Plan To Establish Algoma Scout Troop

Klamath army of boy scouts will soon have another company in its rank if plans of Beryl Blevins, scout executive, materialize.

Plans are under way for the formation of a small boy scout troop in Algoma, lumber company, 12 miles north of Klamath Falls.

"A. W. O'Brien of Algoma has been asked to be scout leader of the troop," Blevins said today, "and we are hoping he will accept. A troop of 12 would be organized to start with and would be increased gradually."

Jurors are fifty-fifty on the jury hearing the Sapiro-Ford $1,000,000 libel suit at Detroit—six women and six men. They are: Bottom row, left to right—Mrs. Grace L. Stiles, widow; Mrs. Clare M. Hoffman, housewife; Mrs. Grace H. Jewell, corsetier; Miss Anna M. Konen, housekeeper; Mrs. Emma S. Siarkson, housewife; Mrs. Anna Brown, housewife. Second row, left to right—Carl F. Haag, retired druggist; Amor N. Duart, accountant; Ernest Schwein, retired restaurateur; Herbert Schoenhals, hardware dealer; Charles A. Parkhurst, merchant; Charles J. Daley, farmer. At the top is an officer of the court.

Grubb Succeeds Mosier As Head Of Mills Troop

Active boy scout troop of Mills Addition will have a new scoutmaster in the person of Arthur Grubb who will succeed Frank Mosier, it was announced this morning by Beryl Blevins, scout executive.

Mr. Mosier has been relieved of his post to allow him to devote more time to the Fremont scout troop for which he is scoutmaster.

Grubb was formerly assistant scout master of Mills Addition school. Several months ago he moved to Rogue River valley and established a dairy business. Recent floods caused so much damage to his properties that he has abandoned the venture and returned to Klamath Falls where he has accepted a position with the W. D. Miller Construction company. Grubb is experienced in scout work.

Would Raise Enrollment.

Seeking to raise the enrollment of the Merrill Boy scout troop from 21 to 32, Beryl Blevins, scout executive, opened a campaign in the farm community this afternoon.

OBITUARY

ELSIE YOCUM.

Funeral services for the late Elsie Yocum were held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home, with Rev. B. C. Miller officiating. A large number of her classmates from the Mills addition school accompanied by the principal, Miss Agnes Lageson and teacher Miss Cressey Tilley attended the services in a body. Pallbearers selected from her class were: Florence Selin, Jacqueline French, Rose Ryan and Aletha Hatfield. Interment followed in Linkville cemetery.

DORTHA EUNICE and HAZEL N. HYDE

Double funeral services for the late Dortha Eunice Hyde and Hazel N. Hyde will be held this afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home with Rev. D. V. Haight officiating. Friends are respectfully invited to attend. Interment will be made in Linkville cemetery.

MYRTLE GRAYSON.

Funeral services for the late Myrtle Grayson will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Community hall in Malin with interment following in the Malin cemetery. The services were originally planned for today, but owing to a delay in the arrival of a sister from California, this postponement was made necessary.

The remains will repose in the slumber room of the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home where friends may call until Friday noon.

S. P. Officer Says Hugh Has Quick Tongue

"He's a smart kid; keen, quick of tongue and agreeable."

This is W. G. Chandler's opinion of Hugh De Autremont, 23, in jail in Medford under the charge of being one of the three men who participated in the Siskiyou Tunnel hold-up murder on Tunnel 13, October, 1923.

Chandler is in charge of police work for the Southern Pacific for the Shasta division. Since the Siskiyou affair, a large part of his time has been devoted to running down clues on the case.

"I've been on the case now for over three years," he commented.

Chandler told of Hugh's witty repartee, of his clever sparring of questions propounded by officers.

The S.P. officer conferred with the sheriff's office this morning.

"What is Hugh's status with the army now?" Chandler was asked.

"Whether he is convicted or exonerated, he is dishonorably discharged from the army because he falsified his name when enlisting."

TRIED TO KILL HENRY FORD

close secrecy which shrouds every movement of Ford or his plans had been clamped even tighter after the "leak" which yesterday permitted the fact of the attempted assasination to become known after it had been a closely guarded secret since Sunday night at 8:30 o'clock.

No arrest has been made and none is in sight, according to Thomas C. Wilcox, head of the Detroit office of the federal department of justice.

Spends Good Night.

"Mr. Ford spent a good night, is now resting comfortably and no new complications have arisen," read the last bulletin issued by Dr. R. D. McClure, chief surgeon of the Henry Ford hospital.

The bulletin indicated that for a man of 64 years possessed of rather frail, though wiry, physique, Ford had improved remarkably.

The Henry Ford hospital was closely guarded today and none except especially selected visitors, including Mrs. Ford and their son Edsel and Mrs. Edsel Ford were admitted.

There was a report today that Ford had turned in the license number of the large closed car which came up behind him last Sunday night and crashed into him as he drove alone in a Ford coupe from his laboratories to his home estate at Dearborn.

Ford spokesmen said that "It was believed the automobile is known" and that arrests might be expected.

A large closed automobile dashed against a small coupe of Mr. Ford's own manufacture in which the manufacturer was driving alone and forced it over a 15-foot embankment along the river Rouge.

"'We are not saying it was a deliberate attempt upon Mr. Ford's life' said a spokesman for Ford," according to the Free Press.

"'The matter is being investigated by many men and from many angles,' he continued, 'and we believe that the Studebaker car which followed Mr. Ford and forced him from the road is known.

"'You can draw your own conclusions'."

Is There Anything Better Than These Creamed Potatoes?

Try This Recipe

CREAMED POTATOES

2 cups milk
2 tablespoons Mazola
2 tablespoons Argo or Kingsford's Cornstarch
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
5 cups diced, cooked potatoes (boiled or baked)
1 teaspoon onion juice (optional)

TO make the sauce, put the Mazola in a saucepan, add the cornstarch and seasonings and gradually stir in the milk. When boiling, add the potatoes and onion juice. Cook slowly until the potatoes have absorbed part of the sauce.

IF YOU wonder why these creamed potatoes taste better, you will find the explanation in the use of Mazola. Probably no other food in the kitchen is so useful to the modern housewife—taking the place of butter for cooking and shortening; as a better, more wholesome fat for frying; and as the perfect oil for fine salad dressings.

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches rub on good old Musterole.

Musterole relieves the congestion and stimulates circulation. It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

First you feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief. Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

To Mothers: Musterole is also made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.
