WHEAT

CHICAGO, Dec. 10 (AP)—Grain futures prices continued their upward tend most of the time in light trading today on a good early demand for oats as a substitute feed grain for corn and export buying but late trading was nervous and some of the gains were lost.

Rye, which scored advances of as much as 1⅞ cents at times, also reacted with the downturn in oats. Traders said uncertainty about the government's proposed ceiling on rye prices, effective June 1, still was apparent in dealings there.

The continued light corn offerings sent bunyers into the oats for the substitute.

Traders noted a report that the U. S. visible supply of wheat has dropped 9,685,000 bushels. Corn increased 405,000 bushels of corn, and rye increased 296,000 bushels.

Wheat closed unchanged to ⅛c higher than the previous finish, December $1.80½; corn unchanged at $1.18½ ceilings; oats unchanged to ¼c higher, December 78⅛c; rye unchanged to 1⅜c higher, December $1.82⅜-⅝; barley unchanged to ½c higher, December $1.22½.
