Louisiana Flood Threat Continues

Alexandria, La. — (AP) — A massive flood-fighting operation shifted into high gear today, strengthening levees to meet a near-bankful crest along the zig-zagging Red river in Louisiana.

A revised flood bulletin was issued for the Red after no significant rainfall was reported in waterlogged northern Louisiana for the past two days. The Red is expected to crest at Shreveport May 8 at 32.6 feet. Flood stage is 30 feet.

About 400 Air Force personnel from Barksdale Air Force Base were ordered to reinforce flood fighters on levees between Alexandria and Shreveport Monday night, when levees weakened by floods last year were again threatened.

Approximately 100 men equipped with bulldozers and other earth-moving machinery began repairing levees at East Point, a small community on the Red between Shreveport and Alexandria.
