Lake County Examiner.

TUESDAY.....AUGUST 20, 1889.

LAST CALL.

All those knowing themselves indebted to the firm of Snider & Lovegrove, must call and settle, or make some satisfactory arrangements immediately, as all notes and accounts will be placed in the hands of an attorney for collection on September 1st. Fail not.

SNIDER & LOVEGROVE.
Lakeview, Aug. 19. 31-2t

Fresh candies just received at Enger & Rehart's 4

New goods constantly received at W. R. Stark's.

A. Snider has for sale, a fine lot of sawed shingles. 32-tf

All kinds of fresh confectionery at C. A. Bunting's. 32

Fresh lemons received every week at C. A. Bunting's.

Fresh fruit and melons always on hand at C. A. Bunting's. 32

Try the new barbers, Waters & Devine. Hair cutting, 25 cts. 32

It will pay you to read A. Snider's advertisement before the 15th of Sept. 32

A fresh supply of linen and lemons received at Enger & Reinert's every few days. 49-tf

Goods heretofore in my business will be sold at San Francisco prices, for cash, only 13 W. E. STARK.

Syrup of Figs for sale, wholesale and retail by Daly & Sutton, druggist's Lakeview. 29-6m

J. Frankl & Co., for SPOT CASH, will sell as cheap as any other store in Lake or Modoc county. 26tf

Go to Enger & Rehart's for stationery of all kinds. Tablets for both ink and pencil of all descriptions. 39-tf

Watch the show over the substantial "low" Cornwall, the photographer, is making fine cabinet photographs at $3 per dozen. 32

Dr. J. S. Bowey will make a professional visit to Silver Lake, Summer Lake and Paisley in September. Will be at Silver Lake September 24, to remain one week. 31-2t

A. Snider's full stock of dry goods, nots, boots and shoes, etc., will arrive next week. Examine the stock and prices before you make your fall purchases. 32

Sufferers from indigestion, loss of appetite, liver or kidney complaints, constipation or neuralgia, could do well to give Ayer's Sarsaparilla a trial. For all such disorders, no medicine is so effective as this, when faithfully and perseringly used. 32

It was proposed recently at Roseburg to organize the Patriotic Political Club, one of the requisites to membership being that no member should hold an office. Unless the man who made the proposition constitutes the membership of the club.

Some sore eyes. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will not relieve the pain of a scald, but it will tend to give one relief. A few weeks since, being quite troubled with the disease, I was promptly relieved by the above remedy.—T. S. Hessler, Editor Argus, Rock Rock, Nebr. 32

The absence of rain is accounted for by some people who say the weather bureau is all fakirs, who think the bureau runs the weather division, think the atmosphere on this planet is not at some one day or other of each and every fall year.

Some people are forever growling and complaining about hard times and high prices, yet not being able to make both ends meet. We don't know what ends they mean but if they want the wishes of the heart to meet the capacity of the pocket they should call at A. Snider's Cash Store. 32-2t

This office has a job lot of legal blanks for sale at less than cost, as we do not want to keep them in stock hereafter. There are large and small sizes, and we will sell the entire lot at one cent each, if taken as a whole. Justices should know that the price named is lower than such blanks can be bought any where.

Brown—"Where is that five dollar bill I laid on the table a moment ago?" Mrs. Brown—"You never expected to ring that again, did you?" Brown—"And why not?" Mrs. Brown—"I happened you understood enough of parliamentary practice to know that when a bill was laid on the table it was seldom heard of again."

A man from Malheur county says either the gulch will have a hard time there this winter. There is no hay to be had at any price, by reason of the long continued drought. Many ranchers have already begun to drive their stock over in to the Rogue River country, where they have always found plenty of hay to carry them through the winter. Others have sold out, disheartened.

Some of the machinery burned in the Snelling & Hawkins mill can be used again. The engine and boiler were not much injured, and are now ready for use again. The time has rented a shingle machine, and will commence sawing shingles immediately. The new mill will be ready for business before next spring, and will be located one and a half miles below the old mill. This will save teamsters going from town, all that big hill, and will enable them to make a round trip to the mill in one day. It also places the mill in a better lot of timber.

Sunday morning, A. B. Schroder and wife, of Silver Lake, started for home. When opposite the lime kiln, north of town the team became frightened, broke the tongue, ran away, upset the buggy, threw the occupants out, severely bruising Mrs. Schroder. They returned to Lakeview to have the buggy repaired. The lime kiln is a place that frightens all reliable horse because frightened at, and is liable to run away and upset the vehicle off the grade. The road should either be changed, or the obstructions moved away from so close a proximity to the road.

