The Office Cat

BY JUNIUS

We Have With Us Today.

In awarding the velevet-handled cream-puff opener for the best joke of the week, we feel constrained to select the following as our choice, with due credit to the Washington Star, from whence it came:

"Unemployment is a great problem."

"It is" replied the radical agitator. "Unemployment by itself is easy, enough to learn. The hard part of the proposition is to make it pay."

Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, our eminent and widely suspected draft dodger, is writing a book. Getting under the cover again, eh, Grover!

We know a lot of men who never would think of talking to themselves, who spend most of their time talking about themselves.

The Substitute Doctor.

"I'm in a quandary. Doctor Flivver turned over his practice to me in a hurry. He told me to question the patients and then continue the treatment."

"Well?"

"Most of the men patients claim to have been getting hootch prescriptions."

Geo. Uirich says it takes more than a clove to disguise the breath of suspicion.

When the modern daughter is feeling especially gracious she is willing to concede that her mother is a "nice old thing."

"Money makes the mare go," was the old proverb, but it's the city council that keeps the mayor going.

Once a yeaf we print a fall classic. Here it is:

Our Palm Beach suit has got the chills,
Our straw hat's got the ager;
There's frost upon Miranda's frills
And icy thoughts enrage her,
We'll have to work that camouflage,
And thus appease her mighty rage,
Or else give up our summer's wage
And with new duds assuage her.

A woman may defend her no-account husband before her friends, but she surely does not miss any words in telling her husband what she thinks of having to do it.

You remember the passionate printer, who advertised in the paper that he wanted girls to fold, and the tailor who wanted girls to press. All right. We see where a feller is advertising for girls for stuffing, and must be a millionaire.

Old Mother Hubbard went to the cup board to get her poor daughter a dress. But when she got there the cupboard was bare and so was her daughter, I ghess.

Geo. Drummond says if a man would do without lunches a few weeks he could save enough to make a substantial payment on a fliver.

Friend—How's the mining scheme?
Promoter—We took $50,000 out last month.
Friend—Out of the mine?
Promoter—No; out of the stockholders.

Representative Kissel would have congressman paid on an attendance basis. Why not pay them by the word—so much for every word they don't use?

Times will be better when perspiration is not confined to the golfs links.

FRENCH DELEGATES NAMED.

PARIS, Oct. 14.—The cabinet has completed appointments for the French delegation to the Washington conference. Former Premier Vivian will be second to Premier Briand, and Senator Sarraut and Ambassador Jusserand will complete the delegation.

Advertising pays. Try it and see.

TO RAISE MORE OIL FOR CURE OF LEPROSY

HONOLULU, T. H., Sept., 8—By Mail)—A start has been made here on the chaulmoogra plantation which is intended to increase the chaulmoogra oil production in order that an adequate supply might be funrished to the territory and used in the treatment of leprosy in accordance with the method evolved by Dr. Arthur L. Dean, president of the University of Hawaii, which has succeeded in arresting the diseases in numerous cases.

Two thousands chaulmoogra trees have been turned over to the territorial board of agriculture and forestry by the experimental station of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters' association and the territory has raised 2,000 more. These will be planted at Waihole, this island, by Charles S. Judd, superintendent of forestry and will be the nucleus of the plantation.

The progress of the application of the Dean method at the Kalihi leprosy station here, showing that in the 14 and a half months ending March 15 last, ninety-four of the 188 patients had been paroled from the station on recommendation of the attending doctors that the disease had been arrested to such an extent that it no longer is considered dangerous in their cases, is related in a phamphlet written here recently by Dr. Dean and Dr. J. T. McDonald of the Uninted States Public Health Service.

The phamplet, published by the American medical association, said that there had been a well-defined development not only in method but also in the synthetic production of the fatty acids of chaulmoogra oil.

"As has been pointed out there is no way of demonstrating that any person has been cured absolutely of leprosy but the 94 patients who have been paroled are believed to be free from the disease," the pamphlet said. "Up to the present time not one of the patients paroled since October 1, 1918, has shown a recurrence of the disease. It is probably to be expected that occasional cases will show recurrence and have to return for a second course of treatment. It is believed, however, that the percentage of such returns is going to be low. It would appear that we have methods in hand for holding the disease under control."

LEMONS THROWN AWAY.

PASADENA, Cal., Oct. 14.—California's surplus lemons were dumped this year into ditches or used to mulch fields, while millions of dollars of lemon by- products were imported from Italy, Dr. Robert Calvert, chemical research engineer at the University of Southern California, told the Rotary Club here. He declared this was a flagrant example of waste due to lack of technical information.

WANT HOSPITAL INTERNES

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 12.—A nationwide search has been instituted by the Los Angeles county hospital for 38 internes. Civil service examinations for the positions will be held in many cities, as far east as New York and south as New Orleans.
