takes nerve is buying when prices are LOW, and NOBODY else is buying.

IF it will do you any good, here is a sound rule that has been evolved out of hundreds of years of human experience:

The man who buys high, when enthusiasm is running strong and everybody else is buying, usually LOSES, while the man who buys low, when nobody else has the courage to buy, usually GAINS.

THE Portland Oregonian quotes from Harper's Weekly of October 10, 1857, this paragraph, and adds, with complete truth, that so far as application to existing conditions is concerned, it might have been written yesterday:

"In France, the political caldron seethes and bubbles with uncertainty; Russia hangs, as usual, like a cloud, dark and silent upon the horizon of Europe; while all the energies, resources and influences of the British empire are sorely tried, and are yet to be tried more sorely, in coping with the vast and deadly Indian insurrection, and with its disturbing relations in China. It is a solemn moment, and no man can feel an indifference (which, happily, no man pretends to feel) in the issue of events. Of our own troubles, no man can see the end."

EUROPE, today, is in a terrible mess; but Europe has been in terrible messes before, and always, in the occasional periods when she has had the good sense to remain at peace, has pulled herself out. She will do it again, if only she will have the good sense to remain at peace long enough.

Meanwhile, if we have the good sense to paddle our own canoe and let Europe paddle hers, we will come out of OUR troubles, as we have done so often in the past.

THE Salem Statesman tells this story:

"We called at a state department last week, and the officer's secretary came in to borrow his desk pen. He asked why she didn't get one. She replied she had put in a request for one from the purchasing agent and was advised one would come along in four or five weeks. A little later, the department head wanted to use a pen himself. He got up and borrowed it from his secretary."

The Statesman adds sarcastically: "Great is the efficiency of the efficiency experts and purchasing agents."

THE purchasing agent may not be such a boob as he is painted. He may reason thus: "If I put off long enough buying pens for them, they may come around to using their own."

WHILE we're on the subject, the desk pens referred to are probably these fancy affairs resembling objects of art retrieved from the palace of an ancient emperor and costing somewhat less than a carload of prime steers.

In the good old days when Father was a boy, a steel pen in a five-cent wooden holder, would have turned the trick.

All of which gives us an insight into why government costs money in these days.

A newspaper correspondent writes that the Japanese have gone simply mad about baseball. The Chinese probably wish they'd make a home run.

UNSETTLED WEATHER IS IN PROSPECT

Unsettled weather, increasing winds and warmer temperatures is the weather menu set forth by the local weatherman today, as a forecast for the next 24 hours. Weather notices sent out by the Portland bureau predict snows in the eastern portion of the state tonight and Wednesday, heavy snows in the mountains and normal temperatures.

Rains in the west portion, strong shifting winds on the coast, and southwest gales offshore tonight are also predicted.

The minimum temperature recorded by the United States weather bureau in Klamath Falls this morning was 15 degrees above zero, and the high temperature recorded at noon today was 36.

The barometer is still on the downward grade, the weatherman declares, and storms are probable.

According to reports from Crater Lake, the total snowfall in the park has been 31 feet 4½ inches to date, in comparison with 27 feet and 9 inches recorded as the total fall for the entire season of 1930-31.

During the month of December, 1931, there were 22 stormy days, two cloudy days with no storm, and seven clear days in Crater park.

The snowplow within the park cleared 232 miles of road during December.

According to statistics, the snowfall of the current season is about equal to that recorded at the same time during the wet years of 1921 and 1927. Snows which have fallen in the park this winter register a water content of about 20 per cent, according to Ranger Don Fisher at Anna Springs headquarters, who is keeping the records. It is anticipated that the entire fall this winter will total 40 to 45 feet.

Local and state highways are generally in good condition, according to the daily road report from the tourist bureau of the chamber of commerce. Icy conditions are somewhat prevalent on The Dalles-California highway, and motorists are urged to have chains with them on all trips during this season.

Poultrymen Elect Directors Monday

Directors of the Klamath Poultry Producers Co-Operative association were elected Monday as follows: Dr. F. M. Trout, Malin; Earl Mack, Spring Lake; L. B. Dawson, Merrill; Joe Higler, Malin; L. Alva Lewis, Klamath Falls. Lewis was named president, Trout vice president, and Mack secretary-treasurer immediately after the selection of directors.

The most recent development undertaken by the association, now in its fourth year, has been the sale of poultry feed to members.

FUNERAL NOTICES

ROY EUGENE TRUE

Funeral services for the late Roy Eugene True were held Tuesday afternoon at the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home with Rev. W. T. S. Spriggs of the Immanuel Baptist church officiating. The remains will be forwarded to Everett, Wash., where commitment services will be held and interment made in the family plot in Evergreen cemetery.