Syrup of Figs.

—Produced from the laxative and nutritious juice of California figs, combined with the medicinal virtues of plants known to be most beneficial to the human system, acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds and headaches, and curing habitual constipation. 25-8

A man may find on bills or coat
Much recreation, rest and fun;
But when he sends recreation most
In after he's returned from one.

So very dry.

School next Monday.

C. G. Alexander is here.

County court next week.

Fort Walla Walla is to be abandoned.

J. Frankl returned from the city Tuesday.

A genuine milk shake—wanting the baby.

Mrs. Stark is visiting her parents in Prineville.

Peter Francis, of Harney county, was here this week.

Street cars commenced running in Albany, Monday.

County, probate and commissioner's court next week.

The timber fires near Portland have been extinguished by rains.

Beach & Beach have 80 acres of hay land to trade for stock sheep.

The man with a bad cough should not borrow. He has enough.

Rev. Talmage lectured to a large audience in Salem Friday evening.

H. Schmick who was quite sick last week, is again attending to business.

J. D. Coughlin and Geo. Conn were down from Chewaucan Monday.

Ashley Pollett and family left for Washington territory, Monday.

A big team load of flour arrives every few days from Fall River valley.

Good indications of rain the past week, but that does not wet the ground.

The postoffice and contents at Dafur, Wasco county, were burned last week.

R. F. McDonaghy and Peter Tonkingown were over from Bidwell Saturday.

M. T. Wallace returned from San Francisco Saturday, looking stout and well.

President Charles Francis Adams of the Union Pacific was in Portland last week.

Jesse James has so far recovered as to think of returning to Lakeview in a few weeks.

Mrs. N. A. Clark, Tom Lininger and wife, started for Klamath City, yesterday.

Mrs. W. M. Townsend, who is visiting in Vassalia county, has been very sick again.

Mount Hulsland has suffered greatly from fire, but his child mission now is to believe Payne.

The new books for the public school library are now at Redding, and will be turned out the first opportunity.

It is reported that R. L. Sherlock has sold his interest in the firm of Sherlock Bros. to Chas. Innes of Chewaucan.

S. S. Cox is the only living man in public life who voted for the admission of Oregon as a state on February 14th, 1859.

A young man named Fee, was thrown from his horse at Cook's lake, southeast of Fort Bidwell Friday, and killed almost instantly.

Bound Silver Lakers were here on land business last week, among them A. B. Schroder, Geo. Harrow, Geo. Oakley, et al.

Miss Lettie Farnsworth, one of our public school teachers last year, will teach the primary department at Adlin, this fall and winter.

Why could that every man who not patriotic? He is real when he comes into the world, white when he leaves it, and blue while he is here.

The San Francisco Chronicle issued a sixteen page edition Friday, eight pages of which were devoted entirely to the subject of irrigation.

Swamp land claims have been numerous the past week, among them Maj. Barnhart, who has gained considerable notoriety as a swamp hunter.

James Vance, president of the Mt. Shasta agricultural association sends us a copy, to their tenth annual fair, which will be held at Yreka, commencing Oct. 8th.

Dr Pender's new team took a spin on their own account on the flat Thursday, scattering medicines and portions of buggy in every direction. No serious damage done.

The stage between Canyon City and Baker City was stopped by robbers last week and the entire mail gone through. It is not known how much money the robbers secured.

The pastor and trustees of the M. E. church beg to acknowledge the receipt of the donation lately given by Dr. Loomis, and desire to express their gratitude for same, through these columns.

The seventh annual catalogue of the Oregon State Normal School, located at Ashland, has reached this office. It is a very neat pamphlet and will be found interesting to those interested in education.

On account of a scarcity of choppers this summer, wood will be a scarce article and higher in price than for the last few years. It is now a fact that it is impossible to get enough men to chop and split wood.

The summer range being very short and overcrowded at present, stockmen are worrying for fear that rain will not fall soon. There must be a change either in range, or stock will suffer this fall. Dessication.

Forty-five young men in Lakeview have signed the roll for the formation of a military company. If there is nothing in the way, Lakeview will probably boast of a company of the National Guard of Oregon, soon.

Work will commence Monday. Misses Highfield and McAllister are expected to arrive from San Francisco this evening. The former lady taught the primary department here last year. The latter is a graduate of the San Francisco public schools and also the California normal school.

