NEWS IN BRIEF

Chiloquin Boasted—
Chiloquin is one of the little-known towns in Oregon which are forging to the front, as M. O. Wilkins, registered at the Perkins from that place, will assert. Once boasting of one sawmill and a few people, Chiloquin has now a number of plants, giving it a substantial payroll and property values are on the increase. Chiloquin is off the main highway, but had a splendid road connecting it with the Klamath Falls-Bend route. It is located in a pine timber belt and the market for the mills is in California.—Morning Oregonian.

Officers Installed Tonight—
A joint installation of officers with the Ladies Auxiliary will be held at the meeting of the Applegate Camp of the Spanish War Veterans tonight at the court house. The meeting has been called promptly for eight o'clock. H. W. Bathiany, junior vice-department commander, will preside as installing officer. J. H. Carnahan, department judge advocate will act as master of ceremonies. Following the joint installation a banquet will be served at the Green Lantern Cafeteria.

Engagement Is Told—
It will be with more than passing interest that the friends of Miss Lois Weedon learn of her engagement to L. L. De Waissey of San Francisco. Miss Weedon is employed at the hotel Willard and is the daughter of Mrs. W. Weedon of Sacramento. Miss Weedon is one of the popular young women of this city and has hosts of friends in this section. Mr. De Waissey is an engineer in the bay city and was formerly an army aviator.

Highway Blocked—
Many motorists marooned at The Dalles by the recent heavy storms which blockaded the Columbia highway were coming via Klamath Falls and Medford into Portland, according to reports here yesterday. This detour, claimed to be the longest in the northwest, is more than 500 miles. Just when the highway is to be opened to traffic could not be ascertained.

Collier Elected—
Andrew M. Collier of this city has been elected vice-president of the University of Oregon alumni association. This was learned in Klamath Falls late yesterday after the counting of the votes from alumni all over the country. John C. Veatch of Portland was elected president and Edward F. Bailey, Junction City, second vice-president.

Small Blaze Checked—
A small blaze caused from an overheated stove in a residence at 421 Market street brought the fire department out late yesterday afternoon. Slight damage was done and the flames were confined to the room in which it started. This marked the first call the department has had this year.

JOHN A. McCALL ASKS CITIZENS TO SCRAPE ICE

An appeal to residents of Klamath Falls to clear sidewalks of ice and snow wherever it is possible, was made this morning by Postmaster John A. McCall.

"If this could be done carriers of the various mail routes throughout the city would be aided a great deal," Mr. McCall stated. Because of the early dusk that comes at this time of the year, often the carriers have hardly completed their routes when darkness sets in. This is due to the deplorable condition of walks, covered with ice, slush and mud. It is often impossible to make more than one delivery before night fall, while if the walks were half way cleared the carriers could make a second trip in the afternoons."

WRITE RETURN ADDRESS WHEN LETTER MAILED

"With the arrival of the new year many of the business houses of Klamath Falls are purchasing new office supplies and it is my earnest request that business firms purchase envelopes with their return box number or street address marked in the upper left hand corner."

These were the words of Postmaster John McCall this morning as he checked numerous business letters sent through the mail with no return address.

"Very often people move, or it is possible the leters may not be addressed correctly. Unless they have some sort of a return address it is useless," he further commented.

Box rentals which are past due continue to come in and with the exception of a very few boxes, it was not found necessary to change the combinations because of delinquency.
