Foreman Factor Poses Problem

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP) A controversial new factor entered the industrial picture Friday with NLRB's approval of full union membership for foremen.

The decision of the national labor relations board promised to have immediate repercussions. Bituminous coal operators said it made them expect a prolonged battle with John L. Lewis in coming contract negotiations.

The board ruled late yesterday that supervisory employes are free to join Lewis' United Clerical, Technical and Supervisory union and to be eligible for collective bargaining under the Wagner labor relations act.

Goering Begins Battle For Life

NUERNBERG, March 9 (AP)—Luftwaffe Gen. Karl Bodenschatz, one-time aid to Adolf Hitler, opened Herman Goering's legal fight for life before the international military tribunal Friday with testimony that the former number two nazi argued for peace from the Munich crisis to the eve of the Soviet invasion.

Nervously flexing his bomb-scarred hands, which nearly were blown off in 1944 during an attempt by others on Hitler's life, Bodenschatz — Goering's go-between with Hitler — said Goering had argued against the invasion of Russia on the ground it violated the principles laid down in "Mein Kampf" against a two-front war.

Reds Silent On Monetary Pact

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 9 (AP) As delegates to the international monetary conference poured into Savannah, it became apparent Friday that a concerted effort to blast out Russia's intentions toward the Bretton Woods monetary agreements would draw only enigmatic answers, at least for the time being.

Prof. Fedor Petrovich Bystrov, economic advisor to the Russian purchasing commission and chief Soviet observer here, shrugged aside questions as to whether Moscow would rejoin the Bretton Woods team during the course of the conference.

Post-War Jeep Glutton For Punishment On Rough Roads

By HALE SCARBROUGH

The postwar jeep is as much a glutton for punishment as was the wartime workhorse of the army in the old days in Europe, Africa and the Pacific.

Yesterday afternoon John Selby of Selby Motor company took advantage of a beautiful spring day to try out one of his Willys demonstrators in some of the rugged country north of town.

Jim Floyd, local photographer, and a Herald and News reporter went along for the ride. Selby followed a road out past the reservoirs on the hill, then cut across country up the mountains to the left of the Marine Barracks.

The ride then led through and over slopes and gullies back behind the barracks, along a firebreak, some more cross-country and gully-hopping and back to the Old Fort road above the city dump.

Going up the south side of the mountains the ground was dry enough underfoot and the little jeep chugged steadily along, making 30-degree climbs in second. Going down on the north side, where snows are still melting, there was plenty of mud to slide around in, so Selby slipped into low gear and let the idling motor slow down the descent.

On the way back a particularly rocky hillside, very soft underfoot, just about stumped the jeep. It bellied up on a rock that lifted the front wheels off the ground and the cameraman decided to walk the rest of the way through that patch.

The rocks seemed sure to rip out the transmission, but examination showed they just slid over the undercarriage sheathing.

The postwar jeep is still not a pleasure car, but anyone needing to cover terrain like that covered yesterday needn't fear having to walk back. The jeep can make it.

OPA 'Harrying' Charged By CIO

WASHINGTON, March 9 (AP) The CIO contended Friday a "pressure group conglomeration of congressmen" is "harrying" OPA, reducing the effectiveness of price control.

Moreover, James B. Carey, CIO secretary-treasurer, said the agriculture department was speaking "for the government with the voice of those who want inflation."

On what he termed an anti-OPA congressional group, Carey told the house banking committee:

"The CIO feels it is the responsibility of this committee and of congress to protect OPA against the kind of congressional pressure which results in off-the-record deals, bargains and promises to 'be reasonable.' . . .

"The public will know if the law is amended. It does not and cannot know when price control is emasculated by these vicious and undemocratic concessions achieved by holding legislative pistol at OPA's head."

fingertips . . . especially for evening occasions . . . is the latest . . . so CURRIN'S has received Revlon's three new FROSTED shades in Fatal Apple . . . Pink Lightning . . . and Raven Red.

This may sound like heaping on the glamour—but it's practical as a perfume saver to tuck a sweet-scented bit of cotton into the backseam opening of your stocking. Or, as another way to imprison scents, tuck pieces of perfumed cotton into bra or girdle top.

THOU SHALT NOT COVET but one can't help coveting those elegant Top Hat handbags by Rath . . . which LaPOINTE'S, 507 Main . . . found for its Klamath patrons. A few shapes are positively startling . . . but they all conform to the new silhouette. I can't say the price is modest . . . but they're QUALITY plus . . . and marked accordingly.

Gas Ranges?
Yes, the CASCADE HOME APPLIANCE CO. . . . 124 No. Fourth . . . has a few in stock ready for installation . . . which should be of particular interest . . . considering shortage difficulties. These are Monarch gas ranges of the four-burner type . . . with automatic oven.

The Cascade has also received a minor number of Premier vacuums . . . upright models . . . but the word is that Premier's tank-type cleaners will soon be on the market again.

Remember . . . the CASCADE APPLIANCE CO. . . . across the street from Copco . . . is the home of all Frigidaire appliances . . . which are being obtained for Klamath people as rapidly as possible.

And now come those continually surprising plastics shaped into fragile loveliness for non-wilt centerpieces. Martha noticed two of these in a Klamath store this week, one formed of long-stemmed golden tulips, the other a striking arrangement of cattails.

The latest kitchen magic, that sounds like an overworked housewife's dream, is an amazing pre-cooked, non-sticking rice that's now being sold only in test markets of the east and south. However, it will soon make life easier for homemakers all over the USA.

Lenten Menus
can be appetizingly varied again . . . now that so many former standbys are back at PINE STREET MARKET . . . Seventh and Pine. A variety of canned and frozen seafoods are available . . . and it'll be an ideal time to try a ⅛ of that so delicious Filet of Mackerel.

It can almost be said that canned beans abound again . . . including baked and limas . . . and there's a plentiful stock of mushrooms on hand . . . which "dress up" so many Lenten dishes. Then, too, the MARKET practically always has cottage cheese . . . that takes the place of meat surprisingly well.

Belts are more important fashion news than ever. Wide or narrow, sequined, studded, of fur or of suede, they'll change a forgotten frock to this year's beauty with no effort at all. Be sure to remove any unnecessary trimming from the dress in order to achieve a smart simplicity.
