It's up to Don Newcombe and the embattled Dodgers to see today that Sal Maglie didn't pitch one of baseball's all-time masterpieces in vain.

Given a reprieve by the 39-year-old Maglie's 5-0, no-hit triumph, the Dodgers sent Newcombe against Robin Roberts and the Philadelphia Phillies today in an effort to sweep the two-game series and go back into a tie for the National League lead with the idle Milwaukee Braves. A loss would drop the Dodgers a full game behind the Braves with three games left for each.

Cincinnati, Ohio—(U.P.)—One thing the Braves and Dodgers do agree on—how the playoffs should be conducted, just in case this wild pennant race ends in a tie.

In the event of a Braves-Dodgers tie, the first game will be played in Brooklyn next Monday, Oct. 1; the second and third in Milwaukee Tuesday and Wednesday.

"That no-hitter won't be worth a nickel if we don't win Wednesday," said Jackie Robinson in the Dodger clubhouse Tuesday night. "But we can't let that happen. We've just got to go on now and take it all."

For Maglie, meanwhile, there was the honor of having pitched the most spectacular "clutch game" the majors had seen in 48 years. Not since Cleveland's Addie Joss pitched a perfect game against the White Sox in the decisive game of the 1908 American League pennant race had a pitcher turned in a no-hitter with so much riding on every delivery.

Spahn Bests Redlegs

It was a game the Dodgers had to win because Warren Spahn, another great old pro, had pitched the Braves to a 7-1 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs Tuesday afternoon. That victory all but mathematically eliminated the Redlegs from the race.

In this situation, the amazing Maglie — a one-time "Mexican jumper" and later the most famous "Dodger killer" of 'em all as a star pitcher with the hated Giants—achieved his finest hour. He walked only two batters and hit another in setting down the Phillies with a total of 110 pitches. It was his 12th victory since joining the Dodgers from the Indians on May 16.

Spahn's splendid effort enabled the 35-year-old Milwaukee southpaw to reach the 20-victory mark for the seventh time in his career—a feat which previously was attained by only Grover Cleveland Alexander, Christy Mathewson, Walter Johnson, Eddie Plank, Lefty Grove and Bob Lemon. Spahn yielded only six hits and one walk in chalking up the 203 win of his career.

Johnny Antonelli won his 19th game as the New York Giants routed the Pittsburgh Pirates, 10-0 and Don Kaiser pitched the Chicago Cubs to a 6-2 decision after the St. Louis Cardinals turned in a triple play en route to a 5-1 win behind Lindy McDaniel in other NL activity.

In the American League, the champion New York Yankees downed the Baltimore Orioles, 11-6, as Bill Skowron drove in five runs with a single and a double. Mickey Mantle appeared only as a pinch-hitter again and kept his average at .355—six points ahead of Boston's Ted Williams.

Early Wynn gained his 20th victory when Rocky Colavito's three-run 10th-inning homer gave the Cleveland Indians a 4-1 triumph over the Kansas City Athletics and Billy Hoeft notched No. 19 as the Detroit Tigers scored a 5-3 decision over the Chicago White Sox. Maxwell's 28th homer set a club record for a left-handed batter.

Williams knocked in four runs with his 24th homer and a bases-filled walk to lead the Red Sox to a 10-4 win over the Washington Senators in the other game. The loss was the Senators' 10th straight and 16th in 17 games.

Ring Magazine's Monthly Rankings Greatly Revised

New York — (U.P.) — Major shakeups in the welterweight and lightweight divisions marked the monthly boxing ratings announced today by the authoritative Ring magazine, one of the most drastically revised lists in recent months.

Carmen Basilio's recapture of the welter title, of course, headed the changes in the 147-pound class and made the onion farmer from Syracuse, N. Y., the "Boxer of the Month" for his technical knockout of Johnny Saxton.

Saxton's defeat dropped him all the way to the No. 2 rating in the division, with former champ Tony De Marco in the No. 1 slot. Art Aragon ascended from fifth to fourth on his kayo win over Cisco Andrade and Virgil Akins dropped from fourth to fifth on his loss to Charley Sawyer. The last four spots belanged to the same four men, but in a different order than last month.

Big Move

Among the lightweights, Larry Boardman of Marlboro, Conn., made the big move by his knockout of former champ Jimmy Carter, moving up to the No. 2 spot. Andrade, loser to Aragon, drops to Boardman's old No. 4 position. Carter tumbles from fifth to seventh while Kenny Lane and Ralph Dupas each move up one notch to fifth and sixth. Richie Howard of Canada moves into the top 10 in place of Teddy Davis, whom he defeated.

