Hood River Glacier.

FRIDAY, MAY 11, 1900.

E. W. Bingham, author of our present registry law, and who inaugurated the movement which culminated in our present Australian ballot law, has announced himself as an independent republican candidate for the legislature from Multnomah county. If elected he will work for a direct primary law, which will do away with nominating conventions. He would have the day set for the primary election fixed by law, and the election under the Australian ballot system; the ballot to contain the names of candidates, each party in separate columns. To become a candidate it would be necessary to file with the county clerk a petition signed by voters to the number of 3 per cent of the vote of the party the candidate represents. Mr. Bingham's plan would do away with boozism in politics and make the nomination of U. S. senators by direct vote of the people the same as all other officials.

The man who discovered the Baldwin apple is to have a monument, and a photograph of the monument is to be sent to the Paris Exposition by the Washington authorities. It is a pillar of granite about 8 feet high, surmounted by an apple, cut from granite, and stands in Wilmington, Mass., just beyond the Woburn boundary line. The inscription cut on its face reads: "This pillar, erected in 1895 by the Rumford Historical Association, incorporated April 28, 1877, marks the estate where, in 1793, Samuel Thomson, Esq., while locating the line of the Middlesex canal, discovered the first Pecker apple tree, later named the Baldwin." Another inscription states that the exact location of the tree was 340 feet west, 10 deg. north.

Gen. Douglas, a confederate officer on Stonewall Jackson's staff, stated in a lecture recently that the Barbara Freitchie incident described in Whittier's poem is a myth. He says General Jackson did not enter the town of Frederick and that Barbara Freitchie was 96 years old and quite feeble at the time it was claimed she waved the Stars and Stripes and forbid any one to take down the flag. The beautiful story told by Whittier may be a myth but it will live for all time just the same.

In the election four years ago McKinley received 271 electoral votes and Bryan 176. At that time both old parties were split on the silver question, but the democrats fared the worst. This year the parties are again split on questions that have sprung up since the war with Spain, and it remains to be seen which party will fare the worst when these new questions are decided at the polls in November.

Wm. Kennedy's Spray for Codlin Moth.

Wm. Kennedy says the recipe for making the arsenite of soda spray, as published in the GLACIER for the past two weeks, is all right except that the quantities of arsenic and sal soda should be doubled. He uses 2 pounds of arsenic and 4 pounds of sal soda to 50 gal. of water. Following is the recipe as given by Mr. Kennedy in the GLACIER of Dec. 8, 1898.

Dissolve two pounds of commercial white arsenic and four pounds of carbonate of soda (washing soda) in two gallons of water and use one and one-half pints to a barrel of Bordeaux mixture (50 gallons.) The easiest way to make the solution is to put both the white arsenic and carbonate of soda in a gallon of boiling water and keep boiling about 15 minutes, or until a clear liquid is formed, then dilute to two gallons. One and one-half pints of this solution should be added to each barrel of Bordeaux mixture. If used without the Bordeaux mixture it is liable to burn the foliage. As there is nearly always fungus to contend with, it is recommended that the two sprays be always combined when there is occasion to spray for the codlin moth or other insects. If a plain solution of white arsenic were used the foliage of the trees would be burned.

You will notice the formula calls for Bordeaux mixture, which has lime in it. If water is used lime will have to be added. I used 6 pounds of fresh slaked lime to 50 gallons of water. First spraying just as the blossoms were falling and before the calyx closes and every two weeks thereafter till Oct. 1st for winter varieties. W. KENNEDY.

Mr. Kennedy has used this recipe for three years, spraying his own orchards and his neighbors' orchards with good success, as every one acquainted with his work will testify. A mistake has been made in the article in the GLACIER and in the bulletin sent out by the state board of horticulture, but it is not too late to rectify it for this year's crop.

Prof. Kedzie's formula (see page 189 Fifth Biennial Report of Board of Horticulture for Oregon) gives: commercial white arsenic, 2 pounds; carbonate of soda, 4 pounds; water, 2 gallons. Use 1½ pints to 50 gallons Bordeaux mixture. D. H. Sears uses, instead of the Bordeaux mixture, 8 to 10 pounds fresh lime to 50 gallons of water, with perfect success.

East Hood River.

Nearly every orchardist in the neighborhood is supplied with a good spraying outfit, and there is a determination on all sides to save our apples and our dollars.

Squirrel poison is being distributed quite liberally this spring, and the digger squirrels must go, even though every "valuable dog" in the country "shuffles off at the same time.

Harbison Bros. spent three days last week repairing a bad break in their mill-race. Craw fish, moles and musk rats are numerous in the canal and its banks and either jointly or severally they caused the outbreak of water.