FANNIE JANE BECK

Rev. Joseph Ewing will officiate at the funeral services of the late Fannie Jane Beck, which will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 at the chapel of the Klamath funeral home. Interment will follow in Linkville cemetery.

Twenty-three countries have abandoned gold standard. About the only thing gold will be good for pretty soon is bridgework.

MARKET QUOTATIONS

NO SNAP

PORTLAND, Jan. 26, (AP)—There was little snap to the Tuesday trading session on the East Side Farmers' Wholesale market. Volume of offerings was not heavy, but demand appeared likewise.

There continued the late good demand for root vegetables of practically all sorts, with no change in the general price list.

BUTTER STEADY

PORTLAND, Jan. 26, (AP)—Continued lack of price change in the cube market on the Portland Produce Exchange, reflects the steadiness of the butter trade generally. The late session of the exchange here was without change of any sort, while on the open market stocks cleaned up, as they have been doing recently from day to day.

Make of butter in the local territory is showing little change for recent days. Demand appears sufficient to keep the output cleaned up and a shortage is reported in isolated instances.

PORTLAND LIVESTOCK

PORTLAND, Jan. 26 (AP)—Cattle 2550. Better grades weak. Steers, 600 to 900 lbs., good, $5.35 to $5.75; medium, $4.25 to 5.35; common, $3 to $4.25; 900 to 1100 lbs., good, $5.35 to $5.75; medium, $4.25 to 5.35; common, $3 to $4.25; 1100 to 1300 lbs., good, $5 to $5.50; medium, $3.50 to $5. Ewes, 120 lbs., medium to choice, $2.60 to $2.50; 120 to 150 lbs. medium to choice, $1.50 to $2; all weights, cull to common, $1 to $1.50.

STOCKS MAINTAIN TONE OF FIRMNESS

NEW YORK, Jan. 26, (AP)—The stock market maintained a fairly firm undertone today, with buying of Woolworth pulling the list up somewhat in the late dealings. The list closed with a few gains of one to two points, but most changes were fractional. The closing tone was steady and trading extremely dull, the turnover approximating 800,000 shares.

Traders marked time pending announcement after the close of U. S. Steel's dividend, and in expectation of developments at the railway wage conference.

IMPROVEMENT CLUB FORMED FOR MILLS

A meeting of merchants and property owners of Mills addition was held in the social hall of the Community church Friday evening to form a club for improvement of the east Klamath district.

J. D. Bagley presided as chairman. Officers were elected as follows: E. D. Truelove, president; J. T. Brown, secretary; E. D. Truelove, W. T. Dean, J. T. Brown, J. D. Bagley and Mr. Taggart, directors.

The committee on by-laws consists of J. D. Bagley, W. T. Dean and Mr. Taggart.

Meetings will be conducted each Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the church social hall. A name for the club will be selected later.

BEARISH TENDENCY HITS WHEAT MART

CHICAGO, Jan. 26, (AP)—Disparity between United States wheat prices and those in other countries, shutting off this country from export business, had an evident bearish effect today.

Argentine wheat laid down in Liverpool was quoted 5c a bushel lower than Chicago May delivery. World's available supply of wheat increased 2,208,000 bushels for the week, and now aggregates 473,991,000 bushels, compared with 446,010,000 a year ago.

Wheat closed unsettled ½c to ¾c under yesterday's finish, corn ¼c to ½c down, oats unchanged to ¼c off, and provisions unchanged to 10c decline.

CHICAGO, Jan. 26, (AP)—Wheat, so sales.

Corn, No. 2 yellow, 38c; No. 3 white, 36¾c to 37½c.

Oats, No. 2 white, 25c to 26c.

Rye, no sales.

Barley, 41c to 58c.

Timothy seed, $3.50 to $3.75.

Clover seed, $8 to $14.75.

PORTLAND WHEAT

PORTLAND, Jan. 26, (AP)—International wheat prices were lower during today's speculative markets, and in spots cash was lower. On the Portland Grain Exchange May lost ⅝c and September ⅝c. July was unchanged.

On the Merchants' Exchange cash wheat lost ½c per bushel, with millstuffs off $0c per ton. There were no sales of futures.

Staff Appointments For Klamath Paper

Lucile Nine was re-appointed editor of the Klamath Krater, high school publication, for the remainder of the school year, according to Alex De Soto, instructor of journalism. De Soto, after surveying the work of the first semester, declared Miss Nine one of the best executives the paper ever had.

Valas Smith was named managing editor, Jim Morrison editorial director, James Slusser make-up editor, Eddie Boyd sporting editor, and Jack Barbour feature editor.

Three appointments were made on the advertising side. Shirley Erlanderson will act as advertising manager, and Ralph Peyton and Lois Soule will be members of the staff. Roy Paddock was selected to manage circulation again.
