Hood River Glacier.

FRIDAY, JULY 11, 1902.

At the Hot Springs.

Hotel St. Martin, Carson, Wash., July 4, 1902.—The Glacier man, senior, arrived at Carson Landing, at 12 o'clock, on the Steamer Shaver. Got a good dinner at the Carson house (half way to St. Martin's). No conveyance being at the landing, the passengers for St. Martin's footed it the 2½ miles.

Arrived at the Hotel St. Martin at 1:30 and found the guests and campers assembled in the spacious office room celebrating the 4th by listening to some good speeches and singing. The guests and campers had just risen from a grand 4th of July dinner given by the landlady, Mrs. St. Martin, in which she did herself proud and gave a dinner that will long be remembered by those who partook. Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Watson, who have been in camp here for two weeks, decorated the dining room and tables with the flowers and ferns and evergreens that grow in abundance in these beautiful woods. W. P. Watson made the introductory speech after the banquet. Mr. Watson's remarks were eloquent and appropriate to the occasion, and he received many compliments upon his patriotic address. He introduced Walter G. Hayes, an attorney of Portland, who made a good talk and eloquently thanked the kind hostess for the dinner that had been served. Mrs. St. Martin had kindly invited all the campers (about 45) to partake of the dinner. Several of the ladies in the audience sang patriotic songs, after which J. P. Finley, Multnomah county's popular coroner, made a short address.

There are at present 24 guests in the hotel, which can accommodate about 70. When the hotel is filled, tents are provided for the overflow. There are some wonderful cures effected by taking the baths in the waters of this spring. Mrs. W. P. Watson, who came here quite feeble, has regained her health and is enjoying life in a homelike camp.

About 40 young people from Hood River crossed to White Salmon on the Shaver on the 4th. They were bound for Bingen, and had to foot it from White Salmon dock.

Dale Harrison is purser on the Shaver. He had been on the boat only a week, but he handled the crowd of passengers in good shape.

A good many passengers were picked up along the river who were bound for Stevenson to celebrate. Among the number were Wm. Orser and wife of Chenoweth. They left their team on the hill expecting to return on the boat this evening, but if no boats are running, Mr. Orser will have to foot it home this evening.

W. P. Watson, while here last summer, volunteered the labor and Mrs. St. Martin the material to place a rope on the lower side of the trail leading down the hill from the hotel to the bath house. The rope is proving a great convenience to all in ascending or descending the hill, and Mr. Watson has earned the lasting gratitude of many an invalid.

July 8.—The Glacier man started for home this morning, but not finding a boat going up the river as he expected, he footed it to Stevenson and there crossed to Cascade Locks with the mail carrier in a small boat. At Stevenson he called at the Pioneer office and found the editor and proprietor, Milton Harlan, laboring at the case. The Glacier man accepted the kind invitation of the Pioneer editor to take dinner at his house, and sat down and did full justice to a most excellent meal prepared by the editor's daughter. Mr. Harlan is making Skamania county known to the outside world by the live newspaper, all home print, that he issues every week, and well deserves the support of every resident of the county. Skamania county is rich in minerals, timber, dairy products, pure mountain air, good water, grand scenery, and its healthful climate will make it a summer resort for dwellers in the cities.

At Cascade Locks the Glacier man met H. Henn, O. R. & N. station agent, who at one time filled the same position in Hood River. Mr. Henn does all the work of his office without an assistant. The town of Cascade Locks is prosperous. Every house is occupied. A large school house is in course of construction. The saw mill company gives steady employment to about forty men.

"Hoosier Camp."

At the Bridge, July 6, 1902.—A merry party—28 in number, some residents of Oregon and some visitors, but all Hoosierites, real live ones too, except two, H. K. Benson of Lebanon, Penn., but now principal of the Kent, Wash., public schools, and Miss Elda Brant of Fontanelle, Iowa.

A favorite camping place is "The Bridge" which spans the busy little Hood river, 17 miles south from the city of Hood River, and 10 miles from the snowline of Mt. Hood. It is surrounded by mighty forests, among which occasionally at short distances lurk the bear, wild cat and small game. Just a few days ago a brave little woman shouldered her rifle and accompanied her husband (they were settlers) out to his work, and seeing a suspicious looking object ahead of her, fired at it and down came old bruin. The scalp was carried home in triumph.

This point is on the stage line to Mt. Hood, and is traveled daily. It has many conveniences, such as a telephone and a nearby post office and store, while at accommodating farm houses can be bought milk, butter, bread, fat chickens, etc. Beautiful wild flowers delight the hearts of our botonists, and the speckled mountain trout grace the table in abundance.

Our party is proud of having a young divine, a lady physician, an undertaker, a merchant, school teachers, students, farmers and children. One lady, Mrs. Logsdon of Spencer county, Ind., who is 73 years old, enjoys camp life in far away Oregon. Another member of the party, Uncle Oliver Bartmess, of Tippicanoe county, Indiana, who is 83 years old, came all the way from Hood River on his "bike." He is one of our most successful fishermen.

Excursions are made to the mountain either by stage, horseback or on foot. In fact a merrier party than ours never settled around the huge evening campfires to relate the adventures of the day, sing "On the Wabash far away," or tell artfully illustrated ghost stories. Hood river rushes by our camp. From the glaciers of Mt. Hood the ever busy, hurrying, power-laden little river rushes on its way to the sea, telling in ceaseless voices of harmony to each passerby of its storedup strength and power, in which it longs to bless mandkind. Such days spent in communion with kindred spirits, and in God's own storehouse of sweetly laden air, are health and blessings to tiredout, workworn hands and bodies. Over all grand old Hood towers as a sentinel to remind us of God's great grandness, majesty and power.

