Mazamas Hold Final Camp-fire of 1906 Expedition.

THREE GLACIERS NAMED

Government Will Be Asked to Ratify Club's Action—Signs of Volcanic Activity Found on Mount Baker.

CAMP MAZAMA, Wash., via Maple Falls, Aug. 10.—(Special.)—The last big camp fire of the Mazama party of 1906 was held last night and today many more of its members will go down the trail to Glacier housewagons. Fifty people gathered around the blazing logs to close up the business of the trip and listen to an address by President Sholes on the results of the outing. Three names were adopted by the club for Mount Baker glaciers and will be forwarded to the national committee on geographical names which the recommendation that they be made official.

The great glacier on the north side of the mountain that heads Glacier Creek was named the Roosevelt; the glacier at the head of Wells Creek Mazamas; the glacier on the eastern slope over which the ascent was made the Sholes, after the president of the club. The highest peak in the Baker-Shukla range was named Coleman Peak, after Edmund T. Coleman, who made the first ascent of the mountain in 1893.

Today a small party visited the steaming sulphur cave near the head of Mazama glacier, which had been described by Brock as the upper end of the camp fire. They found a big earth and mud upheaval, shaped like a fish hook, covering nearly two acres that had flowed from some fissure upon the mountain side.

In this mud and loose rock were found small openings from a quarter of an inch to three inches in diameter, through which jets of steam and sulphur smoke were issuing and the ground around was encrusted with sulphur.

OREGON CITY BADLY WIRED

Insurance Experts Report Lives and Property in Danger. OREGON CITY, Or., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—Representatives of the Board of Pacific Fire Underwriters, at the request of the city authorities, today completed an investigation of the electric wiring of the business houses and principal residences of this city. They find that the electric wiring of the city is grossly at fault, a constant source of danger to human life, and a menace to property interests. In the miscellaneous wiring of the city by telegraph, telephone and electric companies it was discovered that due care in many places has not been exercised in suspending the wires, with the result that many supposedly harmless wires are charged with electricity or are liable to become charged without warning.

HUSBAND'S MEAN STRATAGEM

Sends Wife East With Divorce Complaint in Lunch Basket. SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—According to an affidavit filed in the Superior Court today, A. B. Rothwell sent his wife to Michigan on a visit to her relatives with just enough money to make the trip, and then brought suit for divorce during her absence. It is in the paper that lined a lunch basket he had liberally supplied to satisfy her appetite during the entire journey was a copy of the complaint for divorce, which was completed by Judge Griffin in an order issued after the affidavit was read to him, to send his wife $10 a week. The court did not think the crafty husband had under enough to defray expenses for a return trip in a lump sum, but if Mrs. Rothwell gets $10 a week, Judge Griffin thinks she may be able to save enough to come home and fight the case.

It is now beyond control, according to the statements of men who came into the city this morning, and is rapidly going through the timber. This is the same fire which recently destroyed a logging camp and many feet of logs, and has been burning for some time.

"JACK THE JOKER" FOOLED

Unable to Send Oregon City Coroner on Wild Goose Chase. OREGON CITY, Or., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—The Portland clergymen who were the recent victims of a practical joker may expect a rest, for their tormentor has apparently transferred the practice of his annoying pastimes to this city. NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Aug. 10.—(Special.)—The sewer troubles between the contractor, the City Engineer and four members of the Council has reached a critical point and if conditions do not improve shortly, Contractor Gilligan may suspend operations with the probability if he does not find the Council will for an indefinite period. The lower court held in favor of Hicks, but the Supreme Court finds a specific contract for the delivery of the property to Peterson and orders the contract carried out.

HILL LOSES POINT

Seattle Council Committee to Report for Harriman.

GRANTS FOURTH AVENUE

Refusal of Great Northern to Sell Right of Way on That Street Precipitates Action—Railroads Are Likely to Agree.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 10.—By a vote of three to two the Council committee on corporations this afternoon decided to grant the Harriman franchise on Fourth avenue south, over which a bitter controversy has raged since last March. The vote was forced by Chairman Gill immediately after the official announcement from L. C. Gilman, counsel for the Great Northern, that the Hill road had no property to sell Mr. Harriman for a right of way on the line of Fourth avenue south. Gill, Revell and Zanden voted for the franchise; Crichton and Morrison against it. There is believed to be a majority in the Council in favor of the grant, but the franchise will not reach that body for some time, as the details are being worked out slowly to cover the entire terminal situation.

The property-owners with holdings along Fourth avenue south will make a long fight over the franchise, claiming their property will be damaged by the construction of a railroad along the street. Notice to this effect was served today by the Great Northern, representing a big group of property-owners. The Hill system has made a similar threat through President Hill himself.

Will Not Retard the Work.

Whatever fight is made by property-owners can only affect the question of damages and will not retard the construction of Harriman terminals. An award of damages in the Superior Court can be accepted by the Harriman road, the money paid in and the street opened pending further proceedings. This phase of the question came up today and was a factor in deciding the vote. The property-owners' attorney, insisted that Fifth avenue south could be opened and later occupied for railroad purposes through condemnation proceedings, but would not ask much more time than the litigation of the damages done the property-owners along Fourth.

Paves Way for Agreement.

The Harriman line and the Great Northern may settle some of the franchise questions by conference and contract. Every railroad franchise name has been granted in Seattle over a public street carries a "common user" clause. A few have joint ownership provisions whereby the interest in the tracks may be divided by franchise. This clause is a "Union Pacific" in its grant "laid down" a franchise on top of the Hill franchises on the water front, the purpose was to take advantage of the common user clause.

Harriman to Dig Tunnel.

The Harriman officials have declared that the Council may specify any reasonable time limit within which the terminals here shall be completed, and it is probable the Council will give the same time allowed for the Great Northern and Northern Pacific in the new street franchises. Work on the Harriman tunnel will be started immediately after the passage of the franchise ordinances.

Goss won the first set 7-5, but in the next was beaten in every game, although many of the games were closely contested.

Another Good Match was that between Wickersham, Portland and Beale, of Boston.

Beale gave Wickersham a good match, the latter winning, 6-2, 7-5. In the semi-finals of the doubles, Payne and Armstrong met Goss and Wickersham and won in two sets. The first set proved easier than might have been expected for the Tacoma men, for the visitors did not play in their usual form, and did not score a single game, although the deuce score was reached in several of the games. In the second set, Goss and Wickersham played up well, and scored four games, without letting their opponents count. Then the Tacoma men scored six games in succession and won out.
