SHIP OUT OF STATE

EIGHTEEN CARS OF CATTLE AND TWENTY-FIVE CARS OF HORSES SHIPPED YESTERDAY FROM MIDLAND—MORE GOING

Neil Campbell, the hotel man of Midland, who is in the city today, is of the opinion that the farmers of the Klamath Basin are making a mistake in holding their hay at too high a price. He believes that this will result in most of the buyers shipping the stock to California to feed, where hay is claimed to be cheaper.

[illegible] cars of stock [illegible] Midland [illegible] five cars [illegible] been [illegible] three weeks ago [illegible] cattle were shipped to California points from Midland, and it is stated that these would have been fed here if hay could have been secured at a lower price than was asked.

Later another shipment of eighteen cars was made, the cattle belonging to the ZX ranch in Lake county. These were shipped to Bakersfield, where they are being fed for the market. Twenty-five cars more of cattle will be shipped tomorrow.

BAND LEADER RICE MAY LEAVE FOR BETTER FIELDS

Director of Lakeview Organization, Who Has Accomplished Much in Their Training, Wants More Support for Band

Special to The Herald

LAKEVIEW, Nov. 1.—Director Charles Rice of the Lakeview band has announced his intention of leaving this city because of lack of public appreciation of the band. He has brought the organization from a raw state to a condition of efficiency that is very rare for a small inland city, and the work of the players has often been favorably commented on by strangers. Rice has had charge for a year and a half, and his friends are hoping that a movement will be started strong enough and early enough to get the band [illegible]

ANNUAL TOWN ELECTION AT LAKEVIEW TUESDAY

Candidates Keeping Sub-Rosa for the Present—Proposition Will Be Submitted for the Issuance of School Bonds at That Time

Special to The Herald

LAKEVIEW, Nov. 1.—The annual town election will come on November 7th, at which time the citizens of Lakeview will also vote on the additional bonds for the completion of the new high school. There are no candidates in the field so far, or, at least, none have come from under cover. A mayor, four councilmen, the treasurer and recorder will be voted on at that time.

It is hoped by the progressive element that all voters will take an interest in the election. Many want to know where candidates will stand on the question of bonding the town for a sewerage system, and if candidates are not in favor of this measure they may get some lively opposition.

People who want to see Lakeview go ahead are anxious for sewerage and elimination of the fifth that has been a disgrace to the town in the past.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Grace M. E. church will meet in the basement of the church at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow for work.

NOW OF LITTL[illegible]

Commercial Bodies and [illegible] Want Government to Put [illegible] Valuable Collection in One [illegible] tion for Convenience

Special to The Herald

CORVALLIS, Nov. 1.—Pr[illegible] Lewis, head of the division [illegible] culture at the Oregon Agr[illegible] college, has just received a let[illegible] C. A. Malboeuf of the North[illegible] Fruit Exchange, asking for the [illegible] sistance of the college in a movement which the commercial clubs, chambers of commerce and fruit growers of the Northwest are backing. The plan is to secure from the government an appropriation for the publication in one volume of the thousands of fine color plates of varities of fruits grown throughout the United States.

Mr. Malboeuf has also written Mr. Leonard Carpenter, secretary of the Oregon experiment League, asking his assistance in enlisting the interest of the members of the league in the proposed legislation. It is planned to have those interested write to the senators and representatives in Congress, asking them to support a bill which will be introduced regarding the proposed publication.

The pomological department of the bureau of plant industry at Washington has at the present time on hand 3,000 colored plates of apples and other domestic fruits, and with these they have a full and accurate description of each variety. Owing to the lack of funds they have been unable to publish these, though there are a few in each of the government year books of the bureau. Anyone can get an idea of the nature of these plates by looking in the past year books.

If the department had the money to publish them and have them properly bound and distributed to the fruit growers it would be a vast benefit to the improvement of fruit growing all over the country.

For instance, it would enable the Pacific coast growers, as well as those in different parts of the United States, to compare the varieties as grown in different districts.

If a variety in one part of the country does not come up to standard in color and size, it would be evident that it was not the district for it.

The work would, of course, be expensive. The Geneva, N. Y. experiment station spent $50,000 on the publication of "The Apples of New York," and "The Grapes of New York" cost $35,000 for a single edition, so it would be necessary for the government to make a larger appropriation than would be within the reach of any one state for the purpose.

[illegible]TER RATES FOR NEWCOMERS

FRANK IRA WHITE, BACK FROM EASTERN TRIP, TELLS ABOUT CROP CONDITIONS THERE, WHICH ARE NOT THE BEST

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ira White returned last evening from an extended visit with friends in Kansas and Colorado. Mr. White has been absent since October 5th, and brings back the good news that the prospects are now very favorable for the establishment by the railroads of homeseekers' rates to the Pacific coast.

In the past the best the railroads have been doing for the coast has been tourists rates for one way, which do not attract the genuine homeseeker who is seeking a location and investment in the West.

According to Mr. White, Oregon and California have never had the advantage of these low homeseekers rate, although they have been given to Eastern Washington over the Hill lines. While in Kansas Mr. White states that special trains were run from Kansas City and other points to Texas, allowing a homeseekers rate of less than one fare for the round trip.

Hundreds and thousands of the substantial farmers of the Middle West took advantage of these low rates, and after finding a suitable location would be able to return, dispose of their property, and settle up their business and then take their families to their new home.

The men who can start out for a new country upon short notice prepared to remain, although they may locate, are not usually men of property, and not always the most desirable homeseeker. The class of farmer needed in Klamath county and on the coast is the man with some capital to invest and carry on development of the land, and these are very seldom found among the tourist class.

Mr. White states that financial conditions east of the Rocky Mountains are somewhat improved, and money is loosening up. The crops, however, have been poor, and the Middle West has experienced a very dry season. The potato crop in particular has been almost a failure.

