LEGION MAKES STAND AGAINST NON-AMERICANS

By Dave M. Marvin

The Chronicle, week before last, printed the 1935 program being followed by the American Legion in its fight for what it considers worthwhile and constructive legislation. Particular attention is called to "Making Americanism the primary thought of American Citizens and the primary duty of the American Legion."

There is no question of politics in the Legion's campaign on the subject of Americanism. Loyalty to America recognizes no political lines. The American Legion has no politics and but one creed: duty to God and Country. In the darkness of economic depression, enemies have poured into our country, organizing quietly but efficiently in almost every community, and plotting the overthrow of our government. This is strong language but is the truth.

Besides the enemies who come from foreign lands, there are citizens born in this country whose preachings can be called by no other word than traitorous. In Sunday schools, day schools and colleges, they are teaching American children that it is a disgrace to bear arms in defense of the country that has given them life and liberty. Some of them mean well, but think poorly.

The Legion intends to fight every alien "ism" that raises its head in America, from Communism to pacifism. The agents of these propagandists are stirring up labor troubles, rubbing the sores of the depression with salt of dissatisfaction and spreading their doctrine in American schools and colleges to halt economic recovery.

Even now, certain self-styled organizations claiming to be the protectors of American liberties, free speech, and other misleading principles, are planning to appear before the present session of our State Legislature to demand the repeal of the Oregon syndicalism act. Has not the history of our state during the past year, when we were called upon to witness riots, disorder, blood-shed, resulting in the main from communistic agitators taking advantage of labor disputes, been a sufficient answer for the restriction of the syndicalism law?

There is no constitutional ground for a party that owes its allegiance to a foreign country, a party that awaits only an opportune moment to hoist the red flag of communism in the place of the stars and stripes. The American Legion proposes to fight this party with every ounce of its strength and is mobilizing for the greatest crusade in the name of Americanism in history. By the end of this year a million Legionnaires and a half million members of its Auxiliary will be enlisted in this war. It will turn the spotlight of publicity on subversive and disloyal activities wherever they are found.

WARRENDALE

L. E. McGinnis was observed giving class instruction in the art of wood-cutting to residents of Warrendale last week.

Carl Erickson's car was stolen from in front of Sherman's garage at Bonneville last week, but was returned to the same place later in the evening, with only the gasoline missing.

Mrs. Lyle Ewing was a Portland visitor Thursday, as were Mr. and Mrs. William Snyder on Tuesday and Joe Westerlund Wednesday.

C. S. Johnson has departed for Illinois, after having spent three months with his son.

K. R. Kater departed with belongings for Portland and warer places during the recent wintery spell.

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Kline are spending a vacation in Seattle, visiting with Mrs. Kline's parents.

Car trouble forced Jerome Colby to spend four hours in traveling from Portland to Warrendale last week, though icy road conditions also accounted for part of the delay.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Gardiner, of Critchfield's cabins near Herman Creek, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Jaborra at an informal party Wednesday night.

Clifford Snyder's car took a liking to a snow drift near Corbett Sunday night of last week, but was retrieved Monday morning.

Gasoline thieves were busy near Warrendale last week, many residents reporting losing the liquid from their machines.

Joe Canot has again taken up residence at Warrendale after a long sojourn in Tacoma.

Mr. and Mrs. William Beecher are the proud parents of an eight-pound boy, born last week in a Portland hospital. The mother and son are reported doing nicely.

Clifford Snyder and a group of Portland friends attended the annual winter sports carnival held Sunday at Mt. Hood.

Lester Nelson, who has attended school in Portland, recently joined his family at their home in Warrendale, and will ottend the Corbett Institution of learning in the future.

Mrs. Hugh Klingbill visited with her parents in Camas last week, as did E. D. May with relatives in Portland. Saturday, four residents of Warrendale traveled to Portland, Mr. ond Mrs. William Sharp, Jess Rupert and Mrs. T. B. Beck and son, Ronald. In addition, Joe Westerlund completed a business trip Monday.

Mrs. Lee Jaborra, and her close friend from the Critchfield cabins at Herman Creek, Mrs. L. S. Gardiner, were Portland visitors last week.

NEW ROOSEVELT INN FORMALLY OPENED TO PUBLIC BY SCOFFERN

Bonneville's first hotel, the Roosevelt Inn, was formally opened for business last week. Within three days, more than three-quarters of the rooms were occupied. D. R. Scoffern, who with his wife manages the new building, announced.

The ultra-modern 34-room structure , owned by Henderson and Chic, of Portland, is one of the finest buildings of its type in the district. In additon to the distinctively furnished rooms, a spacious lobby has been completed, adding the metropolitan touch. The hotel is steam heated.

A coffee shop and cigar store, in connection with the hotel, are reported near completion. Scoffern, who formerly was business manager of the Hotel Oregon in McMinnville, announced that the new inn was open for public inspection at any time.

GYMNASTS INVITED

All women of the Bonneville Dam area are invited to attend meetings of the women's gymnasium class, held at the community center every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, at 2 o'clock. It is planned to use the new gymnasium for the classes when the building is completed in May.