E. C.

Wade McLain of Nicolai, experienced a hold up last Saturday night. He had returned to the Oregon side of the river from LaCamas, Wash., where he spent the 4th, and when a short distance below Latourelle station, two well dressed young men appeared on the track and demanded his money. One held him while the other took what little money he had and his father's watch. The boy told the brutes that this was all his money and that he must buy a ticket home. They returned 50 cents. Wade boarded the train and the conductor kindly brought him home. Wade is 14 years old.

Geo. Knapp was called to Sherman county, Wednesday, to again take charge of his crew of bridge builders on the Columbia Southern railroad.

The business of the Hood River postoffice has necessitated the putting in of an additional section of 48 lock boxes.

The waters of the Columbia are again on the rise.

Don't forget Rand's shoe sale.

Shall We Have a High School.

Hood River, Ore., July 8, 1902.—Editor Glacier: Hood River, with its adjacent territory is in need of advanced educational facilities. With this thought in mind, the writer has consulted a number of the leading citizens, and has found encouragement in every instance. It is thought that an academic or college preparatory course of study could be established and successfully maintained.

Under able instructors, such a course can be pursued here with as satisfactory results as in a college, for there is little or no laboratory work connected with the preparatory department of college work. Then, the expense would be very much lessened, for the student could board at home. An average tuition fee would, with a reasonable number of students, justify the attempt.

In order that those interested may know the sentiments of the parents and young people of Hood River valley, White Salmon and other adjacent communities, all who are favorable to such a movement, are requested to correspond with the writer. If sufficient interest is manifested, a mass meeting will be called for the purpose of formulating plans, etc. Whatever is done must be done quickly for the fall of the year will soon be here. Young people who are contemplating advanced work are especially urged to express themselves concerning this proposition. The writer will be pleased to meet personally all who are at least willing to investigate the feasibility of the matter.

Hood River vs. Dufur.

Hood River won the base ball game at Dufur on the 4th, by a 21 to 13 score. A thousand people were present to see the game, which, they say, was a good exhibition of the great national game. The Hood River boys played well, considering the amount of practice they have had, and the battery, Hamilton and Martin, did excellent work. Jake Marine was umpire. His decisions were perfectly fair, and were eminently satisfactory to everyone. The Hood River boys are loud in their praise of the courteous treatment accorded them by the good people of Dufur. After the game there was a dance in the evening and another good time.

Following was the lineup of the teams.

HOOD RIVER		DUFUR.
Hamilton	p	Vanderpool
Martin	c	Covey
Sheets	ss	McGraves
Smith	1 b	Shepard
Dukes	2 b	Dufur
Morse	3 b	Guilliford
Tompkins	l f	Hendrix
Robinson	c f	Dothery
Fabric	r f	Douglas

The score by innings was:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	Total
HOOD RIVER	2	0	4	3	0	1	5	5	1	21
DUFUR	0	0	1	2	1	1	1	5	2	13

Manager Will Sheets says the Dufur nine is anxious to secure a return game, and if the matter of expenses can be arranged for, the game will be played in Hood River within a week or so. The local nine will also try for games with the Wasco and other teams.

Council Proceedings.

Regular meeting of the common council was held Monday evening, July 7. Present—Mayor Brosius; Councilmen Blowers, Clarke, H. F. Davidson, P. S. Davidson, McDonald and Rand; Recorder Nickelsen and Marshal Dukes.

Adjourned.

In a saloon row at The Dalles on the 4th, Alva Wilcox stabbed Ben Scott with a knife, inflicting severe wounds. Wilcox was arrested and placed under $500 bonds, which were put up for his appearance, but later he got drunk again and was arrested for fighting and placed in jail under bonds of $1,000. He had his hearing before the Recorder Tuesday morning. The prisoner waived examination, and the physicians reporting favorably as to the condition of his victim, his bonds were reduced to $750 for his appearance at the November term of court. His brother, J. D. Wilcox, and P. J. Walsh went his bonds and he left for his home in Sherman county.

The Dalles had a $10,000 fire at 2 o'clock Sunday morning. The European hotel was destroyed and $6,000 of damage done the court house. The county records were uninjured.

According to the report of Mayor Gunning, The Dalles has a bonded indebtedness of $57,000 bearing interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, amounting to $3,420 each year.

The Wasco baseball team met defeat at the hands of the Chemawa Indians by a 12 to 3 score.

W. T. Coultner and Miss Lola Osborne were married at Chenoweth last week.

The Dufur Dispatch of Friday, July 4, came out in red, white and blue.

Saves a Woman's Life.

To have given up would have meant death for Mrs. Lois Cragg of Dorchester, Mass. For years she had endured untold misery from a severe lung trouble and obstinate cough. "Often," she writes, "I could scarcely breathe, and sometimes could not speak. All doctors and remedies failed till I used Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was completely cured." Sufferers from coughs, colds, throat and lung trouble need this grand remedy, for it never disappoints. Cure is guaranteed by Chas. N. Clarke. 50c and $1. Trial bottles free.

Irrigation Notice.

All those who wish to irrigate their lawns and gardens must make application to the collector, Prather & Hemman, and give the number of lots they wish to irrigate and time of commencing.

The price for irrigation this year will be 50 cents a lot, but all irrigation must be done by sprinkling; no other method will be allowed.
