McCarty's Statestician.-L. P. Mc-Carty, of San Francisco, publisher dur-ing thirty years past of the completest manual of statestical information ever manual of statestical information ever collected within equal limits, is now in Portland making the last distribution that will ever be made of his book. He lost everything except a few hundred copies of his latest edition, which was just ready for delivery. All his material gathered during thirty years of exclusive effort in this field was also lost, so that resumption of publication will be impossible. The few copies he saved of his last edition happened to be out of reach last edition happened to be out of reach of the fire, but the bulk of the edition was destroyed, together with a library of many thousands of volumes which never can be replaced. The yearly issues of his book, "The Statestician and of his book, "The Statestician and Eronomist," have so nearly contained everything that a person seeking infor-mation of this discription could possibly want. That it has long been a common saying that "You will find it in Mc-Carty's". To every newspaper office his book has had special value. It is a pity Mr. McCarty's loss is irreparable, for were it possible he would go on with his work. Now he must do something else, and will do something else, for though no longer young he is not a man to yield to discouragement.

SATS NIHILISTS BEAT HIM.-Claiming he had been assaulted, robbed and threaten-ed with death by a group of Russian-Polish Anarchists who have their ren-dezvous in Albina, Walter Szoloszkwicz, a Pole, secured warrants of arrest for seven of his assailants yesterday fore-noon. According to the Pole's story he was formerly president of the local order of the Polish National Society. He says that at a meeting Saturday night he ac-cused the secretary. Kaskolai with havhad been assaulted, robbed and threatencused the secretary, Kaskolai, with hav-ing diverted the funds of the order to his own use. He also threatened to get his own use. He also threatened to get a transfer to some other order unless the deficit was righted. After the meeting he was rushed by Koskolai's friends, who are members of the Anarchists and Whillsts, he says seven of them joined in giving him a beating, and one of them, during the melee, stole his watch. The police are now looking for the culprits who are Poles and Russians with unpronounceable names.

Vote by Precincts. Precinct No. 7 polled the lightest vote, only soven voting for the re-election of the Director, while but six registered their opinions on consolidation. Precinct 13 had the largest number of votes cast, 42 voting for the retention of Mrs. Sition as Director. Precinct 14 had ten voters who were one on all questions. Not only did they give the Director that number of votes, but the same number was cast for consolidation of each of the four districts involved.

The voters in Precinct 12 thought it was not worth while to vote, for, although there was an opportunity for them to register their opinion on consolidation and to vote for the re-election of Mrs. Sitton, not a single vote was cast in the pre-The totals of the 21 precincts within

The value of the school property is $19.000. Bonds outstanding amount to $7500. The school census showed 618 pupils in the district. G. E. Johnson was re-elected Director and Albert Ehlers was elected Clerk. H. B. Dickinson, of the Board of Directors, explained to the meeting that the district becomes part of Portland District, No. 1, by virtue of the general school law on July I, without further action, except that the present Board of Directors would turn over the property of the Montavilla district to the Portland District before that time. Thus will close the affairs of Montavilla district, which was organized in 1891.

THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS

The Grand.

Hugh Emmett, ventriloquist and feature man at the Grand this week, does ture man at the Grand this week, does rare feats with his voice, casting it about as an ordinary person might throw a ball. With entirely natural effect he is able to make a dummy sitting many feet away talk and he gives voice to all sorts of objects. His act is more elaborate and entertaining than when her sorts of objects. His act is more elaborate and entertaining than when he was last seen here a year ago, and is well worth going to see. Other good features of the programme are: Herbert Mitchell, monologist and singer: Stith & Stith, novelty plate jugglers; the Hoffman cycle whiri riders, and Long and Mitchell, comedy sketch artists. Master Harold Hoff sings an illustrated song and moving pictures conclude the performance. Same bill all week.

Pantages.

Grace Huntington and troupe in a lively little farce-comedy, "A Matrimonial Mixup," hold the center of the stage at Pantages this week. This company is a capable fun-producing organization and the members managed to keep every-body laughing at the initial performances yesterday. The piece itself is cleverly written and equally cleverly put on by Miss Huntington and her able assistants. Other features are: George & Allen, comedy entertainers; McFee & Carlion, singers and instrumentalists; the Zanfrellas, acrobats, and Billy Evans, comedian Jean Wilson singers and linerated dian. Jean Wilson sings an illustrated ballad, and moving pictres end the per-formance. Same bill all week,

The Star.

The Star.

The Star leads off with another of its fingling little farce-comedles, replete with fun, animation and music. "Everybody's Friend," this week's offering, affords much food for laughter, and yesterday's audiences were kept in a state of uproar. The principals do good work in this piece, and the chorus keeps on the move. Thrown in are the usual number of entertaining vaudeville acts. The Star is a good place to go for an hour or two of quiet recreation this week.