The new road machine is coming into great favor with those who are interested in good roads. In soil like ours that is entirely free from stones, the machine is at home, and and when the trees and grubs are cleared away, there is nothing to hinder having good piked roads throughout the district.

Chris Dethman has been experimenting for the past few years with some small plots of common red clover on dry upland and is so well pleased with the results that he has enlarged his sowing to ten acres. He uses no irrigating water, but the spring cutting matures before the dry season comes on and never fails to turn off a good crop. As a crop can be grown every year, besides the value of the second growth for pasture, he thinks farmers are making a great mistake who summer-fallow and sow wheat for a crop of hay every alternate year. He finds land plaster a great help to the growth, and has also observed that some of the plaster offered for sale is heavily adulterated with slaked lime and has but little value as a fertilizer. Careful observation of the genuine and the inferior both as to appearance and taste will enable any intelligent person to make some distinction, but Mr. Dethman proposes to send a sample of the stuff to the experiment station for examination and will do what he can to encourage the importation of the genuine article into Hood River in the future.

Answered in Another Column.

HOOD RIVER, May 7, 1900.—Editor GLACIER: In looking over the formula for arsenite of soda spray, as given two weeks ago by Mr. Smith, I find that it does not agree with that of the Horticultural Report of 1899. Comparing them, Mr. Smith has weakened the solution one-half, as follows:

Smith.—Arsenic, 1 pound; sal soda, 2 pounds; water, 2 gallons.

Oregon Report.—Arsenic, 2 pounds; sal soda, 4 pounds; water, 2 gallons.

It will be seen that the amount of water is the same, while the poison is only one-half. Inasmuch as success is desired in destroying the moth, could you kindly ascertain which formula is correct? If the one solution is too weak, there would be a great loss to those who follow it. Please, if possible, publish this week the truth of the matter.

It will also be noticed that he says "spray at intervals of not less than three weeks." It seems to me it should read "more" instead of "less," as less makes the intervals indefinite. [This mistake was corrected in last week's GLACIER at Mr. Smith's request. It was made by the reporter in copying his remarks, who made it read "less" where "more" was intended.—ED]

Report of Hood River Public School

For the Year Ending April 27, 1900.

The following named pupils were neither tardy nor absent during the year, and their names are to be placed on the roll of honor:

Della Boling, Lester Foss, Claude Thompson, Georgia Prather, Etta Blagg, Faith Bartlett.

For the first term, ending Dec. 1, 1899, the following were neither tardy nor absent: Richard Bartlett, Blanche Stuhr, Hazel McCrory, Ethel Cox, Elwood Luckey, Austin Lockman, Clifford Stuhr, Anna McCafferty, Marie Lockman, May Mooney, Harvey Rand, George Howe, Herbert Wharton, Henry Brown, Pansy Baker, Maud Parsons, Amy Stuhr, Ilia Rood, Stella Stuhr.

Second term—Bessie Mooney, Roy Blagg, Hazel McCrory, Eva Yates, Elwood Luckey, Harry Fredien, Zena Miller, Grace Prather, Austin Lockman, Clinton Mooney, Marie Lockman, May Mooney, Viola Miller, Anna Kent, Lois Campbell, Percy Adams, Lilly Shute, Albert Halverson, Carrie Byerlee, Chas. Shute, Harvey Rand, Henry Brown, Amy Stuhr.

Third term—Richard Bartlett, Ella Evinger, Roy Blagg, Edna Evans, Eva Yates, Blanche Howe, Sylvia Russell, Clinton Mooney, Estee Brosius, Willie Evinger, Lena Newton, Lilly Shute, Lena Evans, Carrie Byerlee, Charles Shute, Nellie Foss, Losley Welds, Joy Russell, Vera Jackson.

There have been enrolled 115 boys and 110 girls during the year. The greatest monthly attendance was during January, 3,171½; the least, September, 2,418. The average number belonging during the year was 162. The greatest number enrolled at one time was 200, in February. C. D. THOMPSON, Prin.

Nursery Notes.

To my numerous customers and patrons I wish to make a few remarks and suggestions which may be of advantage to all concerned. To those who have bought trees or shrubs for the first time, it may be necessary to say: Remove all labels, so that the wire will not girdle the tree. If wanted to tell the variety, attach it to a stake near the tree or row. The less cherry and walnut trees are trimmed the better, but the more a peach tree is cut back the more sure it is to grow. Fifty per cent of all peach trees planted would die unless side braches are cut off or top cut back.

Having had such a mild winter this season there will be no cause for complaint about winter killed trees, and so no replacing gratis another year will be necessary.

Delivery season was longer this season than usual, beginning Sept. 8th, and still continues with occasional belated orders. During these eight months there has been but few days but what orders have been filled or shipped. More trees are shipped away from Hood River now than there were shipped in here ten years ago, before we had a nursery.

