JUDGE HURLS AN ATTACK AT GOV. HARTLEY

SEATTLE, March 13, (UP)—Attacking Governor Roland H. Hartley as being implicated in a "nefarious transaction," Superior Judge Howard M. Findley today removed Harry C. Johnson, state director of efficiency, as receiver for the Puget Sound Savings and Loan association.

As Judge Findley arose to leave the bench after announcing his decision he collapsed and fell on the steps leading to his private chambers. He had been ill with influenza for several days. Physicians were summoned.

The judge also removed George F. Jackson as liquidator. He appointed H. J. Hoffman, state supervisor of savings and loan associations, as temporary receiver and reappointed Hugh M. Caldwell, former Seattle mayor, as attorney for the receiver. Hoffman's department is a division under the department of efficiency, which Johnson heads. Johnson is appointed by the governor.

Judge Findley said it was not possible for one judge of the superior court to convene a grand jury, but he would urge Presiding Judge William J. Steinert to call a meeting of the judges for the purpose of convening a grand jury to investigate the alleged failure of state officers to reveal the association's condition over a period of years.

The jurist said: "Can this court at a time when these proceedings were, and still are pending in this court, shut its eyes to published interviews and statements made by the governor of this great state casting aspersions upon and impugning the motives of the judge of this court, and which tend to bring a court of justice into disrepute and contempt?"

A Family Council—of War

"Now look, Pop, he's weak with that left jab. Next time he comes in close, sock out with all you got!" . . . Maybe those weren't the exact words of advice that W. L. Stribling II (center) received from his very youthful second. W. L. Stribling III (left). But the advice must have been good, for W. L. Stribling I (right) is seen smiling approval. Young Stribling's father and son are his main rooters at the Miami Beach, Fla., training camp where he is getting ready for his forthcoming heavyweight title bout with Max Schmeling.

REQUIEM MASS SATURDAY.

Requiem high mass for the late Sister Bonosa, former Sister Superior of the Sacred Heart academy who passed away in Pendleton early Thursday morning, will be said at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at the Sacred Heart church. A previous announcement was erroneous in stating that the mass would be this morning. At the same hour the funeral services will be conducted in Pendleton.

CORONER WILL HOLD QUIZ ON MAN'S DEATH

An autopsy to determine the cause of the death of Ed Armstrong, 59, local brick mason, will be conducted at 3:30 this afternoon at the Earl Whitlock funeral home by Dr. Warren Hunt, attending physician. Armstrong, who had resided here for several years and had been working as a brick mason, died at 8 o'clock last evening from injuries received Sunday evening in an accident on South Sixth street. An inquest over his body will be held some time Saturday afternoon with Deputy Coronor Henry Joyaux in charge.

According to Marion Rutherford, of Pelican City, driver of a car which struck Armstrong, the man was staggering across the street. Rutherford was driving on the right hand side, traveling between 30 and 35 miles an hour, and applied the brakes to his automobile as the man approached him.

Armstrong stumbled and fell, striking the glass in the left front door of the car, receiving a skull fracture. The brick mason is alleged to have been intoxicated when the accident occurred.

The man was believed to be improving, but death came last night about 8 o'clock.

Armstrong is survived by a sister in Elmire, N.Y., and a brother in Oakland. Previous to his residence here, deceased also resided in Lakeview and Dorris, Calif. Remains are in the care of the Klamath funeral home.

Enraged Farmers Seeking Negroes

HICKMAN, Ky., March 13 (AP)—Reports that two negroes who terrorized and robbed the family of P. J. Dillon, a farmer, yesterday day had previously attacked two young women at the home of Sam Howell, a neighbor, sent hundreds of armed men in pursuit of them today.

The two men are believed to have escaped across the Mississippi river into Missouri in a small green sedan stolen from the Dillon farm.

"I yearn to explore the wide open spaces," says a popular novelist. Anybody who has had a tooth out and tried to keep his tongue away from the place will understand.

Woman Fells Thief With Bullet And Prevents Robbery

LOS ANGELES, March 13. (AP)—Mrs. Anna May Power did not want to be held up and because Ernest Carroseo insisted he was in jail with a broken leg today.

When Carroseo and a companion demanded money from Chas. B. Power at his grocery store last night, Mrs. Power leaped on the Mexican and threw him to the floor. Power, fearing his wife would be shot, ran to get the money. Carroseo broke away and as he did so Mrs. Power seized a pistol and brought him down with a leg wound. His accomplice got away but left a hat behind with the name Jose Cruz in the band.

Saturday Is Last Day For Evans on Multnomah Bench

PORTLAND, March 13. (AP)—Circuit Judge Walter H. Evans will step down from the circuit bench Saturday and James P. Stapleton will be sworn in to succeed him, Judge Evans said today when he announced his resignation, to become effective Saturday.

Judge Evans is preparing to leave Portland March 20 to take up his duties as judge of the United States customs court in New York.

Stapleton, brother of the late Circuit Judge George Stapleton, will be sworn in tomorrow by Judge Hall S. Lusk, junior member of the circuit court.

Judge Evans will be accompanied to New York by Mrs. Evans and their daughter, Mary. Walter Evans, Jr., their son, will remain another year at the University of Oregon where he is in his junior year.