Many of the big cattle men of Wyoming and Colorado have had to sell their stock because they did not have sufficient feed to carry them through the winter. Compared to other sections Klamath county has reason to feel good over its big crops and abundance of feed.

CITY GETS HALL SITE FROM MILLS

WARRANTS TURNED OVER TO MILLS FOR PURCHASE PRICE AND MUNICIPALITY HAS DEED FOR THE PROPERTY

Lots 9 and 10, block 35, Klamath addition, which are at the southwest corner of Fifth street and Klamath [illegible] city hall [illegible] $1,500 have been turned over to [illegible] Mills, former owner of the property, and the deed is now in custody of County Clerk De Lap, who will record it. The seller reserves the buildings and improvements, foliage, fruit and other trees and plants, to be removed by the time that he will vacate the property, which is February 1, 1912. The first deed made out reserved "the lawn," which was the cause of delay in getting the matter signed up. A new deed less doubtfully worded was acceptable to both sides. The sewer assessment against the property, made since the city agreed to buy the property, was released by the city.

AMERICAN SPECTACLE ON LONDON BOARDS UNFAIR

Loyal Inhabitant of States Complains That Take-Off on This Country in the English Theatres "Gets His Goat"

United Press Service

LONDON, Nov. 1.—A correspondent of the Times, who signs himself an "Exiled American," says he witnessed the spectacle "New York" at the Empire theater, and that it made him fighting mad.

The scene is supposed to be a steamship pier in New York. There is a lot of what the "exile" calls "riotous nonsense." New York custom officials take bribes openly, and a hundred and one other such features annoyed him, but the use made of the American flag offended most.

MODERN SOLOMON IS JUDGE WHO TRIES WORKMAN'S JOB

Determines After Sampling Labor of Injured Miner That Latter Is Not Fit for the Task That Was Assigned to Him

United Press Service

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Judge Ruegg of London, Stratfordshire, is the modern Solomon. A colliery company asked leave to reduce compensation paid an injured employe on the ground that he had been given suitable employment after the accident.

The man claimed the work was too hard for one in his condition.

Judge Ruegg then decided to go to the mine and do the man's work himself, to know just how hard it was. He returned, tired and grimy, after two hours shoveling slack, and promptly rendered a decision in favor of the poor collier, declaring the work too difficult.

"CHARITY ANN" WINS CONFIDENCE GIRL, MARRIES

London Officers Pick Up Fine Pair of Crooks, Posing as Members of the the Elite, While Engaged in Shoplifting

United Press Service

LONDON, Nov. 1.—A woman who gave her name as "Annie Gleason," and who was sentenced to five years imprisonment by a London magistrate recently, turns out to be the notorious "Charity Ann," formerly of New York and Chicago.

She is one of a dozen skillful American crooks who invaded England several years ago, after the States became too hot for them. She was the wife of "Slim Jim," the Detroit crook, who was, perhaps, the most interesting personality in the "American mob" in London. He has just been released from a five-year term here. His wife was arrested in company with a man claiming to be a Russian prince. He was discovered to be in reality a Soho restaurant waiter.

They were shoplifting.

Charles W. Knapp of San Francisco, a musician, has been secured by Ivan Daniels, leader of the Klamath Falls Military band, to locate here. Knapp is a graduate of the Cincinnati College of Music, and comes highly recommended as a teacher of violin, violincello and clarinet.

George Capron, formerly in the realty business in this city, is located in Minneapolis, his address there being 1738 Irving avenue south.

STRAY SEWER PIPE HUNTED BY OWNERS

SEARCH YOURSELVES

CONTRACTORS WHO LAID THIRD CITY UNIT ARE CASTING THEIR EYES ABOUT IN SEARCH FOR MISSING TWINS

Please look around your premises and see if by any chance you have there a few sections of 12-inch sewer pipe.

If there's nothing doing both in your pockets and maybe you'll find a stray 10-inch sewer pipe joint, or in some remote cranny a 6-inch joint.

For be it known there is a whole lot of sewer pipe being hunted over this man's town, and somebody surely must have it concealed about their person or in their effects. A little thing like a few feet of sewer pipe no larger than a boy can crawl through is easily missed, and if it falls through a crack there's the devil to pay before it can be located.

Phipps & Simpson, the contractors who laid the third sewer unit in this city are hunting for their wares, which were left over from the work. Of the last carload of 450 feet of 12-inch sewer pipe, of which but a part was used in the city, 150 feet has been found on Fifth street.

There were about 175 joints of 6-[illegible] [illegible] Transfer company to remove the sewer from the car and store it. The material was about five tons.

Pretty soon City Engineer the street superintendent, Charley Woodward, to get from the transfer company any sewer material that might belong to the municipality, and started in to gather the sewer people's trinkets.

Nothing doing, asserted the transfer company, confidentially.

Sure, was the emphatic reply of the city the street superintendent.

Again the retort discourteous was emitted from the transfer company's person, to the effect that the material was not of the city's.

But Mr. Woodard had been given instructions to take any pipe that did not have the United States brand on it, so he garnered the few lengths of pipe which was in storage and sped himself happily away with it, despite the contention of the transfer company that the pipe was not the property of the city.

Phipps & Simpson located the sewer pipe joints in the city pound, safely locked away from the profane hands of the public. Now the question is whether they will have to pay storage on the property to the transfer company or whether the storage will be charged by the city, or whether the only tax will be the usual charge made for the redemption of impounded animals. It will be interesting to learn just how many sewer pipe equals one dog.

At the last meeting of the G. A. R. Forestry club, Leon Commellier, of Lakeview, well known in this city, gave a talk on the forest service, explaining its objects.