For another year we are now growing as fine a lot of stock as a man would ever want to plant, yourself being the judge. By the way, did it ever occur to you that the best time to make out your order and select such varieties as you want is to come out to our grounds and see the trees in fruiting and shrubs in flowering. Yours for further orders,

H. C. RATEHAM,
Columbia Nursery.

Arrangements for Memorial Day.

The committee to suggest arrangements met at 2 o'clock p. m. at the residence of Comrade Blowers, with Comrade Calkins as chairman of the G. A. R. committee and Thos. J. Cunning as secretary. By agreement of the committee, it was proposed and adopted to invite the Christian ministers of the valley and let them select the one to deliver the memorial sermon; and that we recommend the services in the M. E. church of Hood River and that the different church choirs be invited, through their pasters, to unite in one choir for memorial service, and also for service on memorial day.

We also recommend that Comrade Calkins be appointed a committee to arrange for memorial service at the Frankton cemetery, and that a general invitation be extended to all the people of the valley to attend Memorial day exercises and unite with the G. A. R. and W. R. C. in these services and decorate the graves of all the dead to the end that Memorial day be publicly and universally observed. That the Sunday-school children be especially invited and given a part to perform so that they may feel a personal interest in the observance of this day that is thus set apart as the "Festival of the dead."

We also recommend that a committee be appointed from each of the churches to assist in carrying out the recommendation in regard to the Sunday school children, and for any other duty, in order to make the day a success.

Signed, E. D. Calkins, L. Henry, E. L. Blowers, A. M. Cunning, Thos. J. Cunning.

Mount Hood Notes.

The returns from Mt. Hood, in another column, show a healthy increase population.

The boys who went prospecting have returned and report some snow in places. Several of them brought out some fine looking rock, and if it was developed might prove to be very rich.

Norman Williams has gone to Canada on a business trip. He expects to return in about three weeks.

Lewis Nex has returned home from San Francisco, where he has been working all winter in the Palace hotel.

James Knight and family arrived at their ranch near Mt. Hood last Sunday.

Fruit has not been damaged much by frost in this neighborhood. Prunes and peaches were touched a little but not seriously.

The big log jam in the west fork was taken last Saturday, and the one in the east fork at Bird town on Subday.

YOU & ME

Vlento Items.

Our Vlento correspondent sent in the following items too late for our last issue:

C. T. Early and family have returned from their trip to California.

A serious accident and runaway happened here last Monday. Jas. Chitty, S. W. Curran and his son and another party were driving across the railroad track, when the team became frightened. Mr. Curran to save his boy jumped from the wagon with the boy in his arms and lit on the ground in such a way as to twist his leg out of joint at the knee. Mr. Chitty and the other party were badly bruised but not seriously hurt.

The new incline has been running in full blast ever since the new donkey engine arrived in the Oregon Lumber Co.'s yard.

Pine Grove School.

Following is the report of Pine Grove school for the month ending May 4th:

Monthly enrollment, 36; number neither absent nor tardy, 12; average daily attendance, 29.

Through the enterprising efforts of the Davidson Fruit Co., of Hood River, the business of growing tomatoes for canning is to be given a thorough test in the Hood River valley. It is to be hoped that it will prove successful. California turns out a very cheap article in the way of canned tomatoes, but the quality is poor. The summer climatic conditions and the soil at Hood River are favorable to the production of a [illegible] class tomato. If they can be gr[illegible] without too much expense, it is prob[illegible] that a large industry can be develo[illegible] there in canning tomatoes and mak[illegible] catsup. For latter tomatoes of good [illegible]vor are especially essential.—R[illegible] Northwest.

L. T. Smith has been appointed po[illegible] master at Carson, Wash.

The Mountaineer, speaking of affa[illegible] of the county, says: "March 1st the [illegible] were outstanding warrants amounting [illegible] $60,399.44, and the estimated intere[illegible] thereon was $15,000, making the total debt $75,399.44. Since that date some of the outstanding warrants have been redeemed; but about as great an amount has been issued, so probably when the new officials go into office on July 1st, the indebtedness will be $75,000. The tax levy for county purposes this year is $35,674.20."

S. B. Adams has had returns from three different assays on samples of ore taken from the mines in which he is interested on the east fork of Hood river. The samples were all, practically, croppings, as neither of them was from a greater depth than seven feet from the surface. The assays were practically uniform and showed gold varying from $2.50 to $30 to the ton.—Chronicle.

The Oregon State Sunday-school Convention will be held in Portland June 13—15, 1900. World wide Sunday-school workers will be present. It will be a great convention. You cannot afford to be absent. Entertainment will be provided for all delegates.
