TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

THE following questions are submitted to the impartial registered voters of Jackson County regardless of their party affiliation:
1. Which group in the Rogue River Valley claims that they produce all of the worthwhile agricultural products? 2. Which group is it that claims that they represent all of the money in the valley? 3. Which group is it that admits that they are employing airplanes for the purpose of destroying hail? 4. Which group is it that is in reality actually destroying the rain in the valley? 5. Which group is it that controls all of the Medford papers to such an extent that all of the articles appearing in the papers appear in their favor and without any consideration for the stock farmers and the small dry land farmers and those who use the Granges and who produce all of the cattle in the Rogue River Valley? 6. Which group is it that controls all of the county agents who are employed and paid for by the tax-payers of the Rogue River Valley? 7. Which group is it that during the fall of 1951 caused all of the mills to close and threw the loggers out of work? 8. Which group is it that recently destroyed the cloud blanket over the valley, thereby causing one of the heaviest frosts that has ever occurred here, a frost that destroyed the tomato and the corn crops? If you know who these people are, get busy. Register now and vote for the initiative to stop cloud-seeding. Attend all of the meetings of the MOISTURE CONSERVATION LEAGUE. The next meeting will be held at the Missouri Flat Grange Hall, Thursday, June 19th, at 8:00 P.M. Signed Moisture Conservation League.

4-H Club News

Applegate Dairy Club

Applegate 4-H Dairy club held a tour on June 14. Other livestock clubs participated in the tour, which started at Francis Krouse's ranch.

Rufus Cate, county 4-H club agent, told us how to judge beef and weigh the members' steers there and at Gwen Krouse's, Anita Kubli's, and Charles Elmore's homes.

We judged a class of shorthorn heifers at Arion Christensen's ranch.

Next stop on the tour was the Glenn Smith ranch, where we judged a class of Guernsey cows.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Glenn Smith.

Sonja Smith, reporter.

When packing clothes, allow freshly pressed garments to hang overnight so they'll be completely dry and more wrinkle-resistant when packed. Before folding each garment, place a roll of tissue paper in each sleeve and on the inside of every fold. Use your shoes as containers for cosmetic bottles. (Be sure caps are tightly closed.) Wrap artificial flowers in tissue paper and pack inside your extra handbags.
