At The Churches

The Immanuel Baptist Church, 11th and High streets. Rev. A. O. Broyles, Pastor, 1112 High street. Rev. H. J. Lorenz, assistant pastor and superintendent of the Church School. The first Sunday after Pentecost. The pastor will begin a series of sermons on "The Call to Service". The subject at 11 will be, "Pentecostial Power." Dr. C. B. Casel will sing a solo. The church school meets at 9:45. The teachers are competent and trained. There are classes for all ages. We are using the best Sunday school literature published. We invite you to the school. The evening service will be held at 8 o'clock. The World Wide Guild will put on a demonstration illustrating their work. If your girl is not in the Guild, this would be a good time for her to see what wonderful organization this is for girls. At the evening service the pastor will expose the Literary Digest poll of the prohibition question. The sermon will follow. There will be a very interesting service. Don't miss it. The three young people's societies will meet Sunday evening. That rally last Sunday which was held in the Imanuel church was one of the best rallies held in years. What a wonderful sight to see the young people planning for their future work. The teacher training class Monday evening and the Bible study Wednesdry evening. We are planning on special revival meetings to begin soon. The pastor was promised the state convention tent last winter to be used this summer. We may not use it unless the congregations grow too large for this building. There are very few Sundays which we do not have some one uniting with the church. You are invited to this live, growing church.

First Methodist Church, Tenth and High streets. Frank L. Wemett, minister. Services of exceptional interest are being held on Sunday, marking a triple anniversary of the Methodist church organization in Klamath Falls. The principal exercises will be held at eleven o'clock when members of the society and friends will join in a commemorative festival of thanksgiving. An historical sketch of the organization will be given, and the pastor will speak on the topic, "The Romance of a Church Building Enterprise". The musical program includes "An Anthem of Thanksgiving", by the choir, and an instrumental trio by Messrs. Lawrence and Wayne Davis, and Miss Ruth Vannice. At the evening service the names of former pastors will be read and personal reminiscences given. Mr. Wemett will speak on, "The Church and the Community". A special invitation is extended to friends throughout the locality to attend the exercises of the day.

The First Presbyterian Church, Sixth and Pine streets. Rev Drury V. Haight, Pastor. Sunday, 9:45 a. m., a Sunday school for pupils of all ages; capable teachers in all departments. Attractive summer program. 11:00 a. m. Morning worship. "Who is a Christian?" is the pastor's challenging topic. In the perplexity, conflict, and confusion of popular notions today, many will welcome a clearer vision of a life rooted in assured truth, lofty in holiness, triumphant in power, and at the same time immediately available. All who seek such an experience are especially welcomed at this service. "Serenade" (Schubert), "Poeme" (Fibich), and "Postlude in A-flat" (Read) are Mrs. Veatch's organ numbers, and the anthem will be "Soft as the Voice", by Scott. 6:30 p. m., Christian Endeavor Societies. 8:00 p. m. Evening worship. An hour of song with tuneful, familiar hymns, and a meditation up on the word of Christ for the soul. This is a way to find refreshment and strength for the heart with which to begin another week. Mendelssohn's beautiful number for the organ, "Consolation", will be played for the offertory. Tuesday, 7:30 p. m., the Stewardship Club meets in the church parlor. All young men will find a welcome to good fellowship as well as a worth while discussion of a great subject. Wednesday, 7:30 p. m., Church Night. Systematic Bible study is essential to a Christian mind; fellowship in the Spirit is essential to a Christian church. A very enjoyable, profitable study in the Book of Acts is shared by all attending. Chapter 23 this week. Next Sunday, June 22, 11:00 a. m. The regular church service will be held in the open air in Moore Park. A very large attendance is expected at this service of communion with the God of the out-of-doors. Special music will be provided by a committee of the Ladies' Auxiliary. This organization is also sponsoring the picnic dinner to fellow. Old and young including all the children of the Sunday school are heartily invited.

Grants Pass to Enjoy a Real Whisker Show

Whisker crops from Klamath Falls will be exhibited in Grants Pass next Tuesday in the big street parade planned for that city in connection with the official inauguration of an Elks lodge there. Decision to participate in the parade was made last evening at a meeting of the general committee in charge of Klamath Falls' Days of '49 celebration.

The committee urges all members of the local Elks lodge to join in a motor caravan to Grants Pass next Tuesday, June 17. It is planned to have all automobiles assemble in front of the local Elks hall between 8:30 and 9 a. m., Tuesday, with their cargoes of bewhiskered men. Appropriate banners will be supplied all cars.

The parade in Grants Pass will start promptly at 2 p. m., and the committee in charge of the event is anticipating a representative number of marchers from Klamath Falls.

It is pointed out by the '49 committee that Klamath Falls will receive considerable favorable notice as a result of a large number of marchers in the Grants Pass parade and that the participation of numerous citizens from here will serve to create widespread interest in the forthcoming celebration among residents and visitors in Grants Pass.

Numerous other business matters were transacted by the general committee of the show to be held here July 3 to 6, inclusive, at an executive committee meeting held at the Elks temple last evening.
