told several people here that he had a brother in Salem named Thomas Connelly, and that he had been a guard for President Rooseelt at the time he made his trip to the Pacific Coast some years ago. Inquiry, nowever, both at Salem and at Portland has failed to locate the brother

Some Owners Object to Buying Certificates, Alleging Their Machinery Is Safeguarded.

OLYMPIA, Wash., May 15 .- (Special.) State Labor Commissioner Hubbard today announced that he proposes to bring sev-eral suits in the near future to compel observance of the state factory inspection law. Factories and mills and machine shops have quite generally observed and submitted to inspection, but a large number of them have refused to pay the re-quired fee, and are, therefore, without the inspection certificate, which they can obtain only on payment of $10. The Labor Commissioner proposes to bring suit against all concerns subject to the law which are not provided with cer-dificates of inspection. Those who refuse to pay for the cerificates say they have omplied with the law by safeguarding their machinery, according to instructions of the inspectors, and allege the matter of purchasing certificates is optional on their part.

Labor Commissioer Hubbard estimates that about one-third of the factories and mills in the state are without certificates of inspection, and he proposes to institute a legal warfare against them as fast as the cases can be prepared for the courts

Entente Cordiale Between Gooding and Borah Has Had a Depressing Effect on the Aspirant's Budding Boom.

BOISE, Idaho, May 15.—(Special.)—Dr. Hugh France, of Weldner, left for his home today, after taking a look over the political situation here. He has frepolitical situation here. He has frequently been talked about as a candidate for Governor, and when a contest between Governor Gooding and W. E. Berah for control of the convention seemed probable, many friends of Boxah, who are also admirers of the doctor were looking to the inter as a probable candidate for Governor.

Since the tacit understanding arone some weeks ago to the effect that the Governor and Borah would not oppose each other's ambitions in any manner the situation has changed very materially. This development of the situation began after the publication of an interview with the Governor in a Northern paper, to the effect that, in addition to maintaining bis declared purpose not to oppose Borah's exadidacy, he would not oppose the plan of nonination of a candidate for Senator by the state convention.

What encouragement Dr. France with is not known. The situation is given especial interest because of the fact that, under ordinary conditions, Dr. France would command a large following in this part of the state, but many of his warm-est admirers feel that they are called upon to give the Governor their support because of the contest that is being made upon him by the apostles of disorder.

HIGHEST PRICES-EVER QUOTED WASHINGTON MILLS.

Saws Are Being Run to Full Capacity, and All Available Raw Product Is Contracted.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 15 .- (Special.) The Washington Logging & Brokerage Company has increased the price of all logs $1, sending No. 2 merchantable and hemiock to $7, dimension logs to $9.50 and flooring to $12. These are the highest prices ever quoted to the mills of this state. Increases al lowed laborers, a better price for stumpage and the danger of operation from forest fires are the principal causes of the increase.

The fact that all the mills are oper ating to capacity and unable to fill or-ders and that every available log has been contracted for affects the attitude of the loggers' combine. It is certain the loggers will go into the Winter senson, when many of them will be driven out of the foothills by snows, without a log on hand. When that time comes, prices will go far higher, for there should be a surplus on the Sound of not less than 130,000,000 feet.