The major change in the heavyweight class sees Harold Carter moving up to No. 6 with his easy win over Johnny Summerlin, who drops from ninth to 10th. However, another change next month will be forced by tonight's clash in Pittsburgh between Tommy Jackson No. 3 and Bob Baker No. 5.

The only light-heavy change has Hans Stretch moving from No. 3 to No. 2 with his easy win over Randy Turpin. The middleweight class suffered a shakeup in the "second five" that dropped former champion Bobo Olson, soon to become a light-heavy, out of the top 10. Among the feathers, European champion Fred Galiana of Spain dropped from No. 2 to No. 6 by his third straight loss.

C. R. Roberts Heads Backs In Rushing

Los Angeles — (U.P.) — University of Southern California's fierce running fullback, C. R. Roberts, took top honors in individual statistics for the first week of play, the Pacific Coast Conference commissioner's office announced today.

The Trojan star led in rushing with 251 yards gained in his first outing in which he averaged 20.9 yards a carry against Texas. His sensational performance included touchdown runs of 73, 59 and 74 yards.

Luther Carr, Washington sophomore, was second in rushing with 99 yards and Oregon's Jack Morris was third with 84 yards. In total offense, Roberts leads with 251 yards ahead of Bob Newman, Washington State, with 197 yards.

Roberts also topped the scoring department with three touchdowns. Crodell Green and Mike McCluskey, both of Washington, Jim Shanley, Oregon, and Carl Isaacs, Stanford, each scored two touchdowns last week end.

Stanford's John Brodie completed 17 out of 24 passes to gain the passing lead in the conference. Tod Searle, Oregon State, and Ernie Zampese, Southern California, shared top punting honors, each with a 43-yard mark.

In team statistics, the Washington Huskies were the total offense leaders while Oregon boasted the best defense in opening games.

The Huskies made 430 yards rushing and 287 yards passing for a total of 613 yards. Southern California was second in rushing with 405 yards, and Oregon was third with 364.

Oregon gave up only 102 yards in total defense. UCLA limited its opponent to 168 and California gave up 274 yards.

Ninth Grade Elevens Vie This Friday

Junior High school football for Medford schools will open Friday afternoon when the ninth grade teams of Hedrick and McLoughlin collide.

Game time on the Hedrick turf will be 3:30 p.m. It will be the first game on th Hedrick field.

Coach Mel Boldenow of McLoughlin will send a club with a fair-sized line and with a fairly fast backfield up against a comparatively light Hornet gang.

Goldenow has 13 backs and 34 linemen fighting for the 11 starting positions. The Bulldogs have been concentrating for three weeks on fundamentals and plays. At Hedrick coach Barney Riggs also continues to give stress on fundamentals. This week's drills have been focused on ironing out rough spots.

Riggs reported that the Hornets have been showing "quite a bit of spirit and are pretty eager."

Woodward Rated Coach of Week

By ED FITE

Dallas, Tex. — (U.P.) — He spent three cents to get his job, the price of a postage stamp for his unsolicited application which he didn't even bother to send air mail.

"I think I would make you a pretty good coach," he said, adding casually, he had heard there was a vacancy.

They liked his simplicity and hired him when they checked up and found that "the guy never tells anything but the honest-to-gosh corn-fed Kansas truth."

Bob Baker, Jackson Vie This Evening

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer

Pittsburgh — (U.P.) — Freakish Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson and burly Bob Baker meet tonight at Forbes Field in a return 12-round fight designed to produce a 1957 heavyweight challenger.

The promoters hope for 10,000 fans and a gate of $55,000 despite a boycott by the Teamsters' union.

Big Bob of Pittsburgh, the target of the union's ire, is favored at 8-5 although he lost a disputed decision to lanky Jackson of Far Rockaway, N. Y., at Madison Square Garden last Feb. 3.

Contrasting with the odds, today's ring ratings show Jackson ranked third among contenders; Baker fifth.

Tonight's winner is expected to challenge next year against the victor of the nearly closed December fight between Archie Moore and Floyd Patterson for the vacant crown.

The Teamsters' union accuses Baker of driving a truck during a Pittsburgh department store strike three years ago. However, the union's action against Baker has been limited to a mail boycott at the earnest request of Mayor David Lawrence. The mayor pointed out that 10 per cent of the gross gate tonight would be given to the Pittsburgh Olympic committee by the Dapper Dan club, which is co-promoting with Ben Anolik of Pittsburgh.

Meanwhile Baker claimed the truck-driving incident was a case of mistaken identity.

Tonight's fight is slated for 12 rounds and will be televised and broadcast nationally over ABC networks at 10 p.m. EDT. However, there will be a TV blackout on a radius of 100 miles.
