REPAIRING WOODSTOCK SCHOOLHOUSE. The Woodstock schoolhouse is being thoroghly overhauled and repaired under contracts made before annexation by the old School Directors, under the direction of Mrs. Anna Pool, member of the former board. It was found some time ago that the building was in need of repairs and the building was in need of repairs, and, not knowing at the time whether annexation would carry or be defeated, the directors let contracts for repainting and fixing up the woodwork. This is now being completed. Mrs. Pool, being familiar with what is being done on the property, was given authority by the Portland Board of Education to proceed with the work to completion. The painting is being finished, and new sinks have been placed in all the rooms. Mrs. Pool has no more interest in the improvements than any citizen, but has been actuated with a desire to have the building put in with a desire to have the building put in

Ask for Derot.—The Montavilla Improvement League, E. Burden, president, is making an effort to induce the O. R. & N. to establish a depot in North Montavilla. The subject of a rallway station has long been agitated, but beyond the purchase of a site for a depot and siding, nothing has been accomplished. The league now hopes to get this depot, since Moutavilla is in the city, and has a population of about 300 people. A committee has been appointed to take up the question with the fallway company. The league is also endeavoring to get several streets graded, including Hibbard street, G. W. Farrier and O. E. Carter are a committee to take the project in hand. It is also hoped to get the improvement of Villa avenue under way some time next Fall.

SMALL FIRE DRAWS LARGE CROWD .-Small Firm Draws Large Crown.—Some one dumped a few hot ashes into a barrel in the rear of the Montgomery building Tenth and Alder streets, early yesterday morning, and thereby stored up a lot of excitement for several hundred people. The ashes chanced to set fire to the barrel, which in turn blazed up and set fire to a board on the building. Some one saw the flames and yelled "Fire." Some one saw the flames and yelled "Fire." Some one also heard the yell and turned in an alarm and the flying fire turned in an alarm, and the flying fire apparatus, as it dashed to the scene, drew the usual hundreds of bicyclists and pedestrians in its wake. By the time the Fire Department was on hand, about half the city was present. One of the firemen blew the flame out. No damage was done.

Good Play at Lyric.

"A Wife's Peril," this week at the Lyric, is one of the best plays they have put on this season. Miss Howard, the leading woman, has an effective opportunity, which she utilizes most impressively, to display her ability for emotional acting. Mr. Whitney has an excellent character part, the "heavy," which he handles with admirable skill.
