JEWES OBSERVE SOLEMN DAY

NEW YEAR CELEBRATED IN TEMPLES AND HOMES.

Reform Jews End Festivities, but Services of Orthodox Congregations Will Be Continued.

Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year, was solemnly observed in Portland by both reform and orthodox Hebrew congregations, with services appropriate to the occasion, and the usual rejoicing in the home. The observance began Wednesday evening, when services were held in all the synagogues in the city; and the orthodox congregations will continue the celebration until sundown tonight. The reform Jews closed their celebration of the New Year at the same hour last evening.

At Temple Beth Israel, Dr. Stephen S. Wise delivered a series of able discourses, and the music was especially beautiful. This temple has a quartet of fine voices and the acoustic qualities of the building are quite satisfactory. Mrs. Rose Bloch Eisner, Mrs. Imogene Harding Brodie, Dom J. Zan and Arthur Alexander are the members of the choir, with Miss Leonora Fisher as accompanist.

Rabbi Wilner and Rabbi Abrahamson conducted solemn services at Temple Ahava Sholem, the former delivering the sermons. This congregation is strictly orthodox and has no congregational or choir singing, but the service is chanted in Hebrew by the officiating pastor. There was also elaborate observance of the New Year at the synagogue of Congregation Zadeck Talmud, Sixth and Hall streets, another orthodox body.

Every Jewish business firm in Portland closed its doors yesterday in honor of the day and there was a general air of festivity after church services among the Jewish residents of the city. Yom Kippur will be the next religious observance of the Jews, the solemn day of Atonement falling on September 23.

MAZAMAS WILL PICNIC

Mount Baker Trip Reunion to Be Held on Mount Tabor.

The Mazamas will hold a basket picnic next Saturday afternoon from 4 o'clock until after campfire, in the grove of the east slope of Mount Tabor. Members and friends of the club will participate. All those who were on the Mount Baker outing, whether members of the club or not, are expected to be present, if in the city.

The plan is to take the Mount Tabor car over Morrison street bridge, go to the end of the line, and then walk up the hill directly south, only a hundred yards or so from the car line. Dinner will be served about 8. Every one is expected to bring a lunch, and the Mount Baker chef will serve coffee. Among those to be present will be L. J. Hicks, who has just returned from a successful ascent of Mount Jefferson.

MEARS TO MAKE REPORT

WILL ADDRESS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NEXT TUESDAY.

How Portland Merchants Can Build Up Trade With Hawaii Will Be Explained.

W. A. Mears will explain how Portland may build up a profitable trade with Hawaii at a special meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, to be held next Tuesday, September 25. The attendance will not be confined to the members of the Chamber, but business men and all others interested are urged to be present.

Chamber of Commerce. He believes that Portland can build up a large trade with the Islands, and will tell how it can be done.

The address of Mr. Mears will be in the nature of a report to the Chamber, and it is expected that his information will be of great assistance to the members of Portland in entering and securing a foothold in the new and rich territory that has been opened up by the establishment of the Portland-Honolulu line of the Matson Navigation Company.

Mr. Mears received a most cordial reception from the business interests of the Islands when he visited Honolulu. He got encouragement on every hand, and the interest taken in the new line and trade conditions firmly convinced Mr. Mears that an exceptional opportunity has been presented to Portland.

While the Portland-Honolulu line has not done a rushing business since the steamer Hilonian was placed on the run, the officials of the company are by no means discouraged. When they established the line they realized that it would take time to build up a large freight business, and the outlook is promising. Assurances have been given of the permanency of the line if the merchants of Portland will do their share in working up the trade.