That letter found on the street and written by a young man to his best girl saying he would deliver a million kisses as soon as they met, would be good evidence in a breach of promise suit. The young man is certainly well supplied with kisses, and should not be so selfish as to bestow all of them on one girl, when there are so many other girls in town who would probably pay him good interest on such a sweet investment.

When jingles cease and rounds walk,
When fools keep still and wise men talk,
When all man pay for what they buy,
The millennium is near nigh.

Dr. Loomis, special land agent is at Linkville.

The Washington constitutional convention has adjourned sine die.

Since August 8, 1888, ten residents of Eugene, have met death by drowning.

Representative Moss is down from Paisley and was around to see us yesterday.

D. C. Herrin is erecting a photograph gallery on the lot at the rear of the postoffice.

E. A. Snider, of Davis Creek, tells us of 170 musk melons he has growing on one vine.

Mrs. Martin and son, from Little Shasta, are visiting the Cleland's and other old time friends.

L. R. Green, of Clover Flat, was kicked by a horse several days ago, and is now out on crutches.

W. C. Johnson, the Bly hotel proprietor and postmaster, was in town yesterday, accompanied by his wife.

James Russell, the Hopkins House dude, has returned from Sacramento, where he has been to see his best girl.

It is a good thing for Columbia that he is out of the way. If he had to have the show of '92 it would be a tougher job than discovering America.

The first heat in the trotting race at Redding, Friday, was won in 4:55. The purse was only $35, and the time was plenty fast enough for the amount.

J. L. Morrow left Fort Bidwell, last Thursday, for Washington, where he will represent the Warner valley settlers before the department, in their contests for lands in that valley.

The Oregon editors fared rather high for such uncommon stock, while at Yaquina Bay last week. Chas. Nickell, of the Democratic Times, was elected president of the association.

A collision between two freight trains on the Oregon Short Line near Pendleton Friday, killed the fireman of one engine and injured several other trainmen. The accident was caused by a slander.

The Portland and Willamette Railway company has been sued by B. K. Jones for $3,450. The plaintiff alleges that his sawmill was destroyed by fire started by sparks from one of the company's locomotives.

The lumed railroad from Crescent City, in Del Norte county, Cal., to Grant's Pass, Or., is still the topic of conversation in railroad circles. The course of the road would be southwest from the Pass through Eagle river and Illinois valley, a distance of forty five miles, to the top of the Coast range. There would have to be a short tunnel through the pass at a height of 2,000 feet, and the rest of the road down the Smith river would be easy building. The people of Del Norte county are very anxious that the Southern Pacific company should build the line, and have held a number of meetings looking will give a subsidy. The country is thickly wooded, and the road would pay well.

We take pleasure in announcing to our readers that that the History Co., of San Francisco, have just published in book form a work entitled "The Living World," which is exciting a great interest in literary circles—in fact eastern manufacturers have pronounced it a marvel in bookmaking art. The latest improvement in engraving, lithographing, in nine brilliant colors, printing and binding having been employed in the construction of this work, and adornment, until it is indeed one of the most charming and beautiful volumes that has ever come from the press. The merits of the subject matter is added twelve hundred magnificent illustrations and the most striking elegance plates ever printed, making them perfect gems of art, which for beauty cannot be surpassed by the finest paintings—in fact nothing like this grand feature has ever before been attempted in bookmaking. It is the very essence of adventure, wonder and romance, and hence possesses a charm that will upon the public that no other work can begin to compare with, and presented in a style that does great credit to its the publishers. It will be sold by subscription only—hence the publishers want agents to sell the book, to whom most liberal terms will be given on application. We call attention to the advertisement in another column.

To Join the Union Pacific.

H. M. Yerington, one of the principal owners of the Carson & Colorado railroad, is quoted at San Francisco as saying that his company will at this time build but fifty miles of road, or just enough to make connection with the proposed extension that the Union Pacific has in hand from Frisco, Utah, in a southwestern direction into southern California.

Yerington states that he is working on the supposition that the Union Pacific intend to construct a new line from Frisco to Mojave, Cal. This extension will be pushed when the proper time comes.

Yerington is further quoted as saying that the project of his company in building to Mojave has not been abandoned, and that when built it will form a new route to the eastern states.

Speaking of this line, the San Francisco Examiner says: "Railway people look upon this road as the nucleus of another transcontinental line, to be built over the old state of Jefferson, and connecting Oregon with the Atlantic states. Such a road would be a tributary to the Union Pacific, and would be built by the Union Pacific if it should be found necessary to protect its interests. It will be sold by the Union Pacific if it should be found necessary to protect its interests. It will be sold by the Union Pacific if it should be found necessary to protect its interests. It will be sold